N. Y. STRUGGLES IN STRIKE GRIP; TRADE HIT HARD

250,000 in Garment Industry Idle

OTHER STRIKE NEWS

While nearly 1,850,000 workers were off the job in the United States yesterday, including 350,000 idle directly due to labor disputes and 1,500,000 affected by the elevator strike in New York City, the labor situation presented the following highlights: Chrysler-CIO parley in Detroit recessed until Oct. 4, story on page 9; oil industry and employes remain deadlocked in Chicago conference, story on page 8, and production in 15 Chicago factories curtailed by strikes keeping 6,812 from work, story on page 9.

New York, Sept. 26 [Special]—New York City today struggled thru the third day of a paralyzing elevator strike that already has affected more than a million and a half persons and threatened to spread.

With no indications of a settlement in sight, the regional war labor board ordered both union and employer representatives to appear tomorrow and show cause why the strike should not be ended immediately, and "orderly processes" used for its final disposition.

Confusion, inconvenience, and idleness held away in the vicinities of the 2,014 buildings affected in Manhattan and nine in the Bronx.

1,000 Persons in Lobby

About 1,000 persons milled around the lobby of the 102 story Empire State building, hardest hit of all. The lobby, uncleaned since the strike began, was littered with cigaret butts, papers, empty coffee containers, and sandwich wrappings.

Elevators made a few trips, but only to carry up 100 selected persons—key employes of government agencies occupying offices between the 43d and 65th floors. And these federal employes were told: "No trips down for lunch. You will be brought down at 5 p. m."

Some of the special workers brought their lunches. Others hurried out to pick up sandwiches and bottles of milk at nearby restaurants. Among those taken up were employes of the OPA, war production board and a few USO employes.

On the 65th floor OPA officials stepped out of their offices during the day to place a "ceiling" on Martin Pfiston, 50, professional strong man, as he ran furiously up the stairs trying to set a new record for the 102 story climb.

Too Many Trying It

"There are too many of you trying this," said the OPA objectors. "The noise annoys us."

Pfiston, who said he had reached the 65th in 20 minutes, turned back obediently and descended in 11 minutes.

In many lobbies, however, employes stood around waiting to see if their bosses showed up. If the boss climbed, his employes climbed. In many cases both bosses and workers turned around and went home.

The day's unusual heat made the climb worse for the thousands who did make it. Even the union pickets suffered. Many pickets carried

Admits Killing Woman Who Repulsed Him

Daniel Hurley, 19, a merchant marine warrant officer from Clayton, St. Louis county, Mo., signed a statement last night admitting that he had killed Miss Shirley Stone, 29, of 5200 Harper av. Her unclothed and battered body was found at 6 a. m. at the foot of a basement stairway at 1452 E. 63d st.

Hurley said he beat the woman and stripped her of her clothing when she resisted his advances after he had accosted her at 63d st. and Blackstone av. at 4:30 a. m. He had spent the night "drinking and making the rounds."

Hurley made his first admissions while taking a lie detector test at the detective bureau, then made a full statement to Lt. Philip Breitzke of the homicide squad, Acting Capt. John Cullnan of the Woodlawn station, and Assistant State's Atty. Alex Napoli.

Beats Her When Spurned

The seaman asserted Miss Stone at first accepted his attention, then changed her mind and "started refusing."

"Then I began beating her on the head with my fists," he said. "She was struggling and screaming."

The struggle took them to the head of the basement stairs a few doors away, he stated. While trying to dodge his blows, Hurley said, she fell backward and toppled to the bottom of the stairway. He said he followed her and ripped off more of her clothing as she lay unconscious. He did not rape her, he said, but went to "get help" for her.

"I didn't know whether she was dead or alive," he said.

Passers-by Refuse to Help

Hurley asserted two men he met on the street and a storekeeper refused to help and that he then went to 6338 Harper av., where he was visiting relatives. Police arrested him there thru his identification bracelet found near Miss Stone's body.

Coroner Brodie said examination disclosed that Miss Stone's body was cut and bruised and several ribs and a cheek bone were fractured.

Police learned that Miss Stone, cosmetics clerk in a drug store at 901 E. 63d st., left work about 11:30 p. m., visited a girl friend, and was on her way home when Hurley accosted her. She lived with a sister, Mrs. Una Licalzi.

Visiting Relative Here

Hurley came to Chicago with his mother, Loretta, from their home in Clayton to visit her brother, William Kelly. His father, Daniel Hurley, an employe in the office of the St. Louis city assessor, came here yesterday after learning of the arrest. He was denied permission to see the prisoner last night.

A petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed in Criminal court in behalf of Hurley by Atty. Julius Sherwin was made returnable at 10 a. m. today before Chief Justice Harold G. Ward. The inquest will be opened in the county morgue at 11 a. m.

Girl Wins Top Honor, Record Price for Hog

Esther Meech, 17, a brown haired, attractive school girl from Beloit, Wis., won the grand champion individual hog award yesterday at the 6th annual junior market and hog sale at the Union Stock yards.

Altho it was her first appearance at the show, her 255 pound Hampshire, which she fed herself on her father's farm near Beloit, was judged the best animal shown and sold for the show's record price of $1.25 a pound to Swift & Co. She also won with a pen of three hogs in the heavyweight class, and took the Pillsbury agricultural achievement trophy.

Has Care of 50 Hogs

Feeding hogs is part of her participation in the activities of the Turtle Township 4-H club, of which she is a member. With the aid of her brother, Byron, 22, and a sister, Eva, 19, she cares for 50 of the 500 hogs on the farm.

"I'm chief cook and bottle washer around home now," she explained last night, "until mother gets back." Her mother, Mrs. Ralph Meech, is recovering from an operation in a hospital at Rochester, Minn.

In between her 4-H activities, she attends Beloit High school, where she is a senior. She has selected her studies with a view to taking nurses' training after she is graduated, but her favorite study is Spanish.

The secret of raising a championship pig, she said, is to give him all he wants to eat and see that he is comfortably bedded down. Her recommended diet includes whey, obtained from a dairy in Beloit, ear corn, slops, and ground grain mixed with proteins.

1944 Morris Winner Repeats

Grand championship award for the best pen of three went to Norman Jorstad, 17, of Morris, Grundy county, a member of the Future Farmers of America, who last year won all the prizes offered in the show. His winning pen contained three Chester White hogs.

Grand championship award for the best pen of five was won by Raymond Johnson, 17, of Paxton, Ford county, who exhibited five Berkshire and Poland China cross hogs averaging 240 pounds.

This year's show was the largest in the history of the event with 173 farm boys and girls from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Wisconsin exhibiting 850 hogs.

The championship pen of three went to Wilson & Co. for 32 cents a pound, and the champion pen of five to Armour & Co. for 24 cents a pound.

GIGLI SAFE AT ROME HOME AFTER REPORT HE WAS KIDNAPED

ROME, Sept. 26 (AP)—Beniamino Gigli, world famous tenor, was safe at his home tonight after word had spread thru the city that he had been kidnaped.

Beniamino Gigli

While police guarded his house, Gigli told newsmen a "Capt. Battaglia" had informed him he wanted to protect the singer from a warrant which he said would be issued tonight.

Gigli said he was driven first to the home of the undersecretary of justice, but no one was home. He said he then was driven to a lawyer's office where the "captain" disappeared. Police said a search for the "captain" was under way.

ONE WHISPERED WORD SETS OFF NEW YORK RIOT

New York, Sept. 26 [Special]—William Sultan, who runs a chain of hosiery shops here, whispered a single word this morning and touched off a mob scene that ultimately required 30 uniformed patrolmen, two sergeants, a lieutenant, and three radio cars to keep order.

The word was "nylons." Sultan had a small stock of nylon hose—where he got it, he did not explain—and planned a quiet surprise for his customers by putting 2,000 pairs on sale at his main shop. There was no advertising. Clerks simply had instructions to start selling nylons at 11 a. m.

Sultan, however, dropped a hint of what was to come to a few favored customers. Word spread thru Manhattan like a prairie fire. Long before 11 a. m. a two block long line of nylon hungry women was fighting to get into the store. By noon there were several thousand women in a line extending for several blocks. At 2:40 p. m. the nylons were gone and 1,000 women were still trying to get in.

"My customers didn't get surprised," Sultan said. "I did."

Offer Iran $32,000,000 in Buildings for $5,500,000

TEHRAN, Sept. 26 (AP)—The United States Persian gulf command has offered the Iran government hospitals and camps at Arak, Khorramshahr, and Kazvin for $5,500,000, an informed source said today. The original cost was $32,000,000.

New 'Fireball' Uses Both Jet and Propeller

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—The world's first war plane using both jet and conventional engines was unveiled by the navy today along with the announcement that an improved design is being built and new types are under development.

The new plane is the Ryan FR-1 Fireball, a sleek fighter with a propeller in its nose and a jet nozzle—a built-in tail wind—in the stern. It flies on either or both engines.

Range of 1,500 Miles

Using only the Wright Cyclone 1,350 horsepower engine driving a Curtiss broad-bladed propeller, it can hit a top speed of 320 miles an hour. Using only the General Electric 1-16 thermal jet, it can reach 300 miles an hour. The top speed with both engines is a secret, but probably is less than the total of the two independent figures.

Cruising at a speed of 207 miles an hour the Fireball has a maximum range of 1,500 miles.

The plane is the first tricycle landing gear fighter ever accepted for aircraft carrier use. A navy fighter squadron, VF-66, was in training with the Fireball before the Japs surrendered but did not get into combat.

Carries 4 Machine Guns

The Fireball has two 50 caliber machine guns in each wing. A 1,000 pound bomb can be carried under each wing, or it can carry rockets or droppable fuel tanks. The fighter was designed and built by the Ryan Aeronautical company of San Diego, Cal.

The jet engine is the same, with minor modifications, as that used in the first American jet fighter, the Bell P-59 Airacomet, which carries one under each wing.

"Our biggest disappointment is that we were never able to use it against the Japanese," Lt. Comdr. John F. Gray, Champaign, Ill., said at San Diego, Cal., today as he led the first Fireball fighter squadron in a demonstration. The plane was described by Gray, a combat veteran, as able to "outperform any navy fighter in service."

During the demonstration by 12 planes of Gray's squadron 66 the craft went thru a tight loop at 400 miles per hour in formation.

BRITISH WATCH SOVIET; DELAY REDUCING ARMY

Study Seriousness of Red Demands

BY E. R. NODERER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, Sept. 26—Russian power politics, as exercised by Foreign Commissar Molotov in the foreign ministers' conference, has been responsible for the reluctance of the British government to speed up demobilization of the nation's armed forces, it was reliably stated today.

The British government, it is asserted, wants to determine just how serious Moscow is in some of the demands put forward by Molotov before cutting down its military organizations.

Minister of Labor George Isaacs has been carrying out an investigation into the man power requirements of essential industries and is expected to report to the cabinet Friday, but no decision greatly accelerating the return of troops to civilian life is anticipated before the end of the foreign ministers' talks.

Clashes with Bevin

Molotov and British Foreign Minister Bevin reportedly had a number of clashes over policy on the formation of eastern and western blocs of states in continental Europe. Russia's satellites—the Baltic states, Poland, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria, and Yugoslavia—already form an eastern bloc, but the Reds object to any such organization by the powers of western Europe.

The British also are worried about the Kremlin's interest in the former Italian colonies of Tripolitania on the Mediterranean and Eritrea on the Red sea. They are not sure whether the Russians are serious about moving into these heretofore British spheres of influence or whether these proposals are being advanced as bargaining points to be used when the question of the Dardanelles comes up.

Postpones Demobilization

Meanwhile Field Marshal Montgomery has postponed the demobilization of officers and noncommissioned officers in the British army of the Rhine. Montgomery, who is said to be concerned for the safety of the British empire, is in Britain for consultations with cabinet officials on the question of demobilization.

Britain's present schedule calls for the release of 45,000 men weekly, but it is reported that not all those eligible are getting out.

A large pool of navy volunteer reserve officers has been placed on indefinite leave in the United Kingdom. One explanation offered is that these are men for whom there are no duties but who are less eligible for discharge than the men in the Pacific who at present are not able to get home.

3,000 CANADIAN DOCK HANDS QUIT IN MEAT RATIONING PROTEST

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 26 (AP)—Retail butchers striking against the government's new meat rationing program kept Montreal and many of its suburbs virtually meatless today for the third straight day. Authorities feared rioting as organized bands roamed the streets threatening butchers who desired to remain open.

Some 3,000 longshoremen who had been loading 28 ships with food for Europe struck, protesting that they "couldn't get enough to eat" with the butcher shops closed. They said they would remain out until the butchers' strike was ended.

In Ottawa, Finance Minister Ilsley, in charge of rationing enforcement, told parliament that "the question in Montreal is whether law and order will be enforced or whether gangs will be permitted to prevent the people of Montreal from getting their food." The meat rationing program was launched Sept. 10 to make meat available for Britain and Europe.

President Says Foes' Attacks Led to Decree

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Sept. 26 (AP)—President Edelmiro Farrell's military regime today clamped an iron state of siege on Argentina and placed under arrest in continuing raids virtually every prominent Argentine in fields of public service.

Constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech, press, and assembly were suspended by the unexpected decree. Up to 8 p. m., however, censorship had not been reimposed.

Farrell told the nation tonight that the state of siege "should be regarded as a transitory measure" not altering his promise of a general election before the year ends.

Charges "Unrestrained Campaign"

Farrell said over the radio the state of siege will be lifted "when the directive groups of the nation have shown they know how to make full use of liberty." He said the new repressive measures were brought about by "an unrestrained campaign" that had excited the nation.

The administration based its decree on the need to stem "a growing campaign aimed at alteration of the order" and conducted by "the oligarchy . . . certain sections of the press and professional men."

The decree was signed by Farrell, Col. Juan Peron, vice president and "strong man of Argentina," and nine cabinet ministers including Foreign Minister Juan Cooke and Minister of the Interior Hortensio Quijano.

The Farrell-Peron government struck just two days after the Cordoba army garrison crushed a short lived revolt led by Generals Arturo Rawson and Osvaldo Martin, avowed opponents of the administration.

"Real Revolution Begins"

"The real revolution in this country begins as of now because your newspapers have wanted it that way," Col. Filomeno J. Velazco, chief of police in Buenos Aires, told reporters as his men continued a roundup which had brought more than 50 Argentines into detention by late afternoon.

Velazco charged that the government's action had been brought about by the newspapers "La Razon, Critica, Noticias Graficas, La Nacion, and La Prensa—all of them."

Police detachments took over the premises of the two largest evening papers, Critica, which claims the world's largest Spanish language circulation, and Noticias Graficas.

Prominent figures seized included Eustaquio Mendez Delfino, president of the Buenos Aires Stock and Commodity exchange; Luis Colombo, president of the Argentine Industrial union; Raul Lamuraglia, its vice president, and Rodolfo Moreno, ranking leader of the opposition Conservative party, who formerly served as governor of Buenos Aires province and ambassador to Japan.

Taken to Police Headquarters

Others taken to police headquarters included Carlos Saavedra Lamas, who received the Nobel prize in 1936 for his contributions to world peace when foreign minister; Octavio Amadeo, former ambassador to Brazil and the nation's leading historian and biographer, and Nerio Rojas, leader of the Unioncivica Radical, Argentina's majority party.

Alfredo Palacios, a leading figure in the Socialist party who recently returned from exile in Uruguay, and Ramon F. Vasquez, former judge who recently charged the federal police with inflicting brutalities on political prisoners, fled to the Uruguayan embassy for refuge.

Conservative Defies Police

Antonio Santa Marina, another Conservative party leader, defied police when they came to arrest him. He told them he would not move from his home. Catholic leader Manuel V. Ordonez, an organizer of the Sept. 19 "march for constitution and liberty," was not home when police called.

With new arrests being reported hourly, Jose Maria Cantilo, former foreign minister and another organizer of the march, was among the latest to be taken into custody.

An earlier state of siege had been lifted only last July after being in effect more than three and one-half years.

Envoy May Be Military Man

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—The war and navy departments have been invited to name a candidate for the post of United States ambassador to Argentina, indicating that the next envoy may be a general or an admiral, it was learned today. Sources revealing this information said the situation over naming the new ambassador to replace Spruille Braden is fluid and may change rapidly.

EMPEROR AND GENERAL TALK FOR 38 MINUTES

Motorcycles Escort 5 Cars to Embassy

TOKYO, Sept. 27 (Thursday) (AP)—Emperor Hirohito, in formal morning clothes and high top silk hat, broke all precedent today by leaving his palace for a 38 minute call on Gen. MacArthur—tieless and wearing army khaki.

The mikado motored to the United States embassy building to pay the first visit ever made by a Japanese ruler to the foreign ruler of his own nation. MacArthur's attire was his campaign uniform—without medals.

Visit Is Social One

The call obviously was a social one. A headquarters spokesman said Hirohito a few days ago "expressed a desire to call on MacArthur." Today's meeting resulted.

The emperor definitely was not issued a "summons," the spokesman emphasized.

The emperor's five car convoy arrived at the embassy about 10 a. m. (8 p. m. Wednesday Chicago time).

MacArthur received the man thru whom he is ruling the Japanese in the main living room of the American embassy—one of the few buildings in Tokyo spared by American bombs.

Headquarters, in an official statement, said "Subjects discussed by Gen. MacArthur and the emperor were not disclosed."

Arrives in Car

The emperor arrived and departed in his long, low maroon colored car. He made the journey with the grand chamberlain, the minister of the imperial household, and an interpreter.

Correspondents stood on the sidelines as the emperor's party departed, and Hirohito tipped his hat and bowed to them.

The emperor had a motorcycle escort for the 10 minute ride from his palace to the embassy. Two of the cars halted at the entrance to the embassy grounds; the other three entered.

Met by Gen. Fellers

MacArthur's aide, Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers, met the mikado at the embassy door and escorted him and his party into MacArthur's presence.

The emperor's visit to MacArthur followed a demand of a Japanese peer that the mikado get out of politics, but there was no hint that there was any connection. The meeting had been scheduled a few days ago.

Such a visit had been expected for weeks. Previously, the emperor had received foreign emissaries only in his palace. These included a few American correspondents and army officers on official business.

Crack Down On Japs

Yesterday MacArthur had issued new orders cracking down on the imperial army and government.

The Japanese army and navy were ordered to yield up food, clothing, and arms. Food and clothing will go to civilians impoverished by eight years of sacrificing everything to Nippon's war machine. Arms will be turned over to occupation forces for use as memorials, study, training, or to be converted into scrap.

The imperial government was informed that allied force commanders have been directed to destroy "all equipment which was essentially or exclusively for use in war or warlike exercises and which was not suitable for peace time civilian uses."

"The supreme commander requires a number of pieces of Japanese war materiel for war memorials and trophies," the directive read. "These items range from 150 mm. mortars to medium tanks. The Japanese government will hand over examples of every piece of equipment used in the engineering, medical, signal, chemical warfare, ordnance, and quartermaster divisions. . . ."

Japs Will Get Scrap

"After operational requirements of the occupation forces have been met," the order said, "equipment and supplies . . . not essentially for war . . . including scrap from implements of war already destroyed, will be returned to the Japanese government, except that in Korea."

A general shakeup was ordered in the central liaison office to rid it of domination by the foreign office, which worked hand in glove with the army in Tokyo's military expansion over Asia and Pacific islands. The liaison office is the agency thru which the occupation force controls the conquered nation.

Would Eliminate Ruling Clique

One of Nippon's noblemen demanded that the shakeup go all the way up to the emperor, removing him completely from politics. Marquis Yoshichika Tokugawa said this was the only way to eliminate the ruling clique which still dominates the nation and pave the way for a democratic government. Under Tokugawa's proposal the mikado would remain only as the country's spiritual leader, as in the days of the shoguns.

A Chungking spokesman announced that Chinese occupation forces would join Americans in Japan.

Gen. Stilwell, former American commander in China who now directs occupation forces in islands south of Japan, arrived in Tokyo today from Okinawa, presumably to confer with MacArthur.

54 WARSHIPS OF 3D FLEET ON COAST BY OCT. 27

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 26 (AP)—The navy announced tonight that 54 ships of Adm. Halsey's 3d fleet would be present at west coast ports for Navy day celebrations Oct. 27. The Navy earlier this week listed 48 warships which will go to Atlantic coast ports for Navy day celebrations. These ships are slated to go thru the Panama Canal in a 24 hour operation.

Twenty-one of the ships, which saw action in this final phases of the war in the Ryukyus and off the coast of Japan, are en route to Pearl Harbor from Okinawa, a way point on their return voyage to the United States from Tokyo bay. The other 33 will go direct to west coast ports from their operating areas in the western Pacific.

All are laden with veterans homeward bound for discharge.

KING CHRISTIAN'S LION GOING HOME; GIs RECOVER IT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

BERLIN, Sept. 26—King Christian's favorite lion is going back to Denmark. The granite king of beasts, symbol of the Danes' lion-hearted, untamable patriotism, was stolen from Copenhagen by Nazi troops and discovered by Yanks of the 82d air borne division in SS. headquarters on the outskirts of Berlin.

Sculptors offered to chisel another lion but King Christian and his people said no, because a new, made-to-order lion would not symbolize what the stolen Leo did.

So today Col. Barney Oldfield of Omaha, Neb., is in Copenhagen arranging with the gratified king for the lion's return.

ONLY 4 MEN HEAR MIKADO RECORD SURRENDER NOTE

Witness Tells Historic Event in Black-out

TOKYO, Sept. 26 (AP)—Five Japanese waited tensely in a small, plain, foreign style room in the household ministry building, completely blacked out against continuing American air raids. One of them was the emperor of Japan.

Hirohito spoke into a microphone while a recording machine whirled near-by. He spoke rather quickly for 15 minutes, reading from a scroll.

At the end, the ruler said: "We must be sure so I will make another recording." This was done and the emperor turned and abruptly left the room.

This was how the Japanese ruler made the famous historic surrender broadcast recording, which was heard thruout the Nippon islands the next day.

The description of the recording was told today by Sotaro Ishiwata, imperial household minister, who was one of those present.

Emperor's Face Was Grave

Ishiwata said Hirohito's face was grave thruout the brief drama at 10:30 p. m. on Aug. 14 and that he had little else to say except the recorded words which brought an end to the Japanese war.

Equipment for the recording had been set up in the tiny room inside the palace walls long in advance and Ishiwata had waited some time with Hiroshi Shimomura, former president of the cabinet board of information, and Hachiro Chashi, president of Radio Tokyo.

Then the emperor entered the room accompanied by Adm. Jujita, grand chamberlain. No other Japanese were present and no others were supposed to know of the recording.

The people had been forewarned that Hirohito would adrdess the nation by radio for the first time in history and it was scheduled for noon on Aug. 15. Most Japanese expected their emperor to urge them to fight until death.

Near Burned Out Palace

The household ministry is a three story modern building situated a few hundred yards inside a medieval archway marking the main gate into the imperial grounds.

On a long table in the entrance are books marked with a chrysanthemum crest, where visitors sign their names when calling.

On a hill a short distance from the building are the foundations of what Japanese said was the emperor's personal residence which was hit by a fire bomb last May 25 It evidently was an important building, but the emperor probably had other residences deep in the grove of trees a quarter of a mile from the gate. Japanese said the emperor was away the night of the bombing.

The emperor's secret — that he was preparing a surrender broadcast—was not kept. And a few hours after he made the recording he retired. Hundreds of Japanese soldiers poured into the household ministry compound in an abortive attempt to block the Japanese capitulation.

He was accompanied by a 10 man staff which included two American financial advisers to the commonwealth, Joseph H. Foley and Morrison Tucker.

FARCICAL TRIAL BY JAPS DOOMED 3 YANK FLYERS

Captured Papers Reveal Court Proceedings

SHANGHAI, Sept. 26 (AP)—A captured Japanese document disclosed details of the farcical 30 minute court martial—entirely in Japanese—which sent three of Lt. Gen. Doolittle's flyers to their execution by shooting Oct. 15, 1942, nearly six months after they flew from the carrier Hornet to a spectacular raid on Japan.

Officials revealed the details today, confirming the execution of three out of eight airmen captured after their two B-25s crashed in China.

All eight received the death sentence but the unpredictable Japanese chose to execute the two pilots and a machine gunner. One machine gunner on another plane pleaded successfully that his gun was not functioning.

Civilians Reported Killed

The document charged that the plane piloted by Lt. Dean Edward Hallmark, 27, Dallas, Tex., "bombed and strafed the city [of Tokyo] blindly and indiscriminately and hurriedly with 12 other planes about 1 p. m. [April 18, 1942] and killed scores of civilians and destroyed several civilian buildings." [Hallmark was executed. His plane had made a forced landing at Ningpo, Chekiang province.]

Another executed flyer, Lt. William Glover Farrow, 23, Darlington, S. C., piloted a Mitchell which the trial text charged flew blindly to get away from Nipponese defenses, "dived and strafed a Nagoya grammar school building and children playing on the grounds." The plane exhausted its gas and the crew parachuted at Nanchang, Kiangi province.

Shot in Cemetery

The third man executed was a machine gunner, Sgt. Harold A. Spatz, 20, Lebo, Kas.

The three were shot in an old Chinese cemetery at the edge of Shanghai. Evidently the execution followed the usual Japanese pattern in which the doomed man is tied in a kneeling position to a wooden cross and shot thru the temple from one side.

The bodies were said to have been cremated and the ashes turned over to the International Red Cross.

The text showed the trial was conducted before Lt. Col. Nakajo Toyama and two minor judges and the flyers were prosecuted by the judicial officer, Maj. Hata Itsuro. All are sought as war criminals.

Flyer Dies in Prison

The general charges were that the flyers violated "military regulations regarding aircraft crews." The very charge itself refuted Tokyo claims that captured airmen were handled the same as any other prisoners and received no special treatment.

Capt. J. S. Bailey of San Francisco, a former FBI man now with the war crimes commission, reported the seizure of the text.

A fourth flyer, Lt. Robert J. Meder, Lakewood, O., died at a Nanking, China, prison camp in late 1943 after a 70 day illness.

He and four other captured Doolittle raiders originally were condemned to death but their sentences were commuted. The four survivors were: Lt. George Barr, whose sister lives in Milwaukee, Wis.; Lt. Chase J. Neilsen, Hyrum, Utah; Lt. Robert L. Hite, Earth, Tex., and Sgt. Jacob D. De Shazer, Madras, Ore.

BRITISH BRIDES OF U.S. TROOPS APPEAL FOR PASSAGE TO AMERICA

LONDON, Sept. 26 [Reuters]—Altho they have been promised that free transportation will be provided as soon as possible, thousands of British brides of United States service men are so eager to go to their new homes that they are besieging London travel agencies and shipping offices and making tearful appeals for immediate passage to America at their own expense, the Daily Herald said today.

Some brides, the paper reported, have crossed the Atlantic over the northern London-Foynes-New York air route at a cost of $570. A few others, paying $840 fares, have gone by the three and a half day air route thru Lisbon, Morocco, West Africa, Brazil, and New York. A few more have traveled in cargo ships at costs ranging from $120 to $240.

But these cases, the Herald was told by travel authorities, were only a minute fraction of brides who, under present plans, cannot secure the American guaranteed free transport until spring.

BARTENDER HELD AS GAMBLER

Elmer Rettke, bartender in a tavern at 2362 Burr Oak av., Blue Island, was arrested yesterday by Homewood county highway police on a charge of taking race horse bets over the bar. He was booked as keeper under $100 bond to appear in Homewood court Oct. 3.

DENIES U. S. HAS GIVEN CHINA 8 MORE WARSHIPS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26—Announcement from Chungking that the United States has made a gift of eight additional warships to the Chinese government was described today as premature by the navy department.

A spokesman said China, which received a number of small craft under lend-lease, has asked to be given more ships from the fleet, including destroyers, but that the request is currently under consideration by authorities higher than the navy department.

This was taken to mean that the matter has been carried to the White House for final action. Since the end of lend-lease, the navy is powerless under existing law to dispose of destroyers or larger vessels to foreign governments. A statute in existence since 1882 prohibits the disposal of warships to other powers.

WOMAN KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS BY MAN IN UNIFORM

Mrs. Inez Frigo, 47, of 810 Argonne dr., North Chicago, was knocked unconscious last night by a man in a sailor's uniform inthe 900 block of Broadway, near her home. The man struck her, then pushed her violently against a tree.

Later Police Chief Jacob Novak fired two shots at a sailor he tried to halt near the scene for questioning. He pursued the sailor into the Great Lakes Naval Training center.

The center's security watch detained Frederick Parkinson, 23, a seaman, whom they found breathless and suffering from bruises, in a barracks. He denied molesting any one. Parkinson is a prisoner at large for overstaying leave. He admitted having been in North Chicago, altho confined to the training grounds.

DEVEREUX PAYS VISIT TO GRAVES OF WIFE, MOTHER

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—Lt. Col. P. S. Devereux, marine hero of Wake Island, knelt before the graves of his wife and mother in Arlington National cemetery today.

Both of the women died during the four years he was away. Most of that time was spent in Japanese prison camps.

The colonel arrived here today and was met by a clan of 35 relatives, headed by his son, Paddy, 11. Paddy showed up at the station in a Chinese officer's cap, a blue sport jacket and green pants.

Apparently father and son have some important matters to decide. They have to discuss plans for Paddy's education, especially as it pertains to football.

You see, Paddy's a left tackle, he told reporters, and he and his father must consider what school can use his 97 pounds to best advantage.

HELP FREED U.S. CITIZENS REGAIN LOST PROPERTY

Shanghai Group Acts to Obtain Titles

BY JOSEPH HEARST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 25 [Delayed]—The Shanghai-American association is taking a leading role in advising Americans released from interment camps how to regain title to Shanghai property confiscated by the Japs and, in many cases, sold or leased to neutral residents by the Japs.

A real estate settlement committee has been established by the Chinese government. One American, one Briton, and 15 Chinese members will investigate claims and titles to property to determine the rightful owners. Members of the association said they are confident that the Chinese will see that all the properties are restored to the legal owners.

Serious Housing Problem

The refusal of those who purchased or leased homes or apartments during the occupation to relinquish them has caused a serious housing problem. Last week German and Jap nationals were forced to move out of the Embarkment building, a modern structure. The apartments will be taken over by internees who have been living in the Yangchow camp.

The scarcity of living quarters has caused the circulation of the expression "key money." This is more or less equivalent to the bonus apartment seekers have paid in Chicago, Washington, D. C., and other crowded cities for the right to rent an apartment.

However, the difference here is that the key money frequently runs to $2,000 or $3,000 [American] and in a few cases has gone as high as $5,000 when several persons were bidding for a desirable location.

Rip Out Radiators

The Japs ripped all the radiators out of Shanghai buildings to use them for scrap. Owners say the possibility of central heating in any large building this winter is remote.

There is at least one case where a fine residence was obtained from the occupants without the payment of "key money." This occurred when a group of Chinese soldiers decided to take over the home of R. V. Dent, a rich British resident in the French concession which already was occupied by Chinese puppet troops of the old pro-Jap regime. When the puppets resisted, a battle ensued in which four soldiers were killed. The puppets evacuated in favor of the Chinese.

BRICKER HINTS AT RUNNING FOR SENATE IN 1946

Boston, Mass., Sept. 26 [Special]—Former Gov. Bricker of Ohio today indicated that he expects to reenter politics next year, possibly seeking the senate seat vacated by Sen. Burton [R.], who recently was named to the Supreme court.

The 1944 Republican Vice Presidential candidate said at a press conference he would watch the Ohio municipal election this year before making a final decision but added, "Ohio voters want a Republican to succeed Sen. Burton, and I'd like to help them."

A Democrat will be named by Gov. Lausche to fill Burton's unexpired term, Bricker said.

ITALIANS SEEK DIRECT PARLEYS WITH YUGOSLAVS

ROME, Sept. 26 [Reuters]—Italian Prime Minister Ferruccio Parri told the opening session of the consultative assembly today that Italy hoped to negotiate directly with Yugoslavia. Speaking of Italy's relations with France and Yugoslavia, he said: "With France I consider our relations decisive for the future state of Europe and with Yugoslavia we hope to have direct negotiations and direct agreements on the basis of future collaboration."

The premier added: "We are particularly interested in the development of our relations with Latin America and with all Italians in the two Americas."

After stressing Italy's debt to the allies, particularly the United States, Parri declared the Italian government had formulated a plan, to be submitted to the United States government, dealing with financing of Italy's internal affairs.

ARMY RETURNS AIR STOWAWAY TO HAWAII BASE

Hamilton Field, Cal., Sept. 26 (AP)—Pvt. Richard Stilson, North Sanford, N. Y., who stowed away aboard a homebound C-54 Skymaster at Hickam field, Hawaii, July 17, was returned to Hawaii today without getting to see his girl friend.

Stilson slipped aboard a plane carrying three brigadier generals and 20 colonels. He posed as an assistant flight engineer. He said he intended to spend a three day pass visiting his girl, a civil service employe at Mather field, Sacramento, and return to Hawaii the same way.

Discovered shortly after the takeoff, Stilson was greeted here by military police and spent nine days in the guard house. No charges were filed against him.

QUICK TRUCE IN AUSSIES' DOCK STRIKE SIGHTED

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 26 [Reuters]—The dispute in which dockers are refusing to load Dutch ships they think may be carrying arms for suppression of the Indonesian republican movement, is expected to be settled as the result of consultations today between Australian and Dutch officials.

"If there are no arms onboard and the ships are genuine 'mercy ships,' there will be no trouble," William P. Ashley, Australian minister of supply and shipping, said.

In Brisbane the seamens' union has instructed its members employed on tugs to refuse to move Dutch ships so that even those already loaded are unable to sail.

HITLER LAMENT: 'THIS WAR NO CONVENIENCE'

WIESBADEN, Germany, Sept. 26 (AP)—"This war," said Adolf Hitler, "is no convenience for me." The quotation is from a stenographic report of a speech made by Hitler at secret headquarters on Aug. 31, 1944, to Nazi generals.

"For five years," Hitler continued, "I've been shut off from the other world: I've not visited the theater, I've not heard a concert, and I've not seen a film.

"I live only for a single mission: to lead this battle because I know if there is not iron will power behind it, the battle will not be won."

STRIPPING OF 2 LAKE FLATTOPS BEGUN BY NAVY

Navy crews are stripping down the U. S. S. Wolverine and the U. S. S. Sable, noncombatant carriers in Lake Michigan whose decommissioning has been ordered by the navy, and the ships will be ready by Nov. 1 for inspection to determine what will be done with them, Vice Adm. A. S. Carpender, commandant of the 9th naval district, said yesterday.

All navy appurtenances will be removed before the carriers are visited by a board of inspection.

A navy spokesman in Washington, D. C., said both ships would be turned over to the maritime commission for disposal. The commission's normal procedure would be to offer the ships to their former owners. If the former owners do not want them, they probably will be sold to the highest bidder.

The Wolverine formerly was the lake ship Seeandbee, owned by the Cleveland and Buffalo Steamship company. The Sable formerly was the Greater Buffalo of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation company.

U. S. TO RECEIVE OBJECTS OF ART FROM GERMANY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—The White House announced today that certain perishable German art objects not readily identifiable as looted property are being moved to this country to be held in trust "for the people of Germany or the other rightful owners."

Chief Justice Stone, as chairman of the national gallery of art board of trustees, has been asked by the government to arrange for the storage and protection of such works while in this country.

"The return of readily identifiable looted art objects to the liberated countries from the American zone in Germany already is underway," the announcement said.

The other art objects are being transferred here temporarily because expert personnel to assure their safety is not available in the American zone and adequate housing facilities for some of the paintings also is lacking.

NAME MITCHELL PEARL HARBOR PROBE COUNSEL

BY WILLARD EDWARDS

William Mitchell

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26—Former Atty. Gen. William D. Mitchell today was chosen chief counsel of the Pearl Harbor investigating committee after Chairman Hannegan of the Democratic national committee, it was learned, had turned thumbs down on another lawyer being given consideration.

The intrusion of political maneuvering into the selection of the man who will assume the burden of uncovering the true story of Pearl Harbor was one of several incidents which marked a series of behind-the-scenes maneuvers disclosed to THE TRIBUNE.

The man blackballed by Hannegan was Hugh Fulton, former counsel for the senate war investigating committee headed by President Truman when he was senator. Fulton, widely acclaimed for his probing skill, incurred Hannegan's displeasure by his political ambitions when Mr. Truman became President.

Word Sent to Democrats

Sam O'Neal, publicity director for the Democratic national committee, conveyed Hannegan's disapproval of Fulton to the Democratic members of the committee and he was immediately removed from consideration. Fulton, a Democrat, had been sponsored by Sen. Brewster [R., Me.], a member of the Truman committee.

Mitchell, final choice of the committee, was approved unanimously after he had assured the five senators and five representatives that he would seek to discover the responsibility for American unpreparedness at Pearl Harbor without regard to whom the evidence might hit.

The 71 year old New York lawyer was solicitor general in the Coolidge administration and attorney general under President Hoover.

In Spanish-American War

Military experience was gained by Mitchell in the Spanish-American war, from which he emerged with the rank of captain, and as a colonel of the 6th regiment [now 206th] infantry National Guard, Minnesota, in 1918. His residence is in Syosset, Long Island, N. Y.

In executive sessions of the committee, it was learned, Chairman Barkley [D., Ky.] sought approval of a rule which would have confined the questioning of witnesses to the counsel, leaving the 10 committee members mute. This unprecedented suggestion evoked indignation from Republican members and from several Democrats who noted that it would relegate the committee to the status of a jury, leaving the sole responsibility for uncovering the evidence in the hands of one man. Barkley then withdrew his proposal.

'FULL JOB' BILL CALLED PRINTING PRESS MEASURE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28 (AP)—Sen. Millikin [R., Colo.] shouted to the senate today that the so-called full employment bill is "a printing press measure."

"In the crazy '20s we thought that wealth came from the stock ticker," he said. "In the crazy years that followed the crazy '20s we thought that wealth came from the printing presses in the bureau of printing and engraving. I think you can destroy this country by running those printing presses."

Millikin supported an amendment offered by Senators Taft [R., O.] and Radcliffe [D., Md.], who proposed that federal spending on public works to produce employment be held to a point consistent with other needs and obligations of the government.

After heated arguments, their amendment still was pending when the senate recessed until tomorrow.

LAST SUB BUILT ON GREAT LAKES HERE SATURDAY

The U. S. S. Mero, last submarine to be commissioned at Manitowoc, Wis., and now on a tour of Great Lakes ports, will leave Detroit today for Chicago, where it will dock Saturday east of the Michigan av. bridge for eight days of public inspection beginning Sunday. The sub will be tied up at property lent by THE TRIBUNE and will be illuminated by THE TRIBUNE.

The Chicago council of the Navy league, which is sponsoring the visit of the vessel to Chicago, reported a brisk demand for tickets, which are available only at Victory center in the Marshall Field & Co. loop store. There is no charge for admission.

Because the inspection is primarily to enable the families of navy men to visit the ship, Barrett Wendell, president of the council, urged such families to apply for tickets at once. Yesterday 250 tickets were distributed in an hour. Distribution will be made among the general public if the demand from navy men's families is not great enough, Wendell said.

Built at a cost of 10 million dollars, the Mero is completely equipped for battle service, but was commissioned too late to take part in the Pacific war.

War Labor Board Plans to Quit Work by Dec. 15

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—The war labor board today tentatively set its deadline for quitting the national scene at Dec. 15. It was created following the Pearl Harbor attack to settle war time industrial disputes. A national labor-management conference beginning Nov. 15 is expected to set up new machinery to handle peace time problems.

PURGE OF NAZIS BY EISENHOWER JOLTS GENERALS

Fire Pet Barbers, Chefs, and Pretty Secretaries

BY HENRY WALES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay

BERLIN, Sept. 26—Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, representing the United States on the Berlin control council, tonight nimbly side-stepped entering the controversy between Gen. Patton and Gen. Eisenhower. Patton favors employing competent Germans even if they formerly were members of the Nazi party. Eisenhower has ordered every Hitlerite from any job except pick and shovel duties.

Clay, torn between friendship for the impetuous Patton and duty to his commander in chief, when asked: "Are you a soft peace man or a hard peace man?" replied with a frozen smile: "What do you think?"

Clay said 60,000 to 70,000 Nazis were under arrest in the American occupation zone and that the number would increase soon to 100,000.

Back Up Patton

He said every German industrialist or business man down to shop foreman who had belonged to the Nazi party would be discharged in the purge now in progress.

Most of the 57 generals taking a camouflaged rest cure in Berlin are generally believed to have come to the same conclusion as Patton—that to get shattered Germany working and functioning again before starvation, frost, and epidemics decimated the population, it was advisable to use efficient civilians to get the jobs done even if they had once belonged to Hitler's party.

Eisenhower's order condemning six or seven party members to hard labor—stipulating the only work they could perform would be manual—jolted the 57 generals into firing their pet barbers, chefs, pretty secretaries, chambermaids, and waitresses.

Demands Personal Report

FRANKFURT-ON-MAIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower summoned Gen. Patton today to make a personal report on denazification progress in Bavaria.

Lt. Gen. Walter B. Smith, Eisenhower's chief of staff, announced that the supreme commander had called for an immediate report on Nazis still holding office in 3d army territory and also had requested Patton to give a personal accounting of his stewardship in Bavaria early next week.

Tells Ike's Policy

The chief of staff outlined Eisenhower's policy with these points:

1. Complete denazification of Germany's political, educational, and economic life as ruthlessly as required.

2. Care of displaced persons at the expense of the Germans.

3. Reëstablishment of an internal economy so Germany could maintain a living standard not higher than that of surrounding countries.

4. Removal of all excess heavy industries.

ANNOUNCING
VOLUNTARY ENLISTMENTS IN THE REGULAR NAVY NOW OPEN TO MEN 17-30
THE PEACETIME NAVY IS A GREAT LIFE

Eugene E. Rawlinford points out one reason for his navy enlistment on a recruiting poster. The reason—adventure.

Eugene E. Rawlinford, 22, of 921 Belmont av., a former marine who served 18 months in the Pacific, enlisted in the navy yesterday and held a reunion at the recruiting station, 321 Plymouth ct., with two friends he had not seen since the invasion of Bougainville.

Pharmacist Mates 1st Class Leo A. Haney and Gene Harten, stationed at the recruiting office, were attached to the 9th regiment of the 3d marine division, with which Rawlinford went ashore at Bougainville. They recognized Rawlinford when he was enlisting.

Rawlinford joined the marines Dec. 12, 1941, and was honorably discharged last Aug. 29. He also took part in the invasion of Guam and holds the silver star medal, the Purple Heart, and the Asiatic-Pacific campaign ribbon with two stars.

THREATEN JEWS FOR TESTIMONY IN BELSEN TRIAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LUENEBURG, Germany, Sept. 26—Several of the Jewish witnesses in the trial of 45 Belsen prison guards have received letters threatening them with death if they testify against the No. 48 defendant, Stania Staroska, the Pole whom the Germans gave the power of camp senior.

It was surmised that the threat came from a Polish group which still is in or near Belsen. They resent the testimony of the Jewish Poles against Polish women guards. Witnesses who have testified to date are remaining in Lueneburg, apprehensive of returning to Belsen. The British "SIB" [special investigating branch] is investigating the origin of the threats.

Despite the presence of anti-Semitic elements at Belsen the Jewish groups have organized a congress of Jewish displaced persons which will meet in Belsen today and tomorrow. The leaders feel that, almost six months after the liberation, Jewish groups thruout Germany have not been given a chance to make a new start in life. The congress will attempt to formulate its own rehabilitation program for Jews uprooted by Nazi persecution.

SLAIN CAPTIVE'S BROTHER POINTS OUT NAZI KILLER

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LUENEBURG, Germany, Sept. 26.—It was a dramatic moment in the Lueneburg court today when a tall, young Polish Jew, his voice shaking with emotion, pointed out the No. 3 defendant, Peter Weingartner, cowering in the second row, and said: "He is the man who put my brother to death."

When he tried to give the court the details about the beatings which brought about his brother's death, the witness collapsed. After waiting a short while to give him a chance to recover the court adjourned until tomorrow.

Abraham Glinowlecky told the court before he collapsed that he was arrested in 1942 with his brother because they were Jewish. For two years they worked in the Auschwitz concentration camps as carpenters. His brother had been able to secrete 10 gold rubles [about $7.70 at the pre-war exchange rate], an old signet ring, and 200 cigarets.

The two youths were so hungry that the one brother decided to part with the cigarets in exchange for some food he could get in the women's section. He was caught there by Weingartner and the block senior.

Taken to Hospital

Glinowlecky, watching from afar, saw his brother taken to the room of the block senior. When the brother was kicked out of the room, barely able to stand, he and another prisoner rushed to his rescue and took him to their barracks. His brother told him, he said, that he was placed across a chair and while a man kept his head back with his knee, 75 strokes were administered to him.

Next day the beaten man was too sick to stand for roll call and was taken to the hospital. The doctor at first told the witness he thought his brother would survive.

"I went to the hospital with some white bread and margarine," he said. "I went there three times but was never allowed to see him. Then I was finally told he was dead."

Before he collapsed the witness had identified Joseph Kramer as the man who caught him with a piece of bread and a pair of Czech boots which had just arrived. For this the prisoner was beaten with 25 strokes.

Numbers Are Exchanged

In the midst of today's proceedings, the defense asked that the accused be allowed to remove their numbers. Some of the accused who had been identified the most frequently were made to exchange seats in an attempt to confuse the witnesses. Irma Grese and a Polish woman defendant, both of whom often have been denounced, were given the benefit of this kind of camouflage, but a 21 year old Hungarian, Lena Stein, picked them as the women who had been especially cruel to prisoners.

The sturdily built Lena charged Irma Grese with beating prisoners mercilessly with a whip and sometimes with her own belt. Women prisoners were not supposed to talk thru the wire inclosure, but a mother who recognized her daughter in a neighboring compound called to her.

"Grese noticed this," the witness said, "and bicycled up to the mother and beat her so severely that the blood flowed freely and she had to be taken to a dressing station after Grese stopped kicking her. Another time, Grese saw some prisoners trying to hide as victims for the gas chamber were being chosen. She notified other guards and the prisoners were shot immediately."

U.S. ZONAL RULE IN GERMANY TO REDUCE TROOPS

BERLIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—The American zonal government of Germany—the United States group control council in Berlin—will cut its military strength 50 per cent to 750 officers and 2,000 enlisted men by next Feb. 1, it was announced today.

"Military personnel is being replaced as quickly as practicable by qualified civilian personnel arriving from the United States," an official statement said, adding that the organization would be almost completely civilian by next July.

Under plans confirmed today by Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor, American military government detachments thruout the zone will be withdrawn as soon as competent German officials are elected by democratic ballot and a relatively small number of Americans will be employed afterward to supervise German affairs on state and zonal levels.

SAIGON REBELS FIGHT BRITISH WITH FIRE, GUNS

Kidnap Frenchmen; Burn Market Place

SAIGON, Indo-China, Sept. 26 (AP)—Annamite natives fought with fire and guns in Saigon today as violence against the return of French colonial rule continued in its fourth week.

Nine Frenchmen and one English officer, of 41 Europeans kidnaped yesterday, were still missing. British military authorities expressed fear they had been killed.

Two platoons of British Indian troops penetrated the northern part of the city late yesterday and rescued 31 of the 40 Frenchmen who had been kidnaped. One French officer expressed belief that some women and children also had been abducted.

The missing British officer was a former prisoner of war of the Japanese. He was seized while talking to a Frenchman, who reported the matter to the Japanese. They informed the British.

Road Blocks Cleared

Officers said sporadic fighting was continuing in the northwestern section of Saigon. Annamite road blocks had been cleared from most areas.

The natives were using weapons they obtained from surrendering Japanese when the unrest developed on Sept. 2.

The Annamites called a general strike 10 days ago and proclaimed a boycott against all Frenchmen in southern Indo-China.

The present serious disorders climaxed those developments.

The Annamites, waging an apparently leaderless, disorganized campaign, burned the Saigon market place last night and seized control of the Saigon slaughterhouse. This left the city meatless. It was believed that much of the estimated four day supply of fresh foodstuffs was destroyed in the market place fire. There was an ample supply of rice, however.

Frenchmen who gathered in excited clusters on the main street watched the flames and charged that Annamites who stole Saigon's fire engines three days ago now were engaged in carrying out their threat to burn the city to the ground.

Restore Electric Power

Electric power, which had been disrupted by the Annamites, was restored last night. The city still was without water service.

American army air personnel were helping to guard hotels, where European civilians crowded for overnight protection.

There was some suspicion that Japanese were tolerating, if not encouraging, the disorders. Two Japanese civilians were held for questioning after a grenade was thrown at a British patrol from a house the Japanese occupied.

Maj. Gen. Douglas Gracey, commander of the British Saigon control commission, summoned Japanese Gen. Numata and advised him that return of his men to Japan would be prejudiced if they did not maintain order.

SEND 5,232,000 FOREIGNERS OUT OF WEST REICH

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 26—The repatriation of displaced persons from western Germany has virtually completed, it was announced today.

More than 5,232,000 foreign laborers have been sent home by the allies in the west. These included 2,031,000 Russians who were returned to the Russian zone in Germany. There are still, however, more than 1,000,000 displaced persons in the western zone, it was stated. The largest group contains 822,000 Poles and the next largest 300,000 foreign workers listed as probably nonrepatriable, many from Baltic states.

Displaced persons in the United States zone total 635,000.

Hurley Returns

[Acme Telephoto]

Ambassador Patrick Hurley, arriving from China, being greeted by his daughter, Mary, at Washington, D. C., airport yesterday.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Wedemeyer said today the United States is considering the continuance of its program of training and equipping Chinese troops.

The commander of United States forces in the China theater arrived at the National airport from China this afternoon only a few hours after Maj. Gen. Hurley, ambassador to China, arrived from the far east. Wedemeyer said they came to talk over the Chinese situation.

Asked by reporters whether this nation would continue to train and equip the Chinese army, a program carried on extensively during the war, Wedemeyer said:

"I don't think any commitment has been made on that yet, but you can say it is under consideration."

Wedemeyer said the Chinese government probably would move its capital from Chungking to Nanking soon, because the latter city is more convenient and suitable.

AMERICAN HELD BY JAPS DUE IN SHANGHAI SOON

BY JOSEPH HEARST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

SHANGHAI, China, Sept. 25 [Delayed]—Business associates of John Liddell, whose mother, Mrs. Marion Hellyer Liddell is a former Chicago resident, expect him to return to Shanghai shortly from an internment camp near Peiping [Pekin].

R. H. Purcell, assistant manager of Liddell Brothers, which manufactures cotton spinning machinery, hydraulic packing and pressing machines, alcohol, and soaps, said Liddell was moved from the Haiphong road camp in Shanghai six weeks before the war ended.

Purcell said Liddell and 500 other internees were held during most of the Jap occupation at the Haiphong road camp as "political prisoners." Purcell, who spent most of the period of the occupation in the Lunghwa camp in Shanghai, said he never saw Liddell after he was interned and had only fragmentary information about his present whereabouts and his physical condition. Liddell's mother is now in New York City or London, Purcell said.

BRITISH SKIPPING OF CANAL STIRS NEW ZEALANDERS

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Sept. 26—New Zealanders were dismayed today by the British war transport order that ships coming here from the United Kingdom sail by way of the Cape of Good Hope, Africa, and return by way of Cape Horn, South America.

[By taking these routes the ships will not have to pay tolls to the United States at the Panama canal.]

The British announcement, made without notification of the New Zealand government, has renewed the feeling of isolation experienced here during the Pacific war until the United States reëstablished sea communciations. New Zealanders turned over to Britain their fast ships for the trans-Pacific service and no replacements are expected possibly for years. The British order, therefore, created considerable irritation here.

U.S. NAVY HUNTS CUSTOMERS FOR TRIP BACK HOME

BY JOSEPH HEARST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

SHANGHAI, China, Sept. 25 [Delayed]—The navy is looking for customers for its 600 bed hospital ship, the U. S. S. Refuge, for it is becoming apparent that the majority of Americans and Canadians in the Shanghai internment camps are not interested in going home now.

Commodore J. P. Owen, chief medical officer of the 7th fleet, today conferred with Col. William Mayer, in charge of internees for the China theater, on plans to get the ship loaded and under way for Okinawa, where the passengers will be transferred to other ships or planes.

Offers Space to Troops

Owen explained that Adm. Kinkaid, the fleet commander, is anxious to get the Refuge under way soon. He said that if not enough liberated Americans are interested in going home the extra space will be made available for any army men going home for discharge or for those returning to the United States under the rotation plan.

Mayer, who explained that the United States army in China has the responsibility for handling the problems of British, Canadian, Australian, Dutch, and Belgian internees as well as Americans, outlined some of the difficulties being encountered.

Most of the internees, he said, are long time residents of Shanghai, had business interests and homes here and are unwilling to leave at all or until they learn how their properties fared during the Jap occupation.

There are 475 American internees in Shanghai and 130 merchant seamen from the steamship Harrison which the Japs seized. The seamen are classified as prisoners of war and are scheduled to be repatriated on the Refuge.

Must Give Cash or Note

Mayer disclosed that Americans must be able to pay cash or passage to the United States or sign a promissory note made out to the state department for the cost of the trip.

Many Asiatic Americans—children born in Asia of American fathers and Chinese mothers—are seeking passage aboard the Refuge, Mayer said.

Commodore Owen, who was stationed at the Great Lakes hospital for two years, visited the Chapel camp, where most Americans spent their internment, to determine the number seeking repatriation.

Capt. Thomas Bain, Painesville, O., in charge of the camp, said that of the 168 Americans now in the camp 130 want to go home, but only 69 want to return immediately.

VISIT TO BRITAIN, U. S. DISTASTEFUL IDEA, SAYS NEHRU

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 26 [Reuters]—Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, who was educated at England's famous Harrow public school and is probably the most powerful Indian congress leader after Mohandas K. Gandhi, told a press conference today he had developed a distaste for the idea of going to America and England.

Nehru, answering a question about a congress mission to put its case to Britain and the United States, said: "In the past congress spokesmen have been tied up either with some sort of internal crisis or in prisons, so that they could not think of sending a delegation to America. At present there is less psychological need and there is also more important work to do in the country itself.

Meanwhile, three persons were reported killed and 25 injured when rioting suddenly broke out tonight in Jambli Mohalla, a predominantly Moslem locality of Bombay.

The disturbances were the first communal riot in Bombay since 1941. The atmosphere in the district has been tense and Moslem public meetings have been held criticizing the attitude of the congress party towards the Moslem league.

NO ALLIED KICKS ON U. S. RULE IN JAPAN: TRUMAN

Haven't Received a Single Protest, He Says

BY WALTER TROHAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26—No dissatisfaction has been expressed by any of the allied powers, including Russia, over the control the United States is exercising in Japan, President Truman said today.

At his news conference the President, in commenting on London reports that Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov had demanded a Russian share in shaping Japanese policy, said Russia or any other power can submit its views to the joint chiefs of staff or to the White House.

So far, he said, Russia has not expressed any dissatisfaction. He emphasized that the appointment of Gen. MacArthur as supreme allied commander in Japan had been approved by all interested powers.

Truman Shows Impatience

Reminded that Russia has no representation on the joint chiefs of staff, Mr. Truman said the Reds have a representative with MacArthur. He added that the soviets also could make representations directly to MacArthur.

In connection with the meeting of the council of foreign ministers in London, a reporter remarked that the reported accomplishments of the council so far had amounted to "practically zero."

Mr. Truman lost his smile and with a slight display of impatience replied that these reports were all surmises. He suggested that the reporter wait to see the official report on the conference before terming it a failure.

Explains Gift to De Gaulle

Other news conference highlights included the President's explanation of his plane gift to Gen. de Gaulle, his refusal to accept the resignation of Leo Crowley, director of the foreign economic administration, and the assertion that MacArthur is not expected back in this country in the near future.

Mr. Truman said his gift of a C-54 air transport to De Gaulle was a gesture of friendliness to France. He said the gift was made under the war powers act.

He explained that this country has more C-54's than it needs and that De Gaulle was badly in need of one.

Mr. Truman acknowledged the receipt last night of Crowley's resignation, but indicated that Crowley will not be permitted to leave the government.

He said Crowley has been trying to leave for some time, but on each occasion has been persuaded to stay. Mr. Truman said he again would ask the man who shut off lend-lease at the end of the war to stay.

When told of the President's words Crowley later said it was "extremely nice" of Mr. Truman, but "this time I have made up my mind."

Plans Reply on Seaway

In reporting that he did not expect MacArthur to return to this country soon the President said he saw no reason to ask him to come at this time. He disclosed that State Secretary Byrnes is expected to return from London in the next 10 days.

Mr. Truman said he probably would send a reply tomorrow to Gov. Dewey of New York on the latter's letter about the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway and power project, which has not been made public.

It is understood the letter protests against federal plans that would not give New York state a voice in power aspects of the program. The President would not discuss this report.

REDS ORDER TROOPS 32 TO 42 RELEASED; OFFICERS EXCEPTED

MOSCOW, Sept. 26 (AP)—A new Red army demobilization program, which foreign military observers estimated would affect millions of troops, was ordered today by the presidium of the supreme soviet.

Soldiers and non-commissioned officers between the ages of 32 and 42 will be released, but not officers. In June, demobilization of 13 age groups down to all men 42 years old was ordered in the west, and this later was extended to far eastern troops.

Besides the 10 new age groups affected, the presidium also called for demobilization of probably hundreds of thousands in special categories, including trained specialists for farm work, regardless of age. The demobilization is to be carried out by the end of the year.

TRUMAN CALLS CONFERENCE ON JOB AID DEFEAT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 [Special]—President Truman declined today to view as final the action of the house ways and means committee of yesterday in voting, 14 to 10, to postpone "indefinitely" further consideration of the unemployment compensation legislation he has recommended. He invited Democratic members of that committee to the White House tomorrow for a conference.

At his news conference, the President was asked whether he had any comment on the "killing" of the program which, in original form, would have increased weekly benefits to a maximum of $25 weekly for 26 weeks, with federal funds supplementing state payments.

Mr. Truman observed that he did not know that it had been killed. When it was suggested that it at least had been "shelved," he said he was sorry that such action had been taken, if it had been taken.

WORLD TO HEAR AMERICAS SHAPE PLAN FOR PEACE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Sept. 26 (AP)—The inter-American conference for maintaining peace and continental security, which will open on Oct. 20, will set a precedent for the future of world press freedom.

The conference of foreign ministers of all the American republics will be the first such international meeting at which all sessions will be open to press and radio correspondents.

Reporters and broadcasters will be admitted to all sessions unless a majority of a specific committee votes to hold a closed session.

BRITAIN DELAYS REDUCING ARMY; WATCHES SOVIET

Byrnes, Molotov and Bevin met in an attempt to resume discussions of Balkan peace treaties. Molotov wanted them withdrawn from the present agenda and discussed only by Russia, the United States, and Britain, excluding France and China. Bevin and Byrnes demurred, it was said, on the ground that an abrupt withdrawal would have a bad effect on public confidence.

The United States and Britain have refused to recognize the present regimes in Romania, Bulgaria, and Hungary, which are under Red influence, as not being democratic. It is rumored that the United States is prepared to relent to the extent of recognition of Hungary.

[Other London dispatches said the Moscow radio reported Russia has restored diplomatic relations with Hungary in consideration of Hungary's aid in the war against Germany and her "loyal fulfilment of the armistice treaty." Moscow said the Hungarian government has decided to hold a general election on Nov. 3.]

Tightens Hold on Balkans

Russia is tightening its economic stranglehold on the Balkan countries which eventually will squeeze British and other western interests out of southeast Europe, a London Times special correspondent charged.

The Times gave details of the Russo-Romanian commercial agreement which, it appears, will give Russia a 50-50 share in the Romanian economy—corresponding to the soviet-Hungarian pact.

Under the agreement combined Russo-Romanian organizations would be set up to exploit agriculture, oil production, river and maritime transport, air transport and metallurgical, timber, glass, and other industries.

Speculation died down over demands by Britain and Russia for the installation of an interallied commission in Tokyo to take over control of the conquered Nipponese empire. Molotov had taken the lead in making the request on behalf of the soviet union and the British.

London Reds Hit MacArthur

Molotov's demand followed a build-up by London's Communist Daily Worker against Gen. MacArthur, claiming that he was in league with Jap collaborationists in the Philippines. Stories of dissatisfaction over MacArthur also have been planted with the sympathetic leftist press in America, it was reported here.

The council of foreign ministers neared the conclusion of its meetings to the tune of a scathing criticism from Herbert Evatt, Australian foreign minister, that "even Versailles was more democratic."

Emphasizing Australia's part in war, Evatt asserted his government was entitled to full and equal participation in the meetings of the council and the drafting of peace treaties with the belligerents.

FINDS CANADIANS RESENT BRITISH RULE OF ARMIES

Assert Ally 'Hogged' Air Honors

BY FRANK HUGHES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 26—More than a million Canadian fighting men are being repatriated and discharged, but British control of Canada's armies still is a touchy subject in the dominion, it was learned today.

Canadians are particularly resentful of the way the English "hogged" the publicity and honors for exploits of Canadian flyers over Europe. The charge has been leveled time and again that England and, particularly, the British press and news services credited the British royal air force for deeds accomplished in fact by the royal Canadian air force.

There is also resentment over the sacrifice of the Winnipeg Grenadiers, a Canadian regiment sent to Hong Kong and under British high command there at that bastion's surrender. Many of the Canadians who suffered nearly five years of torture in Japanese prison camps are returning home and bringing with them serious indictments.

Poorly Trained and Armed

They charge that the regiment was poorly trained and lacking in artillery of its own.

Pvt. Peter Rollick of Portage La Prairie, Man., said in a recent interview:

"We didn't expect the attack. It was every man for himself. Some of our guns were of such poor quality that they blew up when fired and killed numbers of soldiers. We were glad to surrender after seven days, hopelessly outnumbered and without firearms to protect ourselves."

Canada supplied England with at least 130,000 air force men, but England welded 100,000 of them into the R. A. F., so that when the operational statistics were published, it was the R. A. F. which was doing the damage in Europe and protecting England's shores from invasion.

Under British Command

The only Canadian groups which flew as units were the 6th bomber group, one or two squadrons in the coastal command, and about eight fighter squadrons, comprising around 30,000 men, R. C. A. F. headquarters here said today. Even these units were under British high command.

Only a few days ago, the Rev. Daniel McIvor, Liberal member of parliament from Fort William, Ont., said on the floor of commons that British officers had referred to Canadian troops who failed to salute them as "bleeding colonials."

Even the Canadian land army was divided between Italy and France to keep it under British command. Altho Canada is recognized as a world power in the diplomatic councils of the allied nations, none of her commanders received direct responsibility to the allied high command but reported to British generals.

Part of British Group

The Canadian 1st army in France, commanded by Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, along with the British 2d army, was part of the 21st army group under command of the British Field Marshal Montgomery. The 1st Canadian corps in Italy, commanded by Lt. Gen. G. G. Simonds, was part of the British 8th army.

Canada is proud of her armies and every Canadian fighting man thruout the war wore on each shoulder the distinguished emblem "Canada" to differentiate him from British or other empire troops.

The resentment was reflected Monday in a house of commons speech by J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, who complained that parents of fighting men were denied citizenship as "British subjects" because, being of foreign extraction, they could not read or write English or French. He indorsed the government's move for a distinctive Canadian citizenship, saying:

"Any parents in Canada who are willing to be citizens of this country and who are prepared to raise sons who enter the armed forces of this country ought to be considered capable of becoming Canadian citizens, whether they can read or write or not."

His fiancee was not in court.

SCIENTISTS ASK WORLD SHARE IN ATOM SECRET

Report Truman Backing Bomb Developers

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—Sentiment for sharing the atomic bomb secret grew today.

Mostly it came from a group of scientists who helped develop the city shattering monster.

It is reported their idea that other nations should be let in on the secret has the backing of President Truman.

But Mr. Truman told a news conference today he won't have anything to say about it—officially—until he gives his views in a message to congress.

Urge World Authority

A group of civilian scientists who worked on the bomb at Oak Ridge, Tenn., wired the Associated Press in Nashville that "we can expect no enduring monopoly of the atomic bomb." They suggested "immediate control of this weapon by a world authority."

They said they were speaking for "96 per cent of the civilian physicists, chemists, engineers, and biologists at the main research and development laboratory at Oak Ridge." This sentiment, they said, is shared by similar groups at Chicago and Los Alamos, N. M.

The scientific point of view, as it has been given in talks with congressmen, is said to be this:

The United States, by sharing its information, could gain good will and international coöperation for control of the most deadly weapon in history.

See Cause for Distrust

If the United States hoards its atom secrets, some scientists say, it will create suspicion and distrust.

This point of view is said to have been discussed by the senate foreign relations committee today. It then recommended that a house-senate committee be named to find an answer to these atom splitting questions:

1. How should [or can] atomic energy be controled?

2. How should it be used?

The resolution, presented by Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] and adopted unanimously, would set up a special committee of six senators and six house members.

The foreign relations committee, however, whacked the proposed expense account for the atomic surveyors from $50,000 to $25,000.

Report Truman's Views

Mr. Truman is reported to feel these two considerations must govern all secret sharing:

1. The atomic bomb is not exclusive United States property. Great Britain and Canada, as partners, must be consulted before any bars are dropped.

2. Any country wishing the secret must agree to some system of strict control.

But there is bound to be opposition to any share the bomb plan. Two representatives, Dirksen [R., Ill.] and Rankin [D., Miss.], told the house today they had been asked in a telegraphic poll how they stood on the question. Both said they replied they wanted to keep it a secret.

Women in Industry

MRS. MARGERY N. PORTER

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Two women have been appointed assistant secretaries of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey—the first women to become corporate officers of that organization—Eugene Holman, president, has announced.

They are Miss Muriel E. Reynolds of Westfield, N. J., and Mrs. Margery N. Porter of New York, both of whom started with the company as stenographers.

Holman said their appointment was "another indication of the growing importance of women in industry."

In an interview following their appointment, Mrs. Porter said: "It has been wonderful to see the effect our appointment has had on all the other women of the company. It has given them renewed hope."

Yank, Army's Weekly, Ends Publication Dec. 28

Washington, D.C., Sept. 26 (AP)—Yank, the army's weekly magazine edited and written by and for enlisted men, will end publication with its Dec. 28 issue, the war department said today.

NATURE AVERTS POSSIBLE MISHAP IN A-BOMB TEST

A providential warning that came a few days before the first test of the atomic bomb in New Mexico in July prevented a possible catastrophe in the premature explosion of the bomb by lightning, it was disclosed yesterday.

In an article written for the New York Times, William L. Laurence, the paper's science writer who worked with the war department in the tests, told of the close call from a quarter that had not been foreseen.

More than 300 scientists were involved in the test and about 250 military personnel were engaged in carrying out security and protective measures.

Set Up Practice Model

To make certain everything was in readiness for the test blast, scientists had set up on a high tower a practice model of the atomic "gadget," the name they used for the man-made thunderbolt.

During a thunderstorm lightning touched off the model. The fortunate accident led to protective measures against the possibility that lightning might set off the real atomic bomb at a time when the scientists were still in its vicinity.

About 500 miles of wiring was required to connect the various electrically operated instruments in the bombproof shelters several miles away to the site of the "gadget."

Flash Seen 450 Miles

One of the historic moments of the dramatic scientific endeavor, Laurence related, came on July 3, 13 days before the test, when a group of young physicists, "who had learned to tame the wildest elemental force in nature," brought the active material to the point they called "criticality," a point at which the atomic substance is brought as close as possible to the exploding stage.

Laurence said the flash of the test explosion lighted up the sky at Albuquerque, N. M., and was seen as far as Amarillo, Tex., 450 miles east of the scene. At El Paso, Tex., 150 miles to the south, persons saw the flash and heard the blast and two successive echoes.

Residents of Silver City, N. M., 200 miles to the southwest, and at Gallup, N. M., 235 miles to the northwest, reported their windows rattled, and those at Gallup said they also heard two explosions, Laurence reported.

OPA Makes It Easier for Vets to Get Shoes

Rae E. Walters, regional administrator of the office of price administration, said yesterday that discharged service men may obtain shoe ration stamps from any ration board. The action was taken to accommodate veterans who may not return to their homes immediately.

IZVESTIA CASTIGATES MARSHAL WILSON FOR ATOMIC BOMB VIEWS

MOSCOW, Sept. 26 (AP)—The government newspaper Izvestia today accused British Field Marshal Wilson of attempting to incite the American people against the soviet union, called him a "chatterer," and said he was playing "a dangerous game." Wilson, said Izvestia, "talked so much foolishness that it is difficult to find anything in literature comparable with it."

[Wilson, chief British representative on the joint staff mission in Washington, D. C., was quoted in a Washington dispatch Sept. 20 as expressing fear of soviet influence in Europe, that Russia would have the atomic bomb within five years, and that she would thus become the most powerful nation in the world. The British foreign office announced that Wilson's opinions were personal and did not represent the views of the British government.]

Izvestia also rebuked the London Sunday Observer for a story which it quoted as saying a western bloc should be the reply to nations seeking to oppose the United States, the soviet union and China, and linked Wilson to the newspaper.

POLICEMAN SHOT, ANKLE BROKEN BY 'Y' RESIDENT

George Lanning, 40, of the Englewood Y. M. C. A., 6545 S. Union av., was held yesterday by Englewood police for shooting Policeman Earl Foster, 36, of 6643 S. Union av., early yesterday in front of 654 W. 63d st. Foster, who is assigned to the Chicago av. station, was taken to the Englewood hospital with his right ankle broken by a bullet.

Foster, who was off duty and on his way to visit a brother, stopped when he saw Lanning waving a revolver at four persons in front of the 63d st. address. Lanning ran a short distance, stopped, and fired three shots at Foster, then fled into an alley. A police squad picked up Foster and cruised in the vicinity until they found Lanning. The revolver, which he had discarded in his flight, was found.

Lanning told Lt. Daniel Ahern that he had quarreled earlier with a man in a 63d st. tavern and went to his room for the gun. The man and two others were standing in front of the tavern when he returned and he was talking to them when Foster approached. He said he did not know Foster, who was in civilian clothes, was a policeman.

Anti-Crime Director Speaks to Kiwanis Today

Virgil W. Peterson, operating director of the Chicago crime commission, will speak at a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club of Chicago today in Hotel Sherman. His subject will be "Crime Is Big Business."

DR. GUSTAVSON WILL TELL ATOM STORY ON RADIO

BY LARRY WOLTERS

Dr. Reuben G. Gustavson, biochemist and vice president of the University of Chicago, will be heard in a special broadcast from 9 to 9:30 tonight over W-G-N discussing the subject, "The Story Behind the Atomic Bomb—Its Implications for the Future." The University of Chicago, which played an important role in the development of the bomb, recently announced the establishment of an institute to apply the discoveries of atomic research to such problems as cancer, heredity, and growing old.

Bing Crosby's fall radio plans seem to be settled: He's going to take a vacation on his cattle ranch in Nevada. Frank Morgan has been hired to run the program from Oct. 4 for at least six weeks. Crosby has been off the air all summer, but he's been busy entertaining service men in camps and at hospitals and completing his latest picture, "Blue Skies." Meanwhile Edward Everett Horton has been carrying on with the Crosby air show. Bing's sponsor says that he will come back, possibly, in time to sing "White Christmas" after he gets his fill of loafing.

Fibber McGee and Molly are making some changes, too, at 79 Wistful Vista, when they open up the place Tuesday, Oct. 2. Their jolly maid, Beulah [Marlin Hurt], will be missing. She [he] has set up in business at 8 p. m. Sundays on CBS. Gale Gordon, now in the coast guard, will return to play Mayor La Trivia. Bill Thompson, if and when he gets out of the navy, is expected back to revive Wallace Wimple and the other characters he portrayed. Shirley Mitchell, who played Alice Darling, will not be back. Dr. Gamble, played by Arthur G. Bryan, will be around again.

Comings and goings: Danny Kaye arrived from New York to prepare for his first fall broadcast at 9:30 tomorrow night from Orchestra hall over CBS to help open the National Community and War Fund drive. . . . Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy stopped off yesterday en route to do several shows in New York. . . . Red Skelton, just out of the army, paused between trains here. He is heading for Hollywood to resume his broadcasts.

NEW ISSUES RISE IN DEADLOCKED OIL PAY PARLEY

Strike Call Power Held by CIO Negotiators

The joint conference of oil industry spokesmen, CIO union leaders, and federal conciliators, called to settle a wage dispute and to avert a threatened nation-wide strike of oil workers, was adjourned at 11 o'clock last night to 10 a. m. today.

The adjournment, automatically holding off any strike action, was agreed upon at the request of Justice William L. Knous of the Colorado Supreme court, presiding over the three man conciliation panel. The primary purpose, it was reported, was to permit "a cooling off" period for the two sides, which thus far have been in a deadlock.

Justice Knous said he urged the overnight recess so the principals would have more time "to think over the situation and realize its seriousness." It was reported that he had talked earlier by phone with Labor Secretary Schwellenbach after the latter had sent a message expressing "concern" over the possible failure of the parley.

Demand 30 Per Cent Increase

The employes, members of the Oil Workers International union [CIO], are demanding a 30 per cent increase in pay. Up to the conclusion of the second day's sessions they were insistent they will accept nothing less. Industry representatives are willing to grant a 15 per cent increase and are insistent they will grant nothing more.

"Nothing has been accomplished," said Daniel T. Pierce, assistant to the president of the Sinclair Refinthe company, after an earlier conference.

Pierce also said the companies came to the meeting understanding that take home pay was the sole issue, but "the union is now talking about shift differentials, closed shop, added holiday pay, sick leave, and termination pay. What they're really after is not 52 hours' pay for 40 hours' work, but 52 hours' pay for 36 hours, when you consider these other issues."

One of the union demands was reported to be for two holidays with pay in addition to the six they now have—Roosevelt's birthday and Washington's birthday.

Strike Merely Authorized

O. A. Knight of Fort Worth, Tex., international union president, denied that the union was injecting extraneous issues into the hearings.

During the morning, the conference was electrified by an announcement by Harvey O'Connor, union public relations director, that a statement issued by Knight meant a nation-wide oil strike had been called.

A few moments later, however, Knight denied this, and explained that a nation-wide strike has been "authorized" if the conciliation sessions fail to arrive at an agreement.

A union spokesman said a national strike would affect 250,000 workers.

Petroleum Administrator Ickes, now in London, recently sent messages to oil companies and unions calling for a quick solution of their problems. In a response from Washington, D. C., J. Howard Pew, head of the Sun Oil company, said there were no issues between his company and labor, but that picket lines nevertheless had halted production.

Spreads to East Texas

The strike of some 35,000 oil workers already in progress spread to the east Texas field, with one walkout set for today, and a strike vote of another local union announced for Saturday.

Workers of the East Texas Salt Water Disposal company threatened to strike at midnight tonight to enforce their demand for wage increases. The company said it will attempt to maintain operation as a shutdown would threaten pollution of the Sabine river and its tributaries.

Factory President Fined $200 on Fire Peril Charge

Harold W. Sweatt, president of the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator company, 1335 N. Cicero av., yesterday was fined $200 and costs by Judge Francis Borelli in License court for violation of the fire prevention ordinances. Sweatt was charged with failing to post illuminated exit signs and to surround tanks of inflammable material with sand.

Woman Carried Down

A woman clerk, stricken with a heart attack in a west midtown office building, had to be carried down nine floors on a stretcher because the electric current powering the elevators was shut off as a result of the strike. The union sent an elevator operator to the scene, but he found the power shut off, and the building superintendent out to lunch.

Three policemen and two ambulance men hiked up nine floors and brought the woman down.

James Giangano, operator of a luncheonette in the basement of 61 Broadway, was profiting by the strike. He made two trips up to the 31st floor offices of a stock brokers' firm, lugging 150 sandwiches, coffee, and cartons of cigarets. The firm tipped him $75. On the first day of the strike he was given $20.

Discontent among business tenants of skyscrapers continued to multiply. Ninety per cent of the tenants of a 20 story building in W. 40th st. were reported to have signed a petition to the landlord warning of a rent strike unless they got elevator service.

3,000 Charwomen Out

The strikers were reinforced by a sympathy walkout of 3,000 charwomen, members of local 32-J, but realty representatives said it didn't matter much because "they can't get up into the buildings, anyway."

The executive board of the Greater New York CIO council, which assertedly represents 600,000 persons, voted to call upon its memberships not to ride in elevators manned by strike breakers or to handle material transported on elevators manned by strike breakers.

The WLB summons for a meeting of involved parties tomorrow was believed to presage a possible test of strength between the board and the powerful local 32-B of the AFL Building Service Employes International union, which also has lined up impressive support from other unions.

Union Delays Meeting

The WLB action was believed responsible for the postponement of a war council of union leaders which had been scheduled for tonight with the announced aim of considering a general strike of 50,000 union members in Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens, and Staten Island borough. Only Manhattan and the Bronx are affected now. The meeting was delayed until after tomorrow's hearing.

Also postponed for at least one more day was the plan of local 32-B's joint board to pull out the help in 1,200 Manhattan apartment buildings. Thus far the three day old strike has been confined to office buildings.

A spokesman for the garment industry said the strike already had cost that trade 15 million dollars in fall and winter orders, and its employes nearly 3½ million dollars in wages.

"Because this is the height of the season, the loss cannot be recaptured," declared Julius Hochman, general manager of the AFL International Ladies Garment Workers union.

Refuse to Cross Lines

The 250,000 to 300,000 garment workers have refused to cross picket lines established by elevator operators and building maintenance men. Also idle were thousands of employes in other industries and businesses who either would not pass pickets or could not reach their offices in towering structures in which no elevators were operating.

The strike was called by locals 32-B and 164 of the service workers' union in protest against a WLB directive which increased hourly wages of workers but reduced the number of hours in the work week, thus cutting their "take home" pay.

SEIZED RAILWAY TO CLOSE WHEN U. S. RETURNS IT

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 26 (AP)—George P. McNear Jr., president of the Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad which has been under government control since March 22, 1942, today announced an embargo on all traffic, effective at 12:01 a. m. Oct. 1.

That is the hour when the property is scheduled to return to private management, and McNear said he had issued the notice that the line would immediately cease operations because he had been informed by union leaders it would be tied up anyway by a strike as soon as the government relinquishes control.

Asked to Clear Tracks

McNear said he had sent a copy of the notice to H. H. Best, federal manager of the railroad, asking him to clear T., P. & W. tracks so that shippers would not suffer.

Best later said that the shippers would be protected, but did not amplify the statement.

McNear had notified President Truman of the road's proposal to grant voluntary wage increases, but still opposed what he termed "featherbed rules" of railway labor organizations, and asserted that the railroad would not employ persons who had committed acts of violence against it.

First Property Seized

The railroad was the first private property seized by order of President Roosevelt after Pearl Harbor. It was then tied up by a labor dispute involving the Brotherhoods of Railroad Trainmen, Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

CHRYSLER, UAW PARLEY CALLED OFF UNTIL OCT. 4

3,100 Murray Employes Go Back to Work

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—The conference between Chrysler corporation and the United Automobile Workers [CIO] on the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase for the corporation's 80,000 workers recessed today until Oct. 4.

Neither corporation nor union offered any statement on the progress of the negotiations or any explanation of why the meetings were being recessed until next week.

Following yesterday's initial session, Robert W. Conder, Chrysler labor relations director, told reporters the company had not agreed to the 30 per cent demand and had made no counter-proposals.

Approximately 3,100 striking Murray Corporation of America employes went back to work today in the first sizeable break in the troubled labor situation of the nation's automotive capital.

As the Murray workers resumed production of parts for the reconverting automobile industry, CIO United Automobile Workers officials renewed efforts to get 4,500 Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company strikers to end their 35 day old strike.

The Murray and Kelsey-Hayes workers are UAW-CIO members; both companies are vital suppliers of the huge automobile industry now making plans to produce half a million passenger cars this year and at least 6 million in 1946.

Reasons for Walkouts

The Murray workers, who walked out on Sept. 10, objected to reorganization of certain plant departments; the Kelsey-Hayes strikers demanded reinstatement of three minor union officials whose dismissal for participating in the ejection of a plant foreman was upheld by the war labor board.

Prospects for settlement of the Kelsey-Hayes strike was said by union officials to be good. A mass meeting of the strikers has been called for Friday night at which top officers of the UAW will urge an immediate return to work.

Chrysler is the first of the major automobile companies to begin negotiations with the union on its wage demands. Similar demands have been served upon General Motors and the Ford Motor company, and the union already has obtained approval from the national labor relations board for strike votes Oct. 24 and 25 among 405,000 General Motors and Chrysler employes.

In each instance the 30 per cent wage increase demand was listed as the principal matter in dispute. The union expects to petition the NLRB within a week for a similar vote among the 109,000 Ford employes.

New Lumber Strike Threat

Portland, Ore., Sept. 26 (AP)—A CIO lumber workers' negotiation committee spokesman said tonight his union had not issued a strike call to 40,000 workers in the northwest, but would continue policy meetings tomorrow.

But in a statement the CIO International Woodworkers of America policy committee warned 60,000 striking AFL lumber and sawmill workers in four states "any picket lines established by the AFL on CIO operations are illegal." The committee said it intends its membership to allow production at any mill meeting IWA contracts.

Meanwhile an AFL mass meeting was held tonight at which union officials outlined strike policy to the strikes. The AFL union is demanding that operators negotiate an industry-wide contract for $1.10 hourly minimum wage.

32,080 Miners Idle

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 26 (AP)—Strikes closed seven more mines in the soft coal fields today, increasing to 32,080 the number of miners idle in Pennsylvania and West Virginia over the issue of whether foremen and other supervisors should be unionized.

In all, 74 mines were affected. Fifty-two were closed in Pennsylvania, with 24,820 men out, and 22 in West Virginia, leaving 7,260 idle there.

The seven new shutdowns occurred in western Pennsylvania.

"Real Sitdown" Ordered

Camden, N. J., Sept. 26 (AP)—Approximately 14,000 idle employes of the strikebound New York Shipbuilding corporation were ordered by their union to report to the yards today to put on a "real sitdown strike." An "occupation force" of 1,500 has been in the yards since the sitdown began Monday.

Traction Strike Ended

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 26 (AP)—Employes of the Conestega Transportation company voted 96 to 4 tonight to end the work stoppage which has tied up Lancaster bus-trolley service for 26 days.

Airways Defers Lay-offs

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Pan American Airways, Inc., and the CIO Transport Workers Union of America said today that lay-offs set for Oct. 1 at the firm's Miami, Fla., base had been deferred pending negotiations of a system wide agreement between the company and the union.

A joint statement signed by Franklin Gledhill, vice president of Pan American, and Michael J. Quill, president of the union, said negotiations would begin when west coast and Miami representatives reach New York.

STRIKERS TIE UP 15 FIRMS HERE; 6,812 MADE IDLE

Strikes and other labor disturbances mounted in number in Chicago yesterday. The production of 15 companies seeking to turn out civilian goods was curtailed by the labor strife which prevented 6,812 employes from working.

All 300 employes of the American Forge division of the American Brake Shoe company, 2621 S. Hoyne av., were idle in a dispute between the company and Amalgamated local 453 of the United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers union [CIO].

Union Challenges Lay-offs.

Company officials could not be reached for their version of the dispute. Sam Mariani, president of the union, explained that the company laid off 225 employes Monday "for refusing to meet production schedules." Mariani charged that the company was trying to "break the union."

A strike involving members of the same CIO local was under way at the Dearborn Glass company plant, 2414 21st st. A picket line formed at the plant for the second day. Mariani said the picket line was set up "because the company discharged union members and hired non-union workers to take their places."

A company official denied the company discriminated against union workers.

Conflicting Figures Given

Altho the union maintained that the picket line kept 200 workers out of the plant, the company official said only 22 of the 256 workers normally employed were absent.

Frank J. Hoenigmann, executive vice president and general manager of Cribben and Sexton company, 700 N. Sacramento blvd., which is being picketed, said none of its employes had been threatened since Monday when Capt. George Barnes, head of the police labor detail, asked Chicago and suburban police for aid in giving protection. Barnes acted after homes of three workers were stoned. The strike at the plant, which makes gas appliances, started Aug. 27.

Hoenigmann reiterated the company would insist on a national labor relations board election to give employes a chance to choose their collective bargaining representative, if any. Frank Powers, president of the United Stove workers, an independent union, had announced that 350 striking members voted to join local 1114 of the United Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers [CIO].

65 UNIONS NOTIFIED TO VOTE TONIGHT IN ADJOURNED ELECTION

Notices have been sent to delegates of 65 CIO local unions that they are eligible to vote for officers of the Chicago Industrial Union council in a continued election to be held tonight at 205 W. Wacker dr. The delegates did not vote before the election meeting was adjourned at 1:30 a. m. last Friday.

Communist delegates and their backers continued to vote after the adjournment and later declared their entire slate of officers elected. Monday the left wing group set up its own executive board.

Anti-Communist CIO leaders said they would poll the delegates at tonight's meeting. If their slate is elected, they said, "the Communist backed executive board will be a dual organization." Albert Towers, reëlected president of the council, has declared the Communist-supported executive board illegal.

CIO UNIONIST HELD TO JURY FOR ASSAULT

Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in Felony court yesterday ordered William Dunbar, 26, a Negro, of 6205 Rhodes av., member of the United Farm Equipment Workers of America [CIO], held to the grand jury in $1,500 bond on a charge of assault to kill Daniel Baisch, 35, of 1218 Wrightwood av., member of the United Automobile Workers, a rival CIO organization. Baisch suffered lacerations on his face in a quarrel in June between the two CIO factions in front of the McCormick works of the International Harvester company at Blue Island and Western avs. A charge against Charles Laster, 42, Negro, of 533 E. 60th st., of assault with a deadly weapon, and charges of disorderly conduct against a dozen other men involved in the dispute, were continued to Oct. 1, 1946.

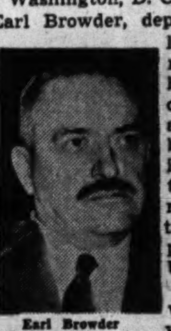
BROWDER SHIES AT QUIZ ON RED PARTY'S TACTICS

Tells House Committee He's 'Unemployed'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26—With Earl Browder, deposed communist leader, in the witness chair, the house committee on un-American activities today began an inquiry into the objectives of the newly reconstituted Communist party of the United States.



Earl Browder

The hearing was brief and was adjourned until tomorrow with Benjamin C. Davis, Negro councilman of New York City, vainly clamoring to be heard and denouncing the investigation as a "witch-hunt." He later was notified that he will be called to testify Friday.

Browder, ousted from party leadership last July in favor of William Z. Foster because he had advocated coöperation with the capitalistic system during the post-war period, refused to be drawn into an expression of opinion on the Communist party's tactics under Foster.

"No Longer Active"

"I am no longer an active party member, no longer an official," he asserted. "I am unemployed at present."

A crowd of some 200 persons, most of them from New York City, sought entrance to the hearing room. Most of them were kept outside with a strong guard of capital police to keep order. Those admitted were warned by Chairman Wood [D., Ga.] that no demonstrations would be permitted.

Davis, vice president of the Communist party, had been subpenaed for questioning regarding his campaign for reëlection to New York City's council. Edward J. Loughlin, Tammany Hall leader, also was summoned to explain his group's indorsement of the Davis candidacy which was later withdrawn.

When adjournment was announced, Davis sprang to his feet and protested. He demanded to be heard immediately so that he could get back to campaigning. Otherwise, he asserted, he would be forced to brand the inquiry a witch hunt.

Assails Rankin

Rep. Rankin [D., Miss.], said this remark constituted contempt of the committee and Davis barked: "You're no one to speak about contempt. I don't expect Rankin to give any consideration to a Negro. This is un-American." He subsided when informed he could testify Friday.

Browder revealed that he has not altered his pro-soviet sentiments because of his removal from party leadership. Questioned by Rep. Thomas [R., N. J.] about his antagonism to the war during the period of the Stalin-Hitler nonaggression pact, he said:

"It is generally understood today in the world by all but a few diehard anti-soviet elements that that pact was to the advantage of the United States as well as to Russia. It enabled the soviet union to prepare to defeat Hitler. If Russia had been conquered, that would have guaranteed Hitler's conquering of America."

Athens Troops Ordered Confined to Barracks

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 26 (AP) — The military governor of Athens ordered all troops confined to their barracks tomorrow, the fourth anniversary of the EAM [leftist national liberation front]. The order was issued to prevent troops from participating in the clashes between the EAM and police. Four persons were wounded today in gunfire between extreme royalists and a celebrating EAM member. A monarchist organization office was stoned.

DISCLOSE F. D. R. NOTE ASSAILING FRANCO REGIME

Written March 10 to U. S. Ambassador

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—An indictment of Generalissimo Franco of Spain was contained in a letter the late President Roosevelt wrote last March 10 to Norman Armour, United States ambassador to Spain, which was made public today by the state department.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted that Franco had been "helped to power by fascist Italy and nazi Germany"; that Franco's government was "totalitarian," and that it had tried "to spread its Fascist party ideas in the western hemisphere."

The letter contained an implied threat that the United States would withhold substantial economic assistance from Spain until the Franco regime was thrown out.

No Place for Fascism

Mr. Roosevelt said he would "be lacking in candor" if he did not assert "that I can see no place in the community of nations for governments founded on fascist principles."

Publication of the letter was the latest in a series of moves by the United States and other allied nations against Franco's government. The reason for releasing the letter remained an official mystery.

Acting State Secretary Dean Acheson was asked at his news conference to outline United States policy toward Spain. He said President Roosevelt had outlined the policy in a letter last March. Then, almost as an afterthought, he said he knew of no reason why the letter should not be given to reporters.

Release Planned Long Before

Fifteen minutes after the Acheson conference, newsmen were handed mimeographed copies of the letter. Obviously it had been planned to issue it long before the reporter voiced his question at the conference.

It was understood that certain state department officials had been trying to get the letter released for several weeks on grounds that it furnished a detailed statement of American policy.

NATIONALIZING OF BRITISH AIR LINES EXPECTED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, Sept. 26—Aeronautical and political circles here believe the Labor government will nationalize air transport services within Britain. An official statement outlining the new air plan is expected to be announced soon.

In addition to setting up a nationalized airways system to start as soon as possible, the Laborites are expected to allow the continuance of the late coalition government's plan for a subsidized British Overseas Airways corporation to cover empire and foreign trunk lines.

An early agreement is expected to be reached by the International Air Transport association which is working out fares, routes and other matters concerning world airways. Fares between America and Britain likely will be standardized at around $240 to $280 one way compared with more than $500 during the war. The London to Paris fare now is $24 one way, but it also is due to be reduced when new airliners are in operation.

GARY STUDENTS REJECT TRUCE; STRIKE GOES ON

Voicing strong disapproval of the outcome of a Gary school board meeting Tuesday night, 500 white pupils of Froebel High school in Gary voted unanimously yesterday to continue the strike which they started Sept. 18 in protest against enrollment of Negroes in the school.

The striking pupils, meeting in Tyler park, were told by Leonard Levanda, one of the leaders, that "our demand for segregation of Negro pupils was turned down flatly." The school board asked the students to return pending study of the controversy.

When the pupils shouted their intention to continue the strike, their leaders advised them to stay off the streets and away from school property until the dispute is settled.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Sept. 27—Birthday of Samuel Adams

SAMUEL ADAMS, who has been called "the father of the American revolution" and who was the principal thorn in the side of the British authorities during the decade preceding that war, was born in Boston, Mass., Sept. 27, 1722.

His early years were uneventful. He was not a good business man and learned to love the controversies of local politics more than the profits of trade. Beginning about 1764, he rapidly emerged as the leader of the anti-conservative forces in Massachusetts.

Adams opposed British tax measures, discredited Britain's American representatives, and as a member of the colonial assembly and a constant writer of articles for the newspapers, threw all of his weight against the policies of conciliation and appeasement.

Adams clearly saw the need for joint action by all of the colonies and was active in laying the foundation for the Continental congress. When that body first met, in September, 1774, he was one of the Massachusetts members. He was still a member two years later and was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

The fury of his enemies was one measure of Adams' greatness. He divided with John Hancock the honor of being excluded from the offer of pardon which Gen. Gage extended to the colonists after the battles of Lexington and Concord.

Everything in Adams' life was anti-climax after the signing of the Declaration, altho he held various public offices including that of governor of Massachusets. He died in Boston, Oct. 2, 1803.

THIEF-WRECKER OF AUTOMOBILE GETS 1-3 YEARS

William P. Hamill, 18, of 214 S. Laflin st., charged with stealing an automobile and maliciously wrecking it on a railroad viaduct at 32d st. and Damen av., was sentenced to one to three years in the penitentiary yesterday by Chief Justice Harold G. Ward in Criminal court. The car belonged to John Hederick of 8245 Knox av., Skokie, who said it was stolen from in front of his home Aug. 19. The machine was taken to the top of the viaduct and allowed to roll down. Hamill said, "A soldier who was with me did it." Judge Ward, passing sentence, said, "Automobile thefts are increasing, and stern action must be taken to stop them."

NATIONAL V. F. W. ENCAMPMENT TO ATTRACT 8,000

Mitscher, Doolittle, Bradley to Speak

More than 8,000 delegates and distinguished visitors are expected to attend the Veterans of Foreign Wars national meeting in Chicago next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, V. F. W. officials said yesterday. How many additional members will gather for the conclave and extra curricular activities they refused to estimate.

Opening with a memorial meeting Monday night in Orchestra hall, the convention will switch to the Chicago Stadium Tuesday morning. Announced as speakers at this session are Lt. Gen. Doolittle, Gen. Bradley, head of the veterans' administration; Mayor Kelly, and Gov. Green. There is considerable doubt that President Truman will be able to attend.

Adm. Mitscher to Speak

The convention banquet will be held Tuesday night in Hotel Sherman with Vice Adm. Marc Mitscher, who was head of task force 58, scheduled as the main speaker. For the Wednesday session in the Terrace room of the Morrison hotel, the veterans expect Maj. Gen. Hershey, director of selective service; Brig. Gen. Carlos Romulo, prominent figure in the Philippines campaign; Philip Murray, CIO president, and William Green, AFL president.

The national auxiliary, headed by Hazel Miller, will meet in Hotel Sherman and the Oriental building. The Military Order of Cooties, V. F. W. fun organization, will have the La Salle hotel as headquarters.

Reëmployment Issue

Monday also will be marked by an allied united veterans' conference in the Morrison hotel, with Dean Acheson, undersecretary of state, expected to attend. A hot subject for resolution expected to reach the convention floor is veteran reëmployment and labor union stand on the measure.

Another controversial matter to occupy the veterans is the annually recurring question of whether to admit women. It has been voted down at each V. F. W. encampment.

THOUGHT FIRST WIFE DIVORCED, BIGAMY PLEA

Adolph Loundagin, 44, who was returned to Chicago from Hot Springs, Ark., to answer a charge of bigamy, pleaded before Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in Felony court yesterday that he thought his first wife, Mrs. Rosemary Monroe Loundagin, 4861 Kenmore av., had obtained a divorce. The bigamy charge was brought by his second wife, Gladys Talbert of Evanston. Judge Hartigan continued the case to Oct. 17. Loundagin served prison sentences in Oregon and Michigan for forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses.

SLASH IN LUXURY TAX VETOED AT HOUSE HEARING

Individual and Corporate Rates Sole Concern

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—Persons delaying purchase of such things as fur coats, jewelry, and luggage in the hope of lower excise taxes may have to wait a long time.

In its first action on post-war tax cutting, the house ways and means committee today ruled out any immediate reductions in the excise list and decided to work solely for lower individual and corporate income levies.

Some members said the quick action is calculated to remove some of the present resistance to the purchase of such items prior to the holiday buying season by putting the consumer on notice that there will be no excise cuts soon.

First Cut in 16 Years

Not since 1929, during the Hoover administration, has this tax writing group met specifically to reduce federal tax burdens. On Dec. 16 of that year congress passed a "Christmas present" revenue bill, reducing the individual and corporate taxes by one-third.

Impelled by the necessity of getting a bill on the statute books by Nov. 1 if 1946 incomes are to be affected, the group voted today to dispense with public hearings. It invited Treasury Secretary Vinson to appear in executive session next week to present the administration tax reducing program.

Under present law the high war time excise rates run until six months after the official end of hostilities, as proclaimed by the President or by congress. No one knows now when this official termination will come.

Reverts to 1942 Rates

But six months after the official war end, whenever it may be, the excise list will revert to the 1942 rates. This will mean the levy on fur coats, jewelry, and cosmetics will drop from 20 per cent to 10 [retail]; whisky from $9 to $6 a gallon, with similar reductions for other items classed as luxuries.

The government collects more than 5 billion dollars annually on the excise list, and one committee member said discussions indicate there may be no reduction until July 1, 1947.

Some members expect Vinson to recommend elimination of the 3 per cent "normal" income tax, successor to the old "victory" tax, and repeal or sharp reduction of the 95 per cent excess profits tax on corporations.

2 FLYERS KILLED IN COLLISION WITH BIG PLANE

Frank Hodera, 31, of 4750 S. Hamlin av., and Herman A. Weber, 34, of 5145 Princeton av., were killed yesterday afternoon when the small monoplane which they were flying above the Acacia Country club, route 66 and Wolf rd., collided with a TWA cargo plane that had left Chicago airport a few moments earlier for Burbank, Cal.

Herman Weber [top] and Frank Hodera

The small plane crashed on the 18th hole of the golf course and the cargo ship returned to the airport, where it landed with part of the monoplane still hanging from its right wing.

Capt. L. N. Smith, 4845 W. 91st st., pilot of the cargo ship, and his co-pilot, Gerald W. Reier, 501 N. Central av., told police that they were flying at 2,000 feet when the crash occurred and did not see the monoplane until it hit the right wing of their plane. The right wing and stabilizer of the TWA plane were damaged. It carried no passengers.

An inquest into the double air tragedy will be held at 10 a. m. today at 25 Calendar av., La Grange.

AVERT SHORTAGE OF CHLORINE FOR CHICAGO WATER

The threat of a shortage in Chicago's chlorine supplies, used to purify the lake drinking water, has been averted with the promise of 30 tons of the chemical, City Engineer W. W. DeBerard said yesterday.

Part of the 30 tons is now en route from a plant at Natrium, W. Va., and the rest will follow shortly. The shipment was started on its way by the Pennsylvania Salt company, whose normal source of the chlorine for Chicago is at Wyandotte, Mich. However, the Wyandotte plant is strike bound and the Chicago supply is cut off there.

STOWAWAY WAR BRIDE PAROLED TO HER HUSBAND

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 26 [Special]—Mrs. Marjory Weyland, attractive Australian war bride held by immigration authorities for being a stowaway on an army transport that arrived Monday, will be paroled to her husband, Sgt. Lon Weyland of Hot Springs, Ark., it was announced today.

Authorities said the girl will be released within 24 hours. Her husband is expecting his immediate discharge at Camp Beale, Cal.

Almost as happy as the bride was I. F. Wixson, district director of immigration and naturalization, who has been harassed by hundreds of telephone calls from irate women who criticized him for having ordered Mrs. Wayland's detention.

Republican Puts House Hunting on Party Basis

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 26 (AP)—House hunting in Des Moines has taken on a partisan note. A want ad in a Des Moines newspaper said: "Republican who will move on 30 day notice wants two bedroom house or apartment; three adults; no pets."

SOLDIER BLAMES SELF FOR WIFE'S THEFT OF INFANT

Says He Didn't Want Any Children

Marion, O., Sept. 26 (AP)—Sgt. Ernest Webster today blamed himself for the actions of his wife, Phyllis, who is charged with stealing baby Jean Eileen Creviston from a hospital crib last July while he was in Europe. She pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

"I've kicked myself in the pants many times for not wanting children," he told a jury at his wife's trial, "and in the long run I feel maybe I'm the cause of the trouble."

Wife Wanted Children

Webster said his wife always wanted children while he did not feel they could afford them. He recalled that she was "heartbroken" twice when she became pregnant and had miscarriages, but he himself was not even disappointed.

The soldier related he went overseas in November, 1943, and first learned of the baby stealing from a news item in Stars and Stripes.

When he saw soldiers receive pictures of their babies at home, Webster said, it began to dawn on him what children might have meant to his wife.

The state charges that Mrs. Webster feigned pregnancy, took the baby, and represented it to be her own. Two days later the child was returned unharmed to its mother, Mrs. John H. Creviston, wife of an army air forces gunner.

Other Man Named

Police Chief William E. Marks quoted Mrs. Webster as saying she took the baby in an effort "to hold" Estel E. Lanman of Mansfield, district manager for a candy vending company.

Mrs. Webster testified that after her husband went into the army she began to "lean heavily" on Lanman and that their friendship led to sexual intimacies and she had a miscarriage.

Two gunmen robbed Walter Schwiertert, general manager of the Fractional Motors company, 1501 N. Halsted st., of $600 near the plant yesterday, released him from his automobile 30 minutes later, and kept the car while they held up Henry Burns, 2323 Gunnison st., truck driver, on the street for $23 and a diamond ring.

WOMAN POSES 10 YEARS AS A MAN; WEDS GIRL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Sept. 26—A New Zealand woman has disguised her sex for 10 years and has married an 18 year old girl.

The woman, tall, robust, tattooed, and now 32, said today at Auckland that she lost two jobs during the depression because of her masculine appearance. She then disguised herself and took men's jobs. In 1940 she tried to enlist in the army for foreign service, and last July she was married. She and her "wife" have been working in the same war plant. She was exposed when her signatures on the army enlistment blank and her marriage certificate were compared by an official.

HILLMAN URGES UNIONS TO UNITE FOR PEACE VOICE

PARIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Sidney Hillman, head of the American delegation, told the world trade union conference today that it must form a permanent organization at once if it is to have a voice in shaping the peace.

He said there was no reason why conflicting suggestions for a constitution of a world trade union federation could not be reconciled.

Hillman spoke in a conciliatory role after Walter Citrine, British Labor leader, urged the congress to proceed carefully, "to build a trade union international, not a political international, and to seek inclusion of the existing International Federation of Trade Unions in the new structure."

ROBBER WOUNDS PAL IN STRUGGLE OVER REVOLVER

William Ford, 24, of 1113 N. Harding av., was in serious condition yesterday in Bridewell hospital from a bullet wound inflicted by his companion in a robbery. The companion, Edward Rule, 30, of 2654 Adams st., held by Austin police, said he shot Ford accidentally in a tavern at 1105 N. Pulaski rd., while they were struggling for a revolver.

Rule told Police Lt. Edward Lefevour he robbed Thomas Kartsune of $175 in his grocery at 156 N. Cicero av. while Ford waited in an automobile. The .38 caliber revolver he used, Rule said, belonged to Ford's sister, Mrs. Shirley Pahr, whose husband, Frank Pahr, owns the tavern at the Pulaski rd. address.

They went to the tavern to return the weapon, which Ford had taken without the Pahrs' knowledge, and scuffled when Ford refused to go out on another robbery, Rule said. Rule admitted he had served at sentence at Pontiac reformatory for robbery.

SENATE REJECTS $25 PAY BOOST FOR ARMY, NAVY

Passes Legislation to Encourage Enlisting

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—A $25 a month pay boost for soldiers and sailors was turned down by the senate today in passing legislation designed to encourage volunteering for the army and navy.

Sen. Morse [R., Ore.] proposed the pay rise but was beaten 64 to 13. He argued pay will have to be more attractive if the fighting services are to get the men they need by volunteer methods alone.

Majority Leader Barkley [Ky.] and Sen. Hill [Ala.], the Democratic whip, paced the fight against it.

They contended the senate should not pass on the "complicated question" of pay without committee hearings on full exploration.

Barkley disagreed, too, with Morse's main argument, asserting "I doubt a pay increase would have very much effect on enlistments."

Provisions of Measure

The senate approved the volunteer measure on a voice vote. It already has passed the house but must return there for action on senate amendments.

Its principal provisions:

1. Allotments for dependents of volunteers on the same basis granted draftees.
2. All benefits under the GI bill of rights.
3. Mustering out pay ranging from $100 to $300 for men now in the army who volunteer for enlistment.
4. Optional retirement on part pay after 20 years of service. This is now permitted by the navy but present army retirement rules require 30 years' service.
5. A travel allowance of five cents a mile for a furlough home for those now in the service who reënlist.
6. An optional money allowance in lieu of quarters for dependents.

May Enlist for One Year

Over objections from the war department, the senate voted 63 to 16 to permit soldiers with six months' service to enlist for as short a time as one year. A like provision was approved by the house.

The senate also voted to permit original enlistments for only 18 months, adopting an amendment by Sen. Revercomb [R., W. Va.]. This was not in the house approved measure.

Retained were optional enlistments for two year or three year periods.

An amendment by Sen. Hayden [D., Ariz.] to authorize use of 50,000 Philippine scouts in the occupation of Japan went in on a voice vote.

Sen. Morse got approval the same way for an amendment making allowances for dependents until 18 months after the war is officially declared ended. Under present law, they are to expire six months after the war's end.

THREE SCHOOLS ARE SET UP FOR WAR VETS ONLY

Offer Junior College, Vocational Work

Establishment of three schools where only war veterans will be enrolled to complete their high school or junior college education or study vocational work was announced yesterday by James B. McCahey, president of the board of education.

The special schools will place the facilities of the high schools, vocational schools, and junior colleges at the disposal of service men and women who may receive scholastic credit as they are able to earn it, McCahey said.

School Openings Soon

Registration of veterans for the schools already has been started in room 634 of the school board offices at 228 N. La Salle st., and the schools will be opened as soon as classrooms are prepared. Supt. of Schools William H. Johnson said he expected class work to begin next week.

The school board is setting up veterans' schools in the Herzl branch of Chicago Junior college, 2245 Jackson blvd., with Crane Technical High school on the same campus; at Wilson Junior college, 6800 Stewart av., on the same campus as Parker High school, and at Wright Junior college, 4261 Waveland av., and the evening branch of Wright Junior college at Schurz High school, 3601 Milwaukee av.

Two Years' Junior College

The schools will follow the military services' schedule of stepped-up and individualized study so that a veteran may acquire his high school diploma in a fraction of the time required in the regular high school courses.

Refresher courses will be offered and the veteran also may obtain all four years of high school if necessary. Most veterans, it is believed, have missed only a year or two of high school. Upon completing high school, the veteran may receive two years of junior college training.

Men and women interested in vocational work may combine these courses with academic subjects.

Vocational Studies Listed

Vocational courses available to veterans follow: Automobile maintenance and repair, aircraft engines, sales and merchandising, advertising and copywriting, foundry, coremaking, welding, tailoring, shoe rebuilding, commercial art, bookkeeping, stenography, accounting, woodworking, machine shop, drafting, radio and electric motor repair, beauty culture, and dressmaking.

McCahey and Johnson said the program would enable returned service men to complete their education without enrolling in classes with pupils many years younger.

ALTMEYER DEMANDS BROADENED RANGE IN SOCIAL SECURITY

Broad expansion of the national social security program to protect workers against sickness and disability, as well as unemployment, death, and old age, was advocated yesterday by Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the national social security board. He addressed a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce in Hotel Sherman.

Altmeyer estimated the number of jobless workers now at a million and a half and said the figure might reach eight millions next spring.

He suggested that old age and survivors' insurance benefits be extended to over 20 million persons in agriculture and other fields, and that minimum standards of unemployment pay be established nationally to eliminate disparities among the states.

The cost of the broader program should be met by employer and employe contributions, with some money advanced by the government, the security board chief said.

NAVY MAY CUT POINTS NEEDED FOR DISCHARGE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—The navy has no present intention of abandoning its point system of discharges, despite army plans to deviate from its program in late winter. However, Vice Adm. Louis E. Denfield told the house naval committee in a statement today the navy may lower the number of points necessary for release.

Denfeld, chief of naval personnel, indicated that departures from the point system will be made only in hardship cases. The navy announced yesterday enlisted men with three or more dependent children will be released on request.

A NEW BEACON POINTS WAY TO SAFE LANDINGS

Sperry Light Rays Most Powerful in World

The New Beacon

Back in 1880 the late Dr. Elmer A. Sperry, then struggling to finance his inventions, including searchlights, erected a 40,000 candlepower light on the old Board of Trade building. Aroused citizens used the beam to chase ladies of the night from the streets of the red-light district centering around Custom House pl.

Last night at 8:38 o'clock Mayor Kelly threw a switch that started another Sperry light—a 2 billion, 150 million candlepower beam which will light Chicago airways for the planes of the world.

This light, the most powerful artificial light source in the world with the possible exception of an atomic explosion, replaced the original Palmolive beacon [formerly the Lindbergh light], atop the Palmolive building, which had become worn with 15 years of service.

Memorial to Dr. Sperry

The original beacon was donated to the city of Chicago by Dr. Sperry, altho he did not live to see its beam flashing over Chicagoland. The new light was donated by the Sperry Gyroscope company in memory of Dr. Sperry. It was installed in nine days.

Engineers said that while the five foot lens is the same as in the Lindbergh light, mechanical improvements worked out on battlefields during the war have boosted the potential light output about 25 million candlepower. It is estimated that a newspaper can be read in its beam 30 miles away.

About 150 civic leaders and officials gathered at the Drake hotel for the ceremony in which Mayor Kelly accepted the light from Robert B. Lea, vice president of the Sperry company and son-in-law of Dr. Sperry.

Revolves Every 30 Seconds

The mayor called the beacon "a candle in the window of Chicago, lighting the route to the transportation center of the world." Carl E. Olin, manager of the Palmolive building, accepted guardianship of the light and promised every effort will be made to keep its beam revolving every 30 seconds thruout every night of the year.

Among those present were Col. Chester L. Fordney, of the marines; Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe; James B. McCahey, president of the board of education; Maj. Rudolph Schroeder, aeronautical expert, and Sheriff Mulcahy.

POLISH CONSUL DEFIES AGENT OF NEW REGIME

Dr. Julius Szygowski, Polish consul-general in Chicago, who came here a year ago as an appointee of the now unrecognized Polish government in exile in London, yesterday refused to turn the consulate at 49 Cedar st. over to Murek Ragozinski, representing the Polish embassy in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Szygowski said he will not yield the consulate to any representative of the embassy unless his successor is designated in writing and accredited both by the American state department and the provisional Polish government in Warsaw.

Dr. Szygowski said Ragozinski sought to take over the consulate in the name of Leo L. Zultowski, charge d'affaires of the Polish embassy, to hold it pending the appointment of a new consul in Chicago. Any such notice, Dr. Szygowski said, should be signed by the Polish ambassador and be authenticated by the state department.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By GAIL COMPTON

Sept. 26, 1945

HEAVY rains this week about finished the hope of getting some of the corn fields at the Wheaton farm dry enough to crib their crops safely.

The late planted fields needed dry, warm weather to bring them to full maturity, and then several more weeks of dry weather to lower the moisture content of the mature corn to the point where it could be stored.

The main job of drying corn falls to nature. When corn has dented and matured, it still contains approximately 40 per cent moisture. Before it can go into the crib and keep safely, the moisture content must be lowered to 20 per cent. That is why warm, dry weather is needed. The saturating rains have set corn fields back a week or more in their progress toward safe maturity.

Drying Job Is Tough

The magnitude of the drying job can be understood better when one realizes that when a bushel of corn dries from a moisture content of 40 per cent to 20 per cent it loses 21 pounds of water. Thus, for every hundred bushels of [illegible] in the field, 2,100 pounds of water, or about 250 gallons, must be carried off by the sun and wind.

A 40 acre corn field yielding 70 bushels per acre would have to lose 7,000 gallons of water as the grain dried from maturity to the point where it may be stored safely. That's enough water to fill an ordinary stock water tank to a depth of 20 feet.

Silo an Ace in Hole

The Wheaton farm has an ace in the hole for its soft corn. It is an old silo that could be reconverted to handle a crop of soft corn. For some years, the silo has been used as a storage place and also has been fixed to use as a smoke house. Hams and bacons have been cured and hung there. The silo could be rejuvenated and used for the purpose for which it originally was constructed. If the silo is to be used, work will have to be started on it quickly, for the silage corn should be cut as soon as the fields dry enough to bear the weight of machinery.

Fall is coming on with a rush. The acorns are dropping from the oak trees, the corn is denting rapidly, and the leaves are turning. The Virginia creeper on an old dead oak tree has turned a magnificent red, while the grape vines still are green. The contrasting colors form part of the pre-view of full fall coloring to come.

The white oak shows the beneficial results of the heavy, fall rains. Its leaves have not turned a light, yellowish green. Such changes in the past have necessitated treatment. The rains have given the tree plenty of moisture, doing away with fall sprinkling, which is apt to harm the tree, because the water carries sizable quantities of lime. This is the first fall in some time that the gardener has not had to worry about watering the big shade trees.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

COMPOST is important to the gardener who wants to maintain the fertility and texture of soil in both flower and vegetable plots. Few farmers make compost heaps, mainly because they have access to animal manures for use as natural compost.

City and suburban gardeners can make their own humus for application to flower and vegetable plots by using fallen leaves, grass clippings, vegetable tops, vegetable and fruit peelings, and other refuse mixed with soil and chemical fertilizers.

Contrary to general belief, composting is a simple process and entails little expense. Use of compost can result in saving of money usually spent for black dirt and manure for application on gardens, shrubbery and evergreen beds, and lawns. Instructions on composting will be printed in later articles in this space.

WIFE, A CRIPPLE, WINS SUPPORT IN SEPARATION SUIT

Mrs. Nellie Yates, 19, of 424 W. 58th st., was awarded temporary alimony of $100 a month yesterday by Circuit Judge Elmer Schnackenberg in her suit for separate maintenance against Fred Yates, 21, of 5130 Union av., a drug salesman, whom she charged with cruelty. They were married July 1, 1944, and separated Sept. 8. They have a daughter, Linda, 4 months. Yates' attorney, John Kelly, said he planned to file a cross bill charging cruelty. "How could you?" cried Attorneys Joseph H. and Norman Becker, representing Mrs. Yates, a cripple.

JAPAN IS OUR BABY

Russia and Britain are trying to horn in on the control of Japan. They want to set up in Tokyo a replica of the interallied organization that is trying to run the occupied regions of Europe.

The suggestion should be rejected for a variety of reasons, any one of which is sufficiently weighty to be conclusive.

In the first place, the Japanese have accepted the rule imposed by the American authority because they know we defeated them in war and can do it again if they don't behave themselves. They know, likewise, that they licked Russia in 1905 and Britain in this war. They consider themselves superior in the military sense to any of our allies and in so thinking they have the record on their side. In their present state of disarmament they might not be able to repeat their victories over Russia and Britain, but the mere presence of Russians and Englishmen in the seats of power in Tokyo could only inflame the Japanese.

In the second place, as the British contributed next to nothing to the outcome of the Japanese war and as the Russians contributed nothing at all, they haven't the victor's right to take over. More particularly, they haven't the same interest in controling Japan that we have. If the Japanese ever break loose again they will direct their attack against this country. It is, therefore, of the greatest concern to us and of little or no concern to our allies what happens in Japan.

In saying this we are not unaware of the real motives behind the demand of our allies. The Russians are disingenuous. They want us to reject their proposal and thus provide Russia with a kind of justification for excluding us from participating in the management of Poland, Hungary, Romania, etc. The argument doesn't hold water because we did make it possible for Russia to advance into central Europe and Russia didn't contribute to the defeat of Japan; but, feeble as the Russian case may be, it's all right with us. We ought to get out of Europe, anyway, and let the imperialist powers stew in their own juice. It's better to do the right thing for the wrong reason than not to do it at all.

The English genuinly want a share in Japanese control, partly because such desires are habitual with them and more especially because they reckon that if we put our allies in a position to gum up our plans in Japan we must, for bargaining purposes, remain in a position to gum up their plans in Europe. That is to say, we must continue to keep a big army of occupation in Germany. England alone cannot effectively oppose her Russian rival for imperial domination over western Europe and the near and middle east. England's position can be saved only if she can have America to back her.

The answer to both England and Russia is that we don't like the game they are playing and can't see anything in it for us except casualty lists and expense.

As good a reason as any for rejecting the proposal is the example which Europe affords today of the folly of joint management of a conquered country. Devastation is being piled on devastation and Germany is only one of the victims. In reality the whole continent is facing a winter the like of which has not been seen since the Thirty Year war. As the London Economist said on Sept. 8:

"It is not difficult to demonstrate the utter lunacy of the allies' policy toward Germany. It must be becoming apparent to the simplest intelligence that to compress fifty to sixty million people into a territory roughly the size of Britain and then totally deindustrialize it can only lead to the collapse and the disaster we are already witnessing. What is perhaps not so clear—altho here, too, the facts are becoming daily more obvious—is that the policy of pastoralization is almost as ruinous for Europe as for Germany. The example of Ruhr coal, without which European industry is all but paralyzed, is only a first example. The truth is that the prosperity of western Europe has depended to a great extent on the existence of a great wealth producing industrial concentration in the Ruhr. That wealth producing machinery is now almost completely idle and all Germany's western neighbors are bearing the consequences."

That is the kind of thing which happens when nobody bears responsibility and rival ambitions lead either to inaction or to no less devastating compromises. We don't want that to happen in Japan. If our allies don't like the way we are running the country we'll be glad to hear what they have to say, but we must remain in control.

AROUND AND AROUND

An old friend dropped in the other day on his way thru town. We hadn't seen him since he left home, shortly after Pearl Harbor, to become an army officer. He served with honor in Europe and after the German surrender was sent home, presumably to be discharged.

His orders directed him to a camp in Texas which we shall call Camp A. He spent some time there without anything happening. At length he was ordered to Los Angeles. When he reported there he was told it was all a mistake; he should have gone to Fort Sheridan. This was welcome news, but when our friend arrived at Fort Sheridan he was told with some asperity that he was supposed to go to Camp B in Texas which, as it happens, is within a hundred miles of Camp A. When last we saw him he was about to take the train for Texas.

He said he would drop us a line when he got out of the army. That was about ten days ago. We haven't heard from him yet.

ELDERS FOR COUNSEL

Lt. Gen. Lee, who was Gen. Eisenhower's supply chief in Europe, recently paid tribute to Lt. Gen. James G. Harbord, retired, who ran Gen. Pershing's service of supply during our previous European experience. By taking advantage of Gen. Harbord's rich experience, Gen. Lee said, the army was able to avoid many mistakes and difficulties during this war.

Gen. Lee honored himself both by accepting help from Gen. Harbord and by publicly acknowledging his debt. There are too many men who would have done neither. In the last war, against his own wishes, Gen. Harbord relinquished a fighting command, that of the 2d division, to organize the SOS in France. He did the job superlatively well and in so doing laid the foundation of the modern service of supply which in this war was compelled to meet and solve vastly more difficult problems.

THE WAYS OF RESEARCH

The other day we came across a completely charming address which Dr. Alexander Fleming, the discoverer of penicillin, made last summer to the alumni of Harvard university after that institution had conferred on him the honorary degree of doctor of science.

Dr. Fleming's theme was the extent to which chance influences the lives of us all. He illustrated by instances from his own career. He was born on a Scottish farm and might, he said, have become a farmer if he had not gone to London, and he went there only because an elder brother, a physician, happened to have settled there. He attributed to chance a small legacy which enabled him to take up the study of medicine after he had worked five years in a shipping office.

When he came to choose his medical college, he selected St. Mary's for the wholly inadequate reason that he enjoyed swimming, and had played water polo against the St. Mary's college team. It also chanced, at the same time, that Almreth Wright, who was destined to be his great teacher, had quit the army medical college because the British army balked his scheme to introduce anti-typhoid vaccine, and had gone to St. Mary's as a professor of pathology. And so Dr. Fleming brought his audience to the discovery of penicillin, which came about because he noted that a mold formed by accident on a culture plate of bacteria gave out a secretion which destroyed the bacteria.

"I did not ask for a spore of penicillium notatum to drop on my culture," he said. "When I saw certain changes on my culture plate as the result of the mold contamination, I had not the slightest suspicion that I was at the beginning of something extraordinary, and the more I look back on it, the more I am convinced that the fates were wonderfully kind to me.

"That same mold might have dropped on many of my culture plates and there would have been no visible change to direct special attention to it. It might even have dropped on that same culture plate at a different stage of growth and shown nothing. However, somehow or other, everything fitted in and there was an appearance which called for investigation, with the result that now, after various ups and downs, we have penicillin.

"But just reflect what would have happened if I had been a member of a team investigating some problem when the spore of penicillium notatum contaminated my cultures. I should have had to pull for the team and carry on, neglecting the side issue. Then it is likely that the merits of penicillium notatum would not yet be known, and the word penicillin would not have been coined, and I would not be at Harvard receiving an honorary degree."

Altho he sought by this illustration to point out its limitations, Dr. Fleming would certainly not decry wholly the team method of investigation, under which a large number of scientists perform specific tasks, under central direction, to achieve a common discovery. It was team investigation which produced the atomic bomb and it was also a very highly organized team investigation which made it possible to produce Dr. Fleming's own penicillin by the ton instead of by the gram.

We heard another story about team investigation, the other day, from a chemist. He was a member of a large commercial research organization which had as its goal the preparation of a specific product. He had a hunch on how that might be accomplished, and discussed it with his director of research. The director was certain the plan would be a waste of time and told him to go ahead with the orthodox program that had been outlined for the organization. He did, but in his spare time he also followed his hunch. Eventually he made the product in the way he thought it could be made.

Dr. Fleming, we think, was overmodest. We doubt very much that the discovery of penicillin would have been missed even if he had been working as a member of a team on some other project. His scientific curiosity would have compelled him to have followed his original accidental discovery, even if he had had to spend his nights in the laboratory to do it.

Team investigation has produced some marvelous results. It can also stultify genuine scientific research if, because of uninspired leadership, it is allowed to become a humdrum, routine affair, which Dr. Fleming obviously fears it would become in many instances. The real issue is not, however, between team and independent investigation. What is necessary is that, whether they work alone or coöperatively, scientists should be well trained, should have the zest to learn, and should think. That is vastly more important than any formality of organization.

THE LIMEHOUSE MAN

The writer who put the district called Limehouse on the literary map of London died the other day with brief mention in American newspapers. The book reviewing department, which nestles close to this column's desk, seems to be unstirred, but we are in the mood to talk for a few minutes about Thomas Burke: his works and influence.

In the other post-war years, when Beatrice Lillie and Gertrude Lawrence were frolicking in the "Charlot Revue," there was a song hit called "Limehouse Blues," words and music by Noel Coward, we think. It was an echo of Burke's tales about London's Chinatown, and it is still alive. The movies, then in the first flush of ambition to compete with the three-hours' traffic of the stage, gave birth to "Broken Blossoms" in the hope of repeating the success of "The Birth of a Nation." Its story came from Burke's "The Chink and the Child," which leads the first volume of "Limehouse Nights."

This influence has continued until the average American now thinks that Limehouse covers the major portion of London's slums, where sinister characters such as Chinese opium smokers and knifing Lascars may be encountered on any foggy night. Consider the murky haunts of Oscar Wilde's Dorian Gray in the current movie. The architecture of the district is Hollywood's notion of Limehouse.

Before Thomas Burke wrote his stories, Limehouse had no literary reputation. It was seldom mentioned in English fiction before 1916, when Burke's short stories appeared. Dickens may have intended to place the opium den episodes of "The Mystery of Edwin Drood" in Limehouse, but the name is missing from that unfinished masterpiece. As a scene of melodrama, the district was practically invented by Burke.

Ernest Dowson, Victorian poet, described Limehouse, where he lived for a few years, as "that intricate and obscure locality which stretches between the Tower and Poplar, a tarry region scarcely suspected by the majority of Londoners."

SUMMER'S LOYALIST

We, who have known the summer well, dispute
Small signs of autumn tho we are aware
That wanderlust has left the robins mute,
And twinkling wings explore the crisping air.
We, who have loved the summer well, deny
That autumn's pagan beauty can transcend
This recent loveliness, yet prophesy
A brighter glory at the summer's end.
We, who have grieved at summer's going, find
Our pulses leaping at the willow's gold,
The woodbine's creeping fire, the moon's white rind,
And new and brighter stars, ten thousand-fold.
Ours was devotion to the summer, yet
Autumn, the gypsy, wills us to forget.

Weather vs. Climate

Chicago is beyond question the city of I Will and I Won't. It has several natural advantages, but its great fault is that it has no climate.

New Orleans is all climate. Los Angeles has a great deal of climate. Denver is full of climate. Chicago has only weather; weather today and weather tomorrow.

This matter of all weather and no climate, shared with New York, is tough on dress, temperament, and the respiratory tract. Inasmuch as it is a question of isobars, isotherms, and prevailing winds, there is nothing to do except always to wear your rain pants.

WILD GEESE

With glad cries ringing down a stormy sky,
In V-shaped ranks of shimmering wings they fly;
Has some Voice told them winter's coming soon,
To send them speeding toward a southern moon?

Monarchs are they, dominion thus to hold
O'er wind and weather when the year is old,
Bidding farewell to frozen lake and plain,
Till winds of spring unlock their haunts again.

O, wings triumphant! Beating down the night;
I would that I might trail your joyous flight,
To sunshine lands afar from tossing snows—
Where dark pines whisper and a gulf wind blows.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks will answer questions of service men, veterans, and their dependents by mail if stamped envelope is sent to 435 N. Michigan av. The Tribune's veterans' bureau, 1 S. Dearborn st., Superior 0200, gives personal interviews.]

F. T. asks: "Can a man while still in service start his course of education under the GI bill?"

No. A requisite to education under public law 346 is a discharge under other than dishonorable conditions.

P. B. R. asks: "What date is used by the navy as the starting time for counting points toward discharge?

Sept. 1, 1939.

Mrs. E. J. asks: "What benefits are provided for widows and dependent children of veterans under the GI bill? Can the children get any allowance to attend school?"

None. Only veterans may obtain benefits under the bill. Provision for widows and dependent children is made under other laws. Pensions may be paid to dependent children of veterans until they are 18 years old or until 21 if they are attending an accredited school.

P. D. writes: "When I was discharged from the army a year ago I told officers at the separation center I did not want to file any claim for compensation. Now I have been advised to file a claim because I have not been able to work steadily. Can I still file the claim? If compensation is granted will it go back to the date of my discharge?"

Refusal to file a claim at time of separation does not mitigate against any future claim. Claims are retroactive if filed within one year of discharge.

ESCAPE VIA AMNESIA

NOW and then newspapers carry a story of a wandering soul who cannot recall his name or address. This disorder of memory is amnesia, which is not a simple reaction. In many cases, a thoro study will be required to reveal the cause.

In the strict sense, everything is not forgotten. Even those who are afflicted totally still remember habits such as reading, writing, eating, walking, etc. But when asked who they are or details of their family, they haven't the slightest idea. A temporary, partial amnesia may be an occurrence with most of us every day. To forget a name, only to remember it later, is common and fatigue is usually responsible.

Amnesia may result from accidents, diseases of the brain, or toxins such as alcohol and bromides. The most frequently encountered cause is hysteria and examples in the armed services were not unusual. In general, the victim comes up against a painful or humiliating situation which is of such severity that the only solution lies in a change of identity. The transformation is apparently subconscious for, if it were prearranged, it would fall under the heading of malingering.

Odell reports the case of a clergyman, 60 years old, who "came to" one day in a strange city. He questioned his landlady, who said he had been there three weeks, had paid his bills regularly, had gone to church on Sundays, and acted in a rational manner.

At the sanitarium to which he was taken, he talked freely, stating that before the journey he had felt extremely fatigued and wanted to do nothing but sleep. Further questioning revealed that with his physical exhaustion had come a feeling that he could not cope with certain conditions that had arisen. He had been disappointed because he was not sent to a church he wanted. He thought that his present location was unsuited to him because the people were provincial and no attempt was made to become friendly with them. His wife, too, was dissatisfied and complained continuously. Just prior to his disappearance, blackmail had been attempted but was unsuccessful. Apparently the desire to remove himself from an undesirable environment was so strong that his subconscious mind took over and put him in a world of safety.

Before a diagnosis of hysteria is made, a search for other possibilities should be the rule. Patients with brain tumors have been known to respond the same way and a complete neurological examination may be necessary to eliminate this affliction. Individuals with low blood sugar, either spontaneous or induced by too much insulin, may be dazed for several hours before returning to reality. Occasionally epilepsy is responsible. Those who imbibe too much on Saturday night may awaken the morning after unaware of their deportment beyond a certain point. Of course, the victim's wife is only too happy to remind him.

Fortunately, during the amnesic period the majority behave themselves, altho many run into embarrassing complications. Some who have had a total loss of memory for years have even been known to remarry and start another family. Now and then criminal acts have been performed which have become great medicolegal cases.

The mind is capable of playing strange tricks. We never know what our reactions will be.

DIABETIC ITCH

N. B. writes: What actually causes itching in diabetes?

REPLY

This symptom is due to lowered resistance of the skin or mucous membranes, resulting from an increased amount of sugar in the tissues. With this environment, secondary invaders, particularly yeast organisms, create irritation. Controling the diabetes usually eradicates the nuisance but, in severe cases, the local application of gentian violet may be necessary.

FAILURE OF SENSES

C. Z. writes: What could cause the senses of taste and smell to depart overnight?

REPLY

Such a rapid loss may result from a cold. If improvement is not noted after several days, a nervous or neurological disorder can be considered.

DEPENDS ON TYPE

REPLY

Yes, provided the uterus has not been removed.

GAS IN THE NIGHT

C. writes: What would you advise for gas in the stomach at night?

REPLY

Happy Half-Life to You

Students of A Line o' Type or Two whose minds have been enriched by the recent Collins on Atoms Lecture Course are now invited to come over here for postgraduate consideration of the "half-life," a subject which Dr. Collins, prudently writing down to the intellectual level of Duke Bakrak, has left untouched.

The half-life, as any physicist can tell you, is the time required for a chunk of one of the wilder elements [radioactive] to squander [thru loose living and riotous irresponsibility] the vital spark of one-half of all its atoms. The period ranges [v. The Smyth Report] from "fractions of a second" [for atoms that just don't give a whoop] to "billions of years" [for atoms with a reasonable degree of self-control].

The importance of this information [recently released by the war department] lies, we think, in ethical and economic concepts. Harebrained atoms that plunge recklessly into the unknown future, crying, "Half a life—half a life—half a life onward," are doomed.

Moral: Don't be a New Deal atom.

I'm always in arrears.

Eternity is rich in time,

If You Get the Drift

"Government business shall have precedence on as many Wednesdays immediately before Good Friday as the number of Wednesdays before Christmas on which it has not had precedence, and on as many Fridays [reduced by three] on which it had not precedence before Christmas."

Mencken is always for fair play, however, and he squares himself with the British by quoting an American source, a directive to internal revenue agents, expounding a proposed amendment to the income tax act of 1944:

"The effect of the amendment, as explained on the floor of the senate, if finally enacted into law, would be to permit, after having made an adjustment in an item affecting the excess profits tax, in a year to which the amendment is made applicable, which has an effect or the normal or surtax for the year, any resulting adjustment necessary in the normal or surtaxes may be accomplished altho the statute of limitations for assessment of any deficiency or making any refund of such taxes, has expired."

FALSE ECONOMICS

Lombard, Ill., Sept. 20—There are only two ways in which the real earnings of any group or any individual can be increased. Either the amount of the increase must be taken from some other group or individual; or additional values must be created and applied, either in whole or in part, to the increase.

Of course there is the method of juggling with the value of the currency to yield an apparent increase, but no amount of currency juggling can change real earnings except thru the action of the other two causes.

This seems so elementary that even a labor leader or a politician should be able to grasp it. Unfortunately, all labor leaders and almost all politicians concentrate on the first method. In spite of their pious protestations that they are seeking to raise the standard of living of all mankind, the only terms in which they can think are those of dragging down one group in order to raise another.

Altho the second method is the only one which can benefit one person without injuring some one else, they not only ignore it but actively oppose it. They insist that men loaf on the job. They vigorously oppose the use of methods or machines to increase production. They kill little pigs, and plow under cotton. They pay farmers not to grow corn—and at the same time push new seeds to make two ears grow where one grew before.

NO HOMES FOR VETS?

Chicago, Sept. 20—My problem may seem silly, as it seems to have been to people we've spoken to during the last week. One of Chicago's most be-ribboned veterans is blue in the face from looking for a place to live, either furnished or unfurnished.

After working and fighting to get back home to have people who actually have places to rent slam doors in your face because you're in uniform, even tho discharged, makes it kind of discouraging.

I wonder just how that sort of public would have liked to fly 63 missions from two A. A. F.'s in Italy, Africa, and England, also what value they would place on such decorations as: distinguished flying cross, air medal [with four clusters], soldier's medal, Purple Heart [with two clusters], E. J. O. ribbon [with four battle stars], good conduct ribbon, and unit citation [with two clusters].

Home and family meant a lot to me, and look what I'm getting on my return, after seven months in five different hospitals. Will the boys coming after me get the same treatment? I hate to think of it. T/Sgt. W. A. C.

BACK IN THE SLAVE TRADE

Jamestown, R. I., Sept. 21—I wish to call attention to the rather anomalous action of the United States in delivering into slavery 300,000 human beings. I refer to the 300,000 German prisoners of war in this country who, the United States group control council reports, will be turned over to the French government; this is in addition to the 427,000 we hold in Europe who will also be given to France. The report also states that we have already put more than a million in the hands of the French and English. These prisoners surrendered to us in good faith and we are responsible for their well being and we will still remain morally responsible for the treatment they receive wherever they are until they are set free.

Altho enslavement of foreign captives and their own nationals has long been and still is practiced in Russia even while at peace, the United States was among the loudest to denounce it when practiced in Germany during her life and death struggle, and we are at present trying all the German leaders whom we believe responsible for this.

History will not excuse or mitigate as an exigency of war what we do in the security of peace.

JOHN J. McGINNIS, COUNTY POLICE CHIEF, DIES AT 65

Heart Attack Aggravated by Stomach Disorder

John J. McGinnis

John J. McGinnis, 65, chief of the county highway police since November, 1943, and a former Chicago police captain, died unexpectedly yesterday in Martha Washington hospital of a heart attack which had been aggravated by a stomach disorder.

Chief McGinnis, who lived at 6300 Wayne av., complained of feeling ill Tuesday night after eating ice cream. Dr. Mihron Varshabedian, his physician, said the ice cream aggravated the stomach disorder and caused an internal hemorrhage which brought on the fatal attack.

Friends, including Sheriff Mulcahy, said that grief over the death of his son, Corp. John J. McGinnis Jr., in battle, contributed to his death. Corp. McGinnis, 22, a former football player at Notre Dame, was killed in action in the Philippines May 3 this year.

Eulogized by Sheriff

Sheriff Mulcahy eulogized Chief McGinnis as a man "who brought respectability to the sheriff's office."

The officer had been active almost every night recently directing sheriff's police in the campaign to stamp out crimes against women in Evanston. Associates said yesterday they feared he had overworked himself.

When McGinnis became county police chief, he immediately attacked gambling of all types and became feared by the underworld for his persistent raids.

"The way to suppress crime and gambling is to keep these fellows on the run," he said.

Cited by City Council

Chief McGinnis had been a Chicago policeman from April 2, 1906, until his retirement June 10, 1943, as a captain at the Rogers Park station. He became a sergeant Feb. 13, 1914; a lieutenant Aug. 2, 1924, and a captain May 10, 1938. He was cited for bravery by the city council for capturing two slayers of a policeman, and in 1918 he shot and killed a man wanted for murder.

An impressive appearing man in evening dress, he invariably was assigned as bodyguard to distinguished visitors, and walked or rode with such notables as Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Harding, and Wilson, Cardinal O'Donnell of Ireland, and Edward Windsor.

Mr. McGinnis is survived by his widow, Nellie, and two daughters, Jeanne and Mrs. Marion Hanley. The funeral will be held Saturday from the chapel at 2710 Devon av. to St. Gertrude's church, at Glenwood and Granville avs.

Sheriff Mulcahy yesterday appointed Sgt. Frank A. Hart acting chief of the county police. Sgt. Hart has been on the sheriff's force seven years, and was assistant to Chief McGinnis for the last year.

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO N. U. WAR DEAD AT CONVOCATION

Tribute to the 267 men and two women of Northwestern university who have died in service was paid yesterday by President Franklyn B. Snyder in his convocation address to 1,300 new students. He pledged that the university would always offer a type of education that would help to insure that their sacrifice was not in vain.

"However a successful person may be defined he is, nevertheless, one who has mastered the facts of his job or profession and has developed intellectual honesty in dealing with those facts. That honesty comes when wisdom replaces mere information, and there is no place like a university for acquiring that honesty," President Snyder said.

Unusual leadership would be expected from returning veterans who become students, and they in their turn can expect to gain at the university happiness, friends, self-confidence and the privilege of preparing for a successful life, President Snyder added.

Approximately one-third of the fall student enrollment is composed of veterans attending under the "GI bill of rights."

TOOL MAKER, 52, WALKS INTO SIDE OF TRUCK; DIES

Otto Zink, 52, of 6358 Justine st., a tool and die maker, died yesterday in Southtown hospital of injuries suffered in a street accident at Ashland av. and 47th st. last Monday. Police said Zink walked into the side of a moving truck driven by Harold Crockett, 52, of Louisville, Ky.

Alfred W. Collignon, 51, of 1449 Oakwood av., Des Plaines, died in Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, of injuries suffered Monday when his car was in collision with another on Algonquin rd. near Touhy av. The second car was driven by Oliver Besinger, 61, of 7737 Thorndale av., Edison Park. Besinger is in Swedish Covenant hospital with a broken leg.

Virginia Hightower, 7, Negro, of 1254 W. 14th pl., was killed in front of her home when she was struck by an automobile driven by Irwin Brandt, 43, of 4449 Lowell av. He took the child to County hospital, where she was pronounced dead.

2 New Polio Cases in City Bring Year's Total to 164

Two new cases of infantile paralysis were reported yesterday to the Chicago board of health, bringing the year's total to 164 cases, 13 of which resulted in death. In the same period last year there were 117 cases and six deaths. In the county area outside the city there have been 64 cases and three deaths this year. Over the same period last year the totals were 66 cases and three deaths.

ONE FIRM OWNS HALF OF AIRPORT SITE IN CLEARING

A. A. Sprague a Director of Corporation

Thirteen hundred acres of land in the Clearing industrial area, which is being promoted as a site for Chicago's principal airport, are owned by the Chicago Clearing Industrial District, Inc., it was learned yesterday.

Airlines engineers and officials united in recommending the Douglas airplane factory field, northwest of the city, as the best site. The Clearing site is only one mile south of the present airport. If it is developed, the old layout on which 15 million dollars has been spent is likely to be abandoned as unsafe. If Douglas were chosen by Mayor Kelly's special committee the present airport would be used for air frate.

A. A. Sprague Among Directors

The Clearing corporation owns the western half of the proposed site, which is bounded by 71st st., 95th st., Central av., and Harlem av. Much of the remaining half is owned by subdividers and families which have bought lots.

A. A. Sprague, the leading front man for so-called business men's and independent committees of the Democratic party in recent campaign years, is a director of the corporation.

Other directors for 1945 are H. P. Phelps, Ralph N. Isham, Thomas D. Heed, Gilbert Scribner of Winston & Co., Fred Hack of the law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, and H. H. Porter Jr. Isham is a grandson of one of the founders of the corporation and is expected to return soon from government work to head the district again.

During the Democratic regime, Sprague has administered various receiverships which have yielded him fees totaling more than $400,000. The corporation has 160 common stockholders and 80 preferred stockholders.

Executive Neutral on Site

Phelps, vice president of the corporation, in reply to a question, said he is taking no part in the controversy over the airport location. He said he has no preference as to site, because if it should be Douglas, manufacturers in Clearing still will have present airport facilities handy. The corporation owns other manufacturing areas far from Clearing.

Subdividing firms in the area have included the Frederick H. Bartlett company, F. H. Halvorsen company, James E. Loye company, Howard Elmore, Frank DeLugach, Jones and Kerfoot, and Robert Bartlett Realty company.

A Chicago plan commission survey estimated 2,700 acres of Clearing land would cost 6 million dollars. This would include purchase of scattered buildings to be razed. Phelps said the resultant average acreage cost of $2,222 was "about right," altho sales recently have ranged from $625 down to $275 an acre. There has been little real estate activity in the area for several years.

Average Cost $654 an Acre

Clarence Beatty Jr., assistant United States attorney, said the 1,345 acres of the Douglas plant cost an average of $654 an acre, some of it running as little as $250 an acre. Farm land to the west for future expansion can be had for $200 an acre in some cases.

Real estate men said the few sales made in recent months near the Douglas plant were at prices averaging about $500 an acre. The air field could be extended a mile west by displacing only 25 families. From the present field east to the Milwaukee railroad tracks there are about 50 families.

Public Works Commissioner Hewitt has taken a strong stand for the Clearing site altho he said the Douglas field also should be acquired as a supplementary port. The Milwaukee tracks to the east, or the North Western tracks to the west would have to be moved to get a field of 5,000 acres or more, he said.

Hodes Leaves for Capital

Henry Scandrett, president of the Milwaukee road, said he could not express any attitude toward a possible request to move this line's tracks until he knows the proposed re-location.

Corporation Counsel Hodes left for Washington, D. C., yesterday to prepare for the city's active entry into the battle for new air routes. Hodes will compile all pending petitions for CAB certificates of necessity and will arrange for Chicago to be kept up to date on future proceedings.

AIR PASSENGERS STAND HOURS AT PLANE TERMINAL

Hundreds of persons, many of them women with small children, were forced to stand for hours yesterday in the airport terminal, where countless airplane passengers waited for transportation out of the city after flights were canceled late Tuesday night and early yesterday because of bad weather. At 3 p. m. it was estimated that nearly 300 persons were waiting in and around the building. There were seats in the lobby for 26.

It was almost impossible to make telephone calls on the public phones that line the east side of the lobby, for tired passengers soon discovered that the booths offered a refuge from the noise of the crowded station, and that they could rest for a few minutes on the chairs there. Some passengers dozed against walls as they sat on their luggage, while others, seeking to find a place to relax, tripped over baggage that was scattered over the lobby.

United Air Lines scheduled 30 delayed flights in addition to its regular 48 flights, while Transcontinental and Western airlines sent out one extra flight and American Airlines had two extra flights.

COURTS TO SEEK CURB ON DIVORCE BY DEPOSITION

Judges of the Superior court met in executive committee yesterday to plan court orders to prevent civilian litigants from taking undue advantage of a war time ruling of the Illinois Supreme court that plaintiffs need not appear in court to obtain divorces.

"This ruling, which was intended as a necessary accommodation for wronged service men who were out of the country, easily could become an open door for a flood of mail order divorces," Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley, committee head, said.

"We are not seeking arbitrarily to circumvent the Supreme court rule, but only to prevent Cook county courts from being used as divorce bills."

Ruling Is Postponed

Judges Robert E. Crowe and John P. McGoorty, the two other members of the committee, and Judges Edwin A. Robson and Frank M. Padden, currently assigned to divorce hearings in Superior court, attended the meeting. Adoption of a committee ruling was postponed to another meeting tomorrow.

A rule of court that all petitions for divorce in the absence of the plaintiff must be referred to the executive committee for investigation was proposed at the conference.

The state Supreme court ruled in September, 1944, in an opinion requested in behalf of an overseas service man seeking a divorce, that plaintiffs are not required by statute to appear in court.

Abuse by Civilians Feared

Judges in Cook county expressed fears at the time that the ruling might be distorted for the use of civilians. The first absentee divorce was granted Tuesday by Judge Robson to Mrs. Corinne J. Green, 20, a New York night club entertainer. By deposition, she charged her husband, a soldier, with desertion.

Judge McKinley said yesterday that Judge Robson "merely followed the letter of the Supreme court ruling."

There are 15,000 divorce bills pending in Superior court and 800 in Circuit court.

'OX' GOES TO AID OF PAL, FINDS HE NEEDS SOME, TOO

When Martin [The Ox] Ochs appeared in the detective bureau yesterday seeking to bail out a friend, Paul Labriola, arrested Tuesday night "on general principles," Lt. John Griffith of the confidence detail said he was glad to see Ochs.

"Mighty nice of you," Lt. Griffith told him.

Then he arrested Ochs and Ochs' woman companion, Mrs. Eula Weinberg, 45, of 1002 Montrose av., on charges of disorderly conduct. Later, Ochs, Mrs. Weinberg and Labriola all were released on bond.

Lariola, stepson of the late Lawrence [Dago] Mangano, and Ochs, were indicted this year in Du Page county on a charge of murdering Maurice Barad, a minor hoodlum, but recently were dismissed for lack of evidence.

Overemphasis of Orderliness Hard on Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

As we were saying yesterday, all things are relative, even orderliness.

To some persons orderliness means one thing; to others it means another. There is such a thing as a sense of orderliness so painful that it is affronted by anything at all out of place. This certainly is carrying the idea too far. The children of such parents are certainly unlucky. Even the temporary disorder that accompanies play, painting, carpentry, making doll's clothes, or having, for the moment, the house littered with skating or baseball togs annoys a mother like that, who makes a fetish of keeping everything straight and spic and span.

On the other hand, there is such a thing as a disorder that really amounts to a disturbing confusion. I know of two such homes in which there were two little daughters with orderly souls. They were chagrined before people, and so distressed by the wild disorder that each little 10 year old turned to and put her mother's house to rights every day.

But there are desirable stages of orderliness between these two extremes which can be attained in a family where there are children, and which provide a pretty good example for them too. This kind of orderliness creates an atmosphere of peace and attractiveness, because surely no home has either charm or a sense of quiet if it is in constant disorder, just as it cannot have warmth and personality if it is so orderly that it is cold and "set." A house should be orderly with what you might call a working order, so that it can serve the purpose of a home, which is, after all, a place to be worked in, played in, lived in, used, and enjoyed.

I have started, as you see, 'way back with the orderliness of parents, before talking about the orderliness of children. That is because the degree of order that a child sees around him makes an impression on him, sets an example and a standard.

So, if you are concerned about the way your children create disorder, leave their things around, or the state of your teen-agers' bedrooms, at least look to you own habits first.

Plan to Expand Lutheran Hour on Air Is Told

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS

Dr. Walter A. Maier, minister to what is believed to be the largest radio congregation in the world, yesterday spoke at the Stevens hotel on expansion plans for the Lutheran hour broadcast which includes use of the 100,000 watt stations in Rome, and smaller stations in Milan, Genoa, Bologna, Venice, Naples, Palermo, Florence, and Catania in addition to the 714 stations in the western hemisphere and Australia.

The 13th season will open Sunday afternoon Oct. 7, when a huge rally is expected to fill the Chicago Stadium. Dr. Maier said that the Lutheran Laymen's league, sponsor of the broadcast, has formally asked the Missouri synod Lutheran church for the privilege of raising one million dollars for European broadcasts. This includes the ownership and operation of a powerful station somewhere in Europe.

This station, Dr. Maier said, would broadcast in many languages for all European peoples. Regardless of mission privileges which may be denied in some countries, he added, "the radio will go thru to those peoples with the message that the Gospel of Jesus as found in the Bible is the only hope of the world, and that nothing that we now have aside from Him will prevent war and want."

Dr. Maier told of efforts of communists in St. Louis, Mo., where the Lutheran hour originates, and from Friends of Democracy in Kansas City, Mo., led by Rex Stout, former contributor to the communist journal, New Masses, to stop the Lutheran hour. The communists, he said, warned him that "every word you say is being transcribed to use against you." To which Dr. Maier said he replied: "I would be glad to save you work by sending you transcriptions of the broadcasts."

Since June when he left the air for the summer, Dr. Maier said the following expansion has taken place, not including the European broadcasts which will not begin at once: Two super-power stations near the Mexican border, eight FM stations in the United States, establishment of three new offices in Australia [local offices are now maintained in Canada], and a total of 75 new stations added to the system.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	1 spade	2 diamonds	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

In today's hand South became declarer at a contract of three no trump on more or less orthodox bidding and West elected to open the jack of spades. Dummy played low and the trick was taken with the queen. It seemed like smooth sailing for nine tricks until West rudely showed out on the lead of the ace of diamonds. Declarer, nevertheless, continued with his operations on that suit and conceded the jack of diamonds to East in order to establish the fifth card in that suit. East returned his remaining spade which set up three good tricks for his partner. Since only eight tricks were cashable declarer had to lead a heart in an effort to make the ninth and when West got in, the three good spades set the contract.

On this hand declarer would have done well to change horses in midstream. When the bad news in diamonds was out, declarer should have realized that sooner or later he must drive out both the ace of hearts and the jack of diamonds. Which should be attacked first? East is known to have the diamond, but he is not the one to fear. West is the dangerous adversary because he has plenty of ammunition in the spade suit. If the ace of hearts is dislodged early he will never be able to get in to use the spades.

The proper play at trick three is to lead the heart queen. If West takes the trick, he can clear the spades, but now the diamond can be conceded to East who will be unable to return a spade to his partner and nine tricks are in hand. If by some chance East has another spade to return, it will mean that West had originally only four and therefore the enemy cannot cash enough tricks to defeat the contract.

The principle underlying this type of play is quite simple. When an opponent threatens to establish a suit against you at no trump, get busy taking out his entries before you do your other work. An established suit in the hands of an adversary who has no entry card is no menace at all.

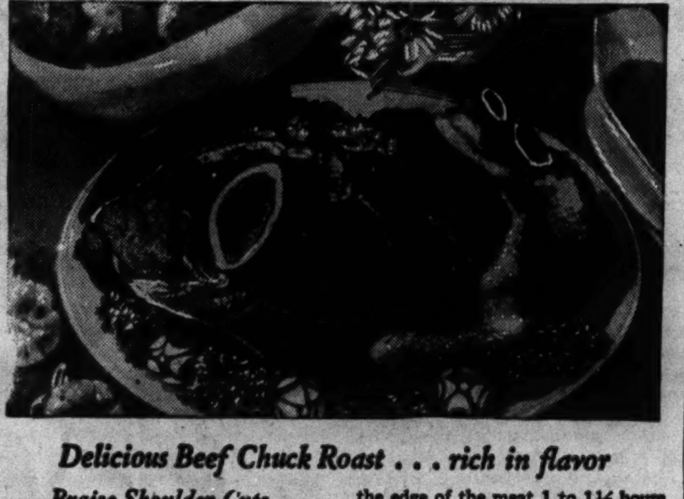
Treat Your Family to a Pot Roast

Being able to serve a delicious pot roast once again without having to think about meat points will be a great satisfaction to the busy homemaker. And what a hit a good pot roast makes with the family! It's truly a case of "you never miss the water 'til the well runs dry."



Delicious Beef Chuck Roast . . . rich in flavor

Braise Shoulder Cuts

Whether you select an arm-bone pot roast as shown above (note the round bone and the ends of the two ribs as identifying marks) or any other chuck or shoulder roast, the method of cooking is exactly the same; that is, braising.

To braise, brown both sides of the beef well in two tablespoons of hot fat . . . preferably in a heavy skillet or Dutch oven, so it will brown evenly without burning. Add about ¼ cup hot water, salt and pepper the top side, cover, reduce heat to low and let meat simmer lazily until very tender, adding more water in small amounts as needed. Turn meat once and season second side. The time required depends on the thickness of the meat and its original tenderness. Allow 2½ to 3 hours for a pot roast 2 inches thick.

Oven in Use?

If so and the temperature is low, around 325° F., put the pot roast in the oven after it is well browned. Be sure to remove the handle from the skillet to prevent it from burning.

To make luscious browned potatoes place potatoes in the skillet around the edge of the meat 1 to 1½ hours (depending on size) before meat is done, turning occasionally.

Rich brown gravy, buttered broccoli, cabbage salad and Boston cream pie (made early in the morning) complete a truly delicious meal.

To replace the brown color and flavor taken from the drippings by the potatoes, add a small amount of Wilson's B-V to the gravy.

Master Method

Braising, as described above, develops rich brown flavor and makes the less tender cuts very tender. Hence it is used in cooking many different cuts of beef including the chuck, rump, round, brisket, plate, short ribs, flank, shanks and ox-joints.

Your family will benefit if you become acquainted with all of these cuts. They're really delicious.

Sincerely yours,
George Rector

Are You Doing As Much For Your Children?

Right from the start, the mother of these two children has made sure that they get plenty of sunshine, and a diet adequate in bone-building minerals. Their legs will be as strong, straight, and their teeth as sound, as sufficient calcium can make them.

Will your child have these assets? While even sufficient calcium cannot correct bowed legs after a child is three, an adequate supply is important right through life to keep bones sturdy and help the child to look his best. That's one of the main reasons why doctors advise that children get plenty of milk . . . the best food source of calcium.

However, as children get older, they are often reluctant to drink all the milk they should have.

That's where Cocomalt can prove invaluable. For Cocomalt gives milk a delicious chocolaty flavor that children love. And Cocomalt* is so rich in calcium, it makes 3 glasses of milk equal to a whole quart in calcium value. (Also supplies the day's entire minimum requirements for iron, phosphorus, Vitamins B₁ and D.)

Start your children on Cocomalt today. Save this as a reminder to order from your grocer.

Maria Osmena to Open Club's Lecture Series

BY JUDITH CASS

THE opening fall lecture of the Woman's Athletic club at 11:30 a. m., Oct. 9, will attract an overflow audience, no doubt, as the speaker is to be Maria Osmena, daughter of Sergio Osmena, president of the Philippine commonwealth. As the club expects a large attendance, members will be permitted to bring only one guest each to hear Miss Osmena tell "The Story of My Father and His People" and to remain for luncheon following.

Miss Osmena, a graduate of Santo Tomas university in Manila, spent years studying languages and music in Europe, and escaped from Poland on the eve of the German invasion. The war prevented her from returning to Manila, so she stayed with her father and served as his official hostess in Washington, D. C. Meanwhile, Mrs. Osmena and other members of the family were in the Philippines, and Miss Osmena and her father had no word of them following the invasion by the Japanese.

In private life Miss Osmena is the wife of James Milne Charnley, New York pianist, to whom she was married a year ago this coming Sept. 30. Among the Chicagoans who will be eager to hear Miss Osmena are Mrs. Frank R. Fuller, who was the then Sen. Osmena's dinner partner at a gala function in Manila shortly before the war, and Mrs. Frank Parker, whose husband, Gen. Parker, was stationed there at that time. Mrs. Fuller was visiting the Parkers and on that same occasion found herself vis-a-vis Capt. Chester W. Nimitz, who was to achieve fame as a fleet admiral within but a few years.

Staying with Mrs. Fuller in Winnetka this week are Mrs. Edwin Bartlett of Worcester, Mass., and her son, Michael Bartlett, who sang last Saturday in the Ashland Boulevard auditorium in the first performance by the new Citizens' Opera company. Mrs. James Waller Marshall is entertaining at cocktails today for Mr. Bartlett and his mother. Mr. Bartlett will appear in "Rigo-

Girl's Braces Need Not Ruin a Festive Date

BY SHEILA DALY

on the SOLID side

"I'm a 16 year old junior, am considered rather pretty, and have quite a few friends whom I've met this last summer. Boys have just begun to notice me and I've been having a wonderful time. There is one boy in particular whom I've dated and I'd like to ask him to my school prom. But there's a small problem. Up until this summer I've worn braces on my teeth, and will soon have to start wearing them again for another year. I'm afraid this will spoil my fun at the prom, because this fellow has never seen me with braces. Should I ask him anyway?"

If a gal is fun to be with, a small item such as braces on her teeth won't change a fellow's mind about her. But for a big, bright lights evening like a prom, perhaps you'll want to get really smoothed up. If you'll speak to your dentist he'll probably agree to remove the braces for that one evening and you can smile away to your heart's content.

"I've been dating a certain young fellow for about six weeks. Before we met he was going steady, but when the girl started going out with other boys he began to date me. I still think he likes the other girl quite a bit. He hasn't asked me to go steady, but he told me that he isn't going out with other girls and expects me to act accordingly. We go out quite often and he's always very nice and does loads of things for me. But other boys have been asking me out and I'm wondering if I should go."

As long as you're date-dreaming about other boys, it's a sure sign that you aren't ready to confine yourself to dating just one fellow. And it would be silly to tie yourself down to a fellow you've acquired on the rebound, for fear he'll bound right back to his first gal if he's given the chance. So start dating the other young Joes who've been making with the phone calls and date offers. You have a full date schedule ahead of you—more man power to you!

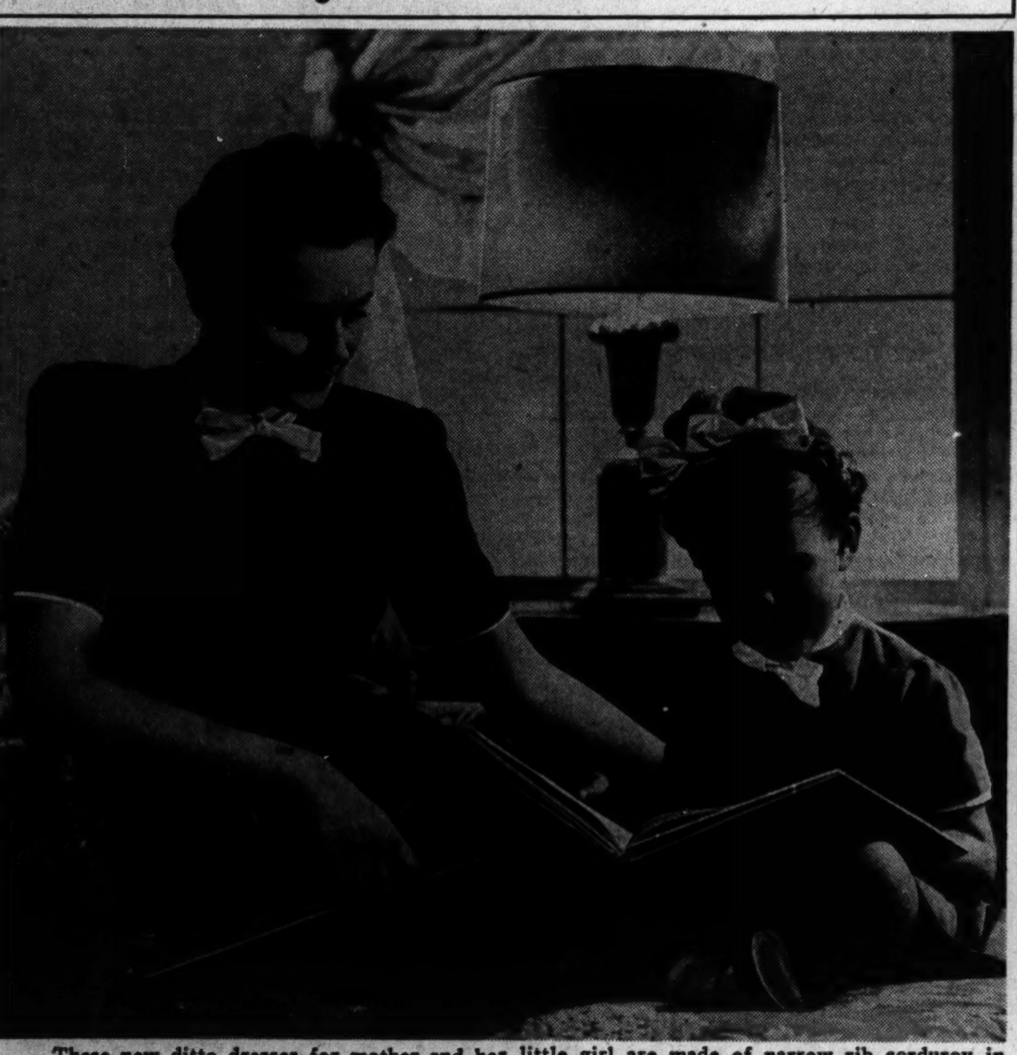
Mother and Daughter Dress Duet for Winter Is Smart



These new ditto dresses for mother and her little girl are made of narrow rib corduroy in clear and bright colors. A white tie is fastened at the throat. The tie matches the narrow band accent around the short sleeves and at the high, round neckline. Both dresses are available in a Chicago store.

White Collar GIRL

Button, Button, Who's Got It?

"Do you know how to run a switchboard?" she asked me.

"No, but I could learn," I replied in my innocence.

"Okay. Now this is a switchboard, see? Look at all these little buttons. These over here are for calls that come in, see? Now suppose a call comes in. All you gotta do is to pick up the phone and say, 'Good morning, Flanagan, Olsen, Cohen, Gonzales, and Czyjkipsky, attorneys at law.'"

"Couldn't I just say 'lawyers'?"

"No, you gotta say, 'Good morning, Flanagan, Olsen, Cohen, Gonzales, and Czyjkipsky, attorneys at law.' So, a call comes in, see, and you pick up the phone, and you——"

"Don't tell me—I say, 'Good morning, Flanagan, Olsen——'"

"Right! Now, supposing they want to talk to Mr. Czyjkipsky. You say, 'Who's callin' puhleeze?' We'll pretend like it's Mr. Korntassel calling. Well, then you say, 'One moment, puhleeze,' and then you push this button down over here, see, and then you push this one down here, which is the bell, and then Mr. Czykipsky's secretary will answer, and you hang up. See?"

"But why do I say, 'Who's callin', puhleeze?' When I call up somebody and they say, 'Who's callin', puhleeze?' I figger it's none of their business."

"Never mind about that now." My instructor seemed hurt.

Make with the Buttons

"Okay, okay," I said. "Let's make with the buttons some more."

"See all these little things up here? If another call comes in you just push this button up and if another comes in you go down here and push this one down."

"O, it's really simple, isn't it, when you know how!"

"Sure, you can do it with your eyes shut." And with that I was on my own.

Nothing to Do but . . .

There was nothing to do but sit back and wait for a buzz. It came. "Good morning, Olsen, Cohen, no, I mean Flanagan, Gonzales . . . no! Just a minute . . . I mean, 'One moment, puhleeze'—O, heavens, that comes later! O!" Another buzz. Let's see now, this other button goes up and this . . . I'll have to start all over again from scratch. Another buzz! I just push this button up. No, I'd better push it down. I pushed the last one up.

Well, now half of them were up and half of them down, and that seemed reasonable enough. At least it stopped buzzing. Another buzz. What do I do now? The buttons were all either up or down—and they wouldn't move sideways. I'd have to push this one down—sort of spoils the effect, tho.

"Good morning, Flanagan, Olsen . . . what? Well, if there are four of you on the same line, why don't two of you hang up?" [Men are so helpless!]

Then they stalked into the reception room—Flanagan, Olsen, Cohen, Gonzales, and Czyjkipsky. They looked like they were mad as hops.

It was silly, but I said it anyway. "Is something the matter?"

Gay Corduroy Pair Is Surprise Fashion Note

BY REA SEEGER

Matched creations in dresses for winter wear, designed expressly for the closed corporation of mother and tiny daughter, are new, colorful, and as intriguing as ever. Because the matched aprons and summer dresses went over so big, enthused designers now have launched some winners in cotton corduroy. They're the big surprise of the year.

The color is limited and right now some of the sizes of the grown-up models also are limited, but extra supplies are expected soon. Meanwhile, what is available is something to write home about.

The narrow ribbed corduroy is used cleverly. The ribbing is vertical in the bodice and sleeves. The gathered and comparatively full skirt is made of large squares of the corduroy in alternate vertical and horizontal ribbed material. Around the straight short sleeves and the high round neckline is a snowy white band which is detachable and washable. A prim little "preacher" bow of the same pristine white is tied in front.

Both the little daughter and the mother dress are made precisely alike, one the ditto of the other. Such effective colors as coral, jade-green, gray, and turquoise blue are featured. Little daughter sizes are from three and up. The sizes for mama are the regular ones. The duet is irresistible.

Other corduroy models have just arrived, with a most effective dull gold shade taking the spotlight. However, the skirt of this model is made simply of vertically ribbed corduroy, without the decorative squares of the other model.

The corduroy for both dresses is unusually soft and velvety in texture. The colors are clear and flattering. They're dresses that are smart enough and distinctive enough to wear for parties, for afternoon, or as best bib and tucker dresses for Sunday. The price marks are modest.

Danilova and Franklin Back As Ballet Russe Opens With Balanchine, "Sylphides," and 'Rodeo"

THE Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo got off to a slow start at the Civic Opera house last night, but that is nothing new in dancing lore, as the traveling troupes usually warm up as they go along, often reaching incandescence just as they are about to leave town. The program was not ideally arranged and the company seems short of personality dancers, but Alexandra Danilova and Frederick Franklin are back, Dorothy Etheridge is again in "Rodeo," and diamond cut Marie Jeanne made herself welcome with some brilliant work in the evening's novelty, "Concerto Barocco."

This, as you know, is a novelty in the sense that it hasn't been danced here before by the Ballet Russe. George Balanchine choreographed it years ago to Bach's Double Concerto, and Marie Jeanne danced it and "Ballet Imperial" back in the days of Ballet Caravan and the American Ballet. Perhaps for reasons of contrast, it was introduced last night just before the newer Balanchine work, "Danses Concertantes," a cap and bells sparkler in Berman jewel colors to Stravinsky's exquisitely attenuated score.

The trouble with dancing two such works in juxtaposition is that they underscore choreographic weaknesses, such as Balanchine's delight in having his dancers play go-in-and-out-the-window. But I must admit myself a Balanchine fan, and I get so much pleasure out of his flowing abstractions that the flaws are negligible by contrast. And the man does have a sense of mischief. It pops out of "Danses Concertantes" with a jester's impishness, and how else do you account for a baroque concerto, which far from being vast in proportion and excessively ornamented is stark and clear of line, with the dancers exclamation points in black sheaths over white tights? I found the whole work interesting as something to watch idly while listening to the music, but the slow movement refuses to fall into that category without an argument. Danced by Marie Jeanne and Nicolas Magellanes it has a clarity and purity, a strength and originality, even a soaring boldness, that will be what sends me back to the next showing of "Concerto Barocco."

"Danses Concertantes" remains an exharating work with a champagne wit and its stage in motley is one of the gayest ballet knows. We have seen more brilliant performances, but this one began to glow as the variations progressed until it bubbled with Tallchief, Wilde, and Magallanes to precisely the point of receptivity necessary to display the bemused Danilova and the buoyant Franklin, the latter doubly welcome after last year's accident kept him from our season.

The opening of "Les Sylphides" was neat, and both Krassovska and Danielian were deft, while the corps de ballet was fresh and clean, but the only thing that came alive in poetry was Dorothy Etheridge's exquisite way with the prelude. Nice arms that child has. I was sorry not to stick around to see her back with Franklin and Magellanes in "Rodeo," but better luck another time. The Ballet Russe seems to have had its own luck in adding Ivan Boutnikoff as co-conductor with Emanuel Balaban. His Chopin understood dancing.

INSTALMENT XVI.
DISTURBING SUMMONS

Mr. Izenga was also awarded the task of telling Erica the terms of the will. She looked a little pale as she gazed out of the morning room windows.

"How could she have done that to me," Erica said in a bitter whisper. "Trying to force her own way on me, even after she is dead."

"It was for your own good," Mr. Izenga said.

"Why couldn't she have trusted me to live my own life? She had her way, always. Why not let me make my own mistakes. I'll make them anyway. I love this place. But not that much."

"Don't be hasty, my dear child. You don't know how Huntley loves you."

"O, yes I do. I don't want to be loved that way."

"You don't know. You won't listen to him."

She gave him a smile, mischievous and grim. "Don't advise him anymore, please, darling Mr. Izenga. It won't help."

After a long silence she sighed and said, "Would you help me see about the funeral? She wanted it in church, but you know how that is."

He thought, she knows all about that. She knows who did it. But she wasn't going to make trouble about it. If only she would listen to reason on Newcomb.

"Of course I will. But Hester should be consulted . . . and Ridge." It was going to be a lot of trouble.

"No. That's just it. Aunt Hester called up and asked me to ask you to do it. She has such a silly morbid fear of death. She won't even make her will. And Uncle Ridge says he doesn't believe in funerals. Says he's going to only one. His own. Uncle Ridge is really a pig, isn't he," Erica said.

"Yes. Well I'll do my best." Mr. Izenga was tired too and he didn't care for funerals either, but he shouldered this new responsibility. "When shall we . . ."

Erica said, "The sheriff is determined to hold an inquest Friday morning. So we'd better have the funeral Friday afternoon."

"An inquest! But why is that necessary? If the state police are handling it they shouldn't have an inquest, at least not so soon."

"O, you know Joe MacDonald. He's so self-righteous about what he thinks is his duty."

"Mmmm! I'll see MacDonald," Mr. Izenga said. "And I'll look after everything, my dear."

"O, darling, if only you could like Toby!" she whispered so endearingly that Mr. Izenga's heart was wrung. He would almost try to do it when she looked like that.

Mr. Izenga's formula for keeping his paragon, Harrison, was a revolutionary one. He treated him as a human being with rights and privileges. And backed it up with a whopping salary.

As a result, Mr. Izenga received not only super-service but friendship. Harrison insisted upon arranging all the details of the Pomeroy funeral, subject to Mr. Izenga's approval.

He was out on this mission when the doorbell rang at 10, Wednesday night. Mr. Izenga pushed on the entrance lights and peered out of a window.

The light shone on the petulant face of Hester Duke. On her arms glittered the two diamond bracelets she had confiscated. To Mr. Izenga's disappointment, they proved to have been intended for her, as she claimed.

Mr. Izenga did not want to hear any more troubles, but of course, after turning on the lights, he had to let her in. He opened the door and pushed the screen ajar.

She darted in. "Are you alone?"

"At present, yes?"

He noticed as her cape fell open, that she was wearing a white, embroidered, evening dress.

"O, I'm so worried I'm almost sick. I can't stand it." She spoke in a shrill whisper. "We're over at Jane Hasty's dinner for Ann. I just ran out on it for a few minutes."

Mr. Izenga said, "You are at a dinner party when your mother has just been killed the day before? Did I hear you right?"

"Good heavens, don't be so archaic, Mr. Izenga. Jane's dinner is to announce Ann's engagement. She actually offered to put it off, but I told her that mother never put off her dinners for any one. She'd be the last person to want . . ."

"I can't see all that. But how could you want to go to it?"

"But I had to go. It was my duty. I'm managing Ann's rehearsal," Mrs. Duke shrilled. "They're to be married in two weeks! And I did not come here to have my manners criticized. Every one thought it was very kind of me to suppress my own grief and bear up for Jane's sake."

"All right. All right." Mr. Izenga heard her heels make a path of irritation up and down the room, now on the rugs, now on the polished floor.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Izenga. I'm so wrought up I don't know what I am saying half the time. What worries me now, is that horrid maid of ours. I've done everything for that girl, and she still hates me."

He knew some of the things she had done. He did not blame the maid for any reprisals she might take.

Mrs. Duke went on. "She got a summons, or whatever it is, to appear before Lt. French tomorrow morning for questioning. And I had everything fixed so nicely. I know she'll spoil it all. She'll tell him Harry and I weren't home last night."

Mr. Izenga's prominent blue eyes flew open. "I wish people would stop lying to the police and telling me about it. Why did you do it?"

"I couldn't help myself," she wailed. "It's just the most foul coincidence. Harry has been having an affair with another woman. He thought I didn't know about it. I tried to find out who it was but, either nobody knew, or they wouldn't tell me. So I decided to follow him."

Mr. Izenga said, "Why didn't you come to me in the first place?"

She began to weep a little. "Because I was a fool." She added, "I didn't want to bother you."

"Go on," he said dryly.

"So, I would choose the night my poor dear mother was killed to follow him. I went to bed at eleven, and so did Harry, as I told the lieutenant. I mean, we both went to our rooms. I waited and listened. It seemed hours, but it was only a little after 1 that I heard him start down the hall. And I followed. When we got out in the yard I expected him to take his coupe. I'd left mine parked in the drive on purpose. But he didn't. He started to walk. I had a flashlight and I was so mad I wasn't afraid of the dark. Besides, after a while I could see quite well."

Thru the Looking Glass

If you're searching for something to help condition brittle, thin nails, and to control ragged cuticle, you'll be pleased to know there are a few good preparations on the market designed especially to promote nail health.

Nail troubles seem to be on the upgrade. There's nothing more annoying than to have the fingernails you've pampered in an effort to get them to a respectable length, split and disintegrate for no apparent reason. Unless there is some organic cause, most of the common nail complaints can be corrected by oiling. One of the best conditioners we know is a rich, liquid cream that can be applied over nail polish.

It contains oils that do a good job of nourishing the nails at their source and helps them to grow strong and straight. It replaces the natural oils that are lost when the hands are immersed frequently in water. The oil does much to prevent the chipping and splitting that spoil the appearance of the nails. Of course, it won't do the job in a day, but used regularly, night after night, it will eventually work an almost unbelievable miracle of improvement.

It takes only a second to apply with the little brush, much like a polish brush, that is attached to the cap of the bottle. Spread a thin film of it over each finger tip and let the cream seep down around the bed of the nail and around the cuticle. Massage it in a little and any excess may be rubbed into the hands and fingers to do a nice job of lubricating them. Horny cuticle responds beautifully to the treatment and in no time at all ragged, sensitive edges will be replaced with a trim, neat line.

Here and There

The Shaw McCutcheons will have a new address this week, when they move in from Lake Forest to Chicago's south side, where Mr. McCutcheon will study at the University of Chicago. He and his bride have been living with her mother, Mrs. Ellsworth Faris, and Mr. Faris in Lake Forest since their marriage in June. Mr. McCutcheon just was discharged from the army air forces, in which he served as a captain.

Before Lt. Comdr. Clymer S. Bowen discards his navy uniform to return to a civilian status, he and Mrs. Bowen are enjoying his terminal leave with a three weeks' holiday in the east. The Bowens left Lake Forest Tuesday to drive to Pittsburgh, Pa. They also plan to stop in New York and Connecticut. He has been stationed at Great Lakes for two years.

At home in Winnetka with his parents, the Ernst C. von Ammons, is Lt. Comdr. Philip von Ammon, who is on a 30 day leave from the USS Essex, aircraft carrier in the Pacific. Comdr. von Ammon will go east for a visit with his brother, Lt. Carl von Ammon, before he reports back to his ship. The Carl von Ammons and their young daughter, Stephanie, are living in Falls Church, Va., while he is stationed with the navy department in Washington, D. C.

Engagement News

News of the engagement of Miss Ann Rockefeller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Rockefeller of New York, to Edward Scales Elliman of the navy, which was announced yesterday, is of particular interest here. Miss Rockefeller is the granddaughter of the late Clayton Mark of Lake Forest. Her mother is the former Anna Griffith Mark, who lived here before her marriage in 1923 to the grandnephew of the late John D. Rockefeller. Miss Rockefeller attended Sarah Lawrence college. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas L. Elliman of New York, studied at St. Paul's school before entering the navy.

Of interest to Chicagoans is the announcement which Dr. William Basil Thompson of Arlington, Va., is making of the engagement of his sister, Dr. Sue Hurst Thompson of New York, to Edward Henry Gould of Montreal, Quebec, and New York. Dr. Sue Thompson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thompson, lived in Chicago for a number of years. She was graduated from the University of Chicago and received degrees also from Rush Medical college and from the University of Michigan. She now serves as acting health commissioner of Columbia county in New York.

Mr. Gould, son of Mrs. A. Martin Gould of New York and of the late Mr. Gould of London, England, was graduated from Melbourne college in London. He is an executive of the British Air commission in New York and Washington. The wedding will take place in November in New York.

Today's Events

Two thousand WAVES and WACs stationed at Great Lakes and Fort Sheridan have been invited to an open house at 8 o'clock tonight in the Lake Forest U. S. O. for Women in Service, which opened its doors last Thursday. Mrs. Boyd Hill is chairman of the committee which planned the new organization. The building will be open week days from 2 p. m. to 10:30 p. m.; from noon until 10:30 p. m. on Saturdays, and from 10 a. m. until 10:30 p. m. on Sundays. Facilities are available for preparing meals and snacks.

The annual white elephant rummage sale of the junior auxiliary of the Evanston Infant Welfare society will be held today and tomorrow at 825 Church st., Evanston. Mrs. George Fry and Mrs. Robert Atkins II., are co-chairmen of the sale. A baby scale, some needlepoint, and books are included in the merchandise.

Lovable Doll

BY JEAN MACDONALD

The most individual doll in the world is one made for a special little girl. This mammy doll will appeal to many because it has a colorful outfit of bandana, dress, apron, and shoes. The pattern contains instructions for creating the body of the doll, all the clothes, and shoes. When completed the doll stands 18 inches high.

For instructions in making the doll and clothes, No. 883, send 15 CENTS in coin [wrap coin securely] to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth av., New York 1, N. Y.

Children's Benefit League Will Hold Tag Day Monday

More than 10,000 women volunteers, representing the 50 charities comprising the Chicago Children's Benefit league, will appear on the streets Monday from 6 a. m. until 4 p. m.—rain or shine—to receive donations for the league's traditional red, white, and blue star shaped tags. The tag day for children has been conducted annually since 1908, and each of the orphanages, homes, clinics, nurseries, settlement houses, and hospital wards which benefit from receipts is indorsed by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

With broken homes on the increase due to emotional tensions created by the war, there is a greater number of children dependent on the league this year than ever before, it is pointed out by Mrs. Henry W. Bernhardt, the league president. Monday's goal has been set at $100,000, an increase of $15,000 over last year's receipts.

Wives Will Hold Card Party in Officers' Club

Wives of army and navy officers will gather at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow in the newly opened Officers' club, 130 N. Wells st., for the opening card party in a weekly series. Hostesses are to be Mrs. Earl B. Nichols, wife of Col. Nichols now on overseas duty, and Mrs. Morton Cohn, whose husband is a navy chaplain at Pearl Harbor. The parties are open to all wives of commissioned officers, either active or honorably discharged.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 26—R. K. O. has outbid Warner Bros. for a story that would have been a natural for Humphrey Bogart, "Build My Gallows High." R. K. O. will probably star John Garfield in it. The yarn was written—praise be—by an ex-publicity man, Don Mannering. . . . Sol Lesser is hoping Lon McAllister will be out of the service within the year, because he already has signed Stephen Longstreet to adapt "Show Me a Land," which is all about the origination of the Kentucky Derby and how the tradition's been carried on thru the years. . . . Clifford Odets' on-again-off-again routine at R. K. O. is now off. I hear Metro has signed him on a long term contract as a writer and director. . . . It never could happen here. Arthur Rank, British film executive, wouldn't allow his own picture, "Blithe Spirit," to play in his chain of theaters. He didn't like the subject matter. . . . Lana Turner now admits the only man in her life is Turhan Bey.

Excitement in the Film Capital

There has been much excitement around town since the announcement that Frank Sinatra will sing "Old Man River" in the movie about Jerry Kern's life, "Till the Clouds Roll By." I have the greatest admiration for Frankie, and lots of respect for Metro's judgment. But if they do this, my respect for their good taste will lessen. "Old Man River" is a classic written about the Negro race. Is Metro thinking of having Frankie black-up to do it? Sure, he can sing it, but let's not take this wonderful song, sung so beautifully by the Negroes, away from them. Whatta you say, fellows? . . . I'm not surprised that the Al Hurd-Martha Vickers wedding was postponed. It seems Mr. Hurd forgot a little matter of divorce from his first wife. But he remembered in time, because he's in Las Vegas right now gettin' unhitched. . . . Gracie Fields celebrated her 48th birthday on Okinawa. That's a distinction accorded no other actress. . . . Judy Canova's husband, Sgt. Chet England, got home just in time for the "Hit the Hay" party being tossed for his wife Saturday by Ross Hunter.

News Notes About the Stars

Peggy Wood is driving around in a car with no license number but with the initials "PWW" [Peggy Wood Weaver]. Her friends ask if it means "Public Works Wagon." Peggy's son drove the car out from Connecticut, where they allow you to use your own initials instead of a number. . . . Virginia Zanuck saw Mrs. Cornel Wilde in a beauty shop and suggested she be tested at 20th Century. She was, and now Mrs. Wilde has a contract. . . . Leslie Fenton wanted "No Other Gods" for Fred MacMurray and Ann Dvorak, but Republic beat him to the bid. And they've got Dvorak, too. . . . Bob Montgomery is in production again. This time it's a new home. When Bob joined the navy he sold his Beverly Hills home to Franchot Tone. Tone decided to pull up stakes for New York City, and he sold the house. Now a nonprofessional lives there. . . . Joe Sistrom will go to International as a producer Oct. 1. They couldn't get workmen to clear away the rubble at that studio so they could build a set, and finally sent for a fireman, who burned it up. Now a New England village is going up on the spot. . . . Republic had trouble with Gene Autry and John Wayne. But the Wayne trouble is ironed out and John will star in and direct "That Man Malone."

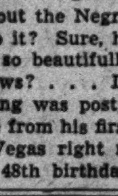
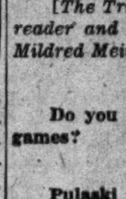
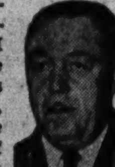
THE ANSWERS



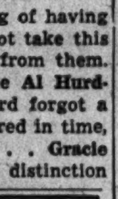
Dr. Peter H. Furno, physician, 4124 Madison st.—If the children don't use any weapons that could be injurious to them, I think war games are good exercise. It's just a game to them, and doesn't embrace any of the horrors of war. They learn sportsmanship and teamwork. It's a form of education that is valuable.



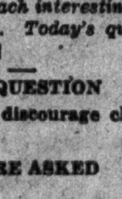
Peter McDermott, floor manager, 4213 Washington blvd.—I believe war games are dangerous. Children have such vivid imaginations, and sometimes they don't know where to draw the line. They may charge into one another with a sharp object, causing serious injury to a playmate.



Josephine Contrafatto, bookkeeper, 4131 Crystal st.—Fighting and shooting and making lots of noise is natural, especially in young boys. It's a game most of them play during a certain period in their life when other games are too complicated. Fresh air, running and yelling, plotting and planning, are good for them.



Robert Hirsch, tool engineer, 3848 Flournoy st.—I played war games when I was a kid, and it had no influence on my later life. I don't think you should stop children from playing games of this kind. They'll get over it in time. It's just a means of passing time for them and certainly nothing to be alarmed about.



Jim Lynam, 8, of 5100 Fulton st.—If children play too rough and hurt each other they shouldn't be allowed to play war games. But when we can't find anything else to do it's fun to play war games, cops and robbers, cowboy and Indian, etc. Most of the time we play baseball and football, but other games are fun, too.

CUBS PROTEST CARDINALS' 11 TO 6 VICTORY

ROBINSON WINS 12 ROUND VERDICT OVER LAMOTTA

SURVIVES FOE'S LATE RALLY FOR CLOSE VICTORY

14,755 See Battle in Comiskey Park

Fight Decisions

LAST NIGHT
At Comiskey Park—Ray Robinson beat Jack Lamotta [12]; Van McNutt beat Eddie Taylor [6]; Odell Reilly beat Lee Q. Murray [8]; Joe Lamotta stopped Martin Doyle [2]; Jack Pumphrey beat Leroy Thompson [4]; Peter Jackson knocked out Bill Moss [1].
At Washington, D. C.—Jimmy Bivins beat Yancey Henry [10].

BY WILFRID SMITH

[PICTURE ON PAGE 29]

A straight punch still is the shortest distance to the jaw. Ray Robinson, the uncrowned welterweight champion, proved it to the satisfaction of two of the three officials last night in Comiskey Park and was awarded a 12-round decision over his perennial opponent, Jack Lamotta. It was Robinson, the boxer, a jabbing, accurate counterpuncher who beat Lamotta by the narrowest of margins, a verdict which was disputed, however, by hundreds in the crowd of 14,755.

Lamotta was the aggressor almost without exception. He carried the battle to his taller opponent, fought thru Ray's flicking left, and landed scores of sturdy punches to the body. In the eighth and tenth rounds, when Robinson's retreat was so rapid it drew boos from the fans, Lamotta motioned derisively to his opponent to come in and fight.

In the final balloting Robinson's sharper blows gained the verdict, his 57th in 58 professional fights and his fourth in five with Lamotta.

Jack, in winning the second match in Detroit more than two years ago, became the only man ever to conquer the lithe New York Negro.

Referee John Behr and Judge Arthur Oberg, each of whom voted 61 to 59 for Robinson, cast the deciding votes. The other judge, Frank Clark, voted 63 to 57 for Lamotta.

One Point from a Draw

These figures accurately represent the nature of the battle. One point more for Lamotta by either Behr or Oberg would have produced a draw. The 12 rounds, however, could not be reduced to such mathematical simplicity. From the third round, when Robinson first clearly demonstrated superiority, to Lamotta's inspiring rally in the ninth, 10th, and 11th rounds, there was no second of relaxation for either fighter. Robinson's widest margin was in the sixth.

At the end of the 11th Robinson was visibly tired. But somewhere Ray found the stamina to weather Lamotta's final, furious attack and counter with a volley of lefts and rights which may have been the decisive factor in the decision.

Boxer Defeats a Puncher

Robinson, the boxer, defeated Lamotta, the puncher. While Ray himself has justly earned a reputation as a knocker-out, he seldom came to close quarters last night. No man ever has dropped Lamotta to the floor. Robinson, outweighed nine pounds, did not choose to trade blows.

Robinson punched straighter and more cleanly. He waited for Lamotta's leads. Ray also may have been concerned over the 12 round distance—all previous fights with Jack have been at 10 rounds. Certainly, his backward flight for three rounds before the concluding session created this impression. Robinson, however, did stand shoulder to shoulder when pressed, and in each instance it was Lamotta who backed away.

Lamotta's Brother Triumphs

Receipts last night, after deduction of federal and state taxes, were $74,434.01. Robinson, who had the privilege of 32½ per cent, will be paid his $25,000 guarantee. Lamotta will receive 27½ per cent. Promotional profit is estimated between $5,000 and $10,000.

Lamotta, who had contracted to scale 160 pounds or less, weighed in at 159. Robinson weighed 150 pounds.

Jack's brother, Joe Lamotta, stood out in the supporting card when he stopped Martin Doyle of Detroit in 1 minute 35 seconds of the second round of a scheduled six round bout.

Odell Riley, Detroit heavyweight, was awarded a surprise verdict over Lee Q. Murray of Norwalk, Conn., in an eight round semi-windup. Murray used his superior height and weight with effect most of the way and appeared to have a clear edge.

They Did It!

On the playing fields of Eton the other war was won,
Or so the British tell us. Well, if that is so this one
Was won on a Saturday afternoon on the diamond in the park,
Or upon a campus football field between the dusk and dark.

There American youth learned to play fair and not to hog the show,
And they learned how to coöperate and let the glory go,
And they practiced how to hit the line and pitch that final ball
That wins the game or ties the score but perhaps greatest of all—

They learned to do a bang-up job at everything they tried,
And to go ahead and make a work and to lick the other side,
And all these things they learned as kids and many, many more,
For they had the "moxie" that it takes to go out and win a war.

TIGERS CLINCH TIE; DIVIDE WITH INDIANS

Detroit Wins, 11-0, Then Loses, 3-2

BY IRVING VAUGHAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 26—The sorely pressed Tigers who for the last several weeks have been staggering toward the American league pennant got within sight of the promised land today but were repulsed when they reached for the decision to which, for them, the championship is attached.

The first placers assured themselves of at least a tie with the Senators when, behind their ace southpaw, Hal Newhouser, they produced enough power to crush Cleveland's Indians, 11 to 0, in the front half of a double header before 41,880 whose presence boosted the Briggs stadium mark for the season to a final 1,280,341.

But with the league title just around the corner the Tigers tossed off the second battle, 3 to 2, the meaning of this being that if they don't win one of their two season ending games in St. Louis this weekend they will have to play off a tie with the Senators here next Monday.

Thirteen Hits in First Game

Behind Newhouser, the one pitcher who seems able to stir them into batting action, the Tigers let go with a 13 hit attack. Allie Reynolds labored thru seven innings and Pete Center needed only one inning to learn that the going was tough. Reynolds was knocked into a daze with a five run first inning, three of them because Roy Cullenbine exploded a homer. Reynolds absorbed another jolt in the seventh, three runs of a batch of four being propelled into the seats by a shot from Hank Greenberg's bat. The two others runs were scored off Center.

The Newhouser southpawing that netted his 24th victory against nine defeats and also his eighth shutout, was marked by 10 strikeouts, seven hits and four passes.

Benton Falls for 12th Time

Some of the power that the Tigers wasted in the first battle could have been put to use by luckless Al Benton in the second game. For the 12th straight time he failed in a starting assignment. With a two run lead, Benton erred in a simple fielding play at first base in the sixth and by the time George Caster mopped up the Indians had accumulated all their runs. And thereafter the Tigers were pitiful before Steve Gromek, whose 19th victory should have been marred by only one run. The other was chalked against him by an error.

The first game hilarity began with Cramer singling after Reynolds had retired both Webb and Mayo in the opening inning. Reynolds dodged the Greenberg menace by walking him, completely overlooking the fact that ex-associate Cullenbine was equally dangerous! Cullenbine proved it when, after one ball and one strike, he rifled No. 18 into the right field second story. Then York walked and Outlaw singled and both counted when Richards doubled over the head of the none too agile Heath.

Greenberg Hits 12th Homer

The four run blast that finished Reynolds in the seventh was marked by Newhouser's second double which

THAT 7TH INNING ARGUMENT IN WRIGLEY FIELD

Umpires Pinelli, Dusty Boggess, Lee Ballanfant, and Butch Henline go into a huddle to reach a verdict after being assailed by both Cubs and Cardinals for the confusion that reigned in the turbulent seventh. Cubs Phil Cavarretta, Len Merullo, and Harry Lowrey keep a respectful distance while the baseball jury is in session. A few seconds later, when the verdict was announced, some 42,289 fans and the entire Cub bench roared their disapproval. The Cardinals won the game, 11 to 6, but Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs, has entered his official protest.

Grabiner Will Give Up Sox Job on Dec. 15

Harry Grabiner, vice president of the White Sox, yesterday confirmed his resignation because of ill health, to take effect Dec. 15. That Grabiner was soon to resign was printed exclusively in the In the Wake of the News column in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

Grabiner, for 41 years a White Sox employe, said he was sorry to have to leave the club, but that at some period health comes first and that he had been ordered by physicians to rest.

"I leave with only the best hopes for the White Sox in the future," he added.

The position Grabiner leaves is not open, he said yesterday. "Mrs. Grace Comiskey, owner of the club, will announce my successor later," Grabiner said.

IT'S A SELLOUT EVEN THO CUBS ARE NOT YET IN

Chicago's portion of the 1945 world series is a sellout even before the Cubs have clinched the National league championship.

On Monday afternoon the Cubs announced that reservations by mail for tickets to the fourth, fifth, and sixth games of the series would be accepted. These games are scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 8, and the two following days.

Early last night General Manager Jim Gallagher reported the sellout. A corps of 100 workers has started the process of returning thousands of unopened applications received after the limit had been reached.

ECHOES OF CUB PROTEST FILL CLUBHOUSE AIR

BY EDWARD PRELL

Officially the Cubs became defeated at 4:02 p. m. yesterday afternoon by the Cardinals. But the game continued on into the murky afternoon in the league leaders' clubhouse. There Manager Charley Grimm, in explaining his grounds for protesting the 11 to 6 defeat, strongly censured the seventh inning reversal decision by the umpires, which set off a five-run St. Louis rally.

The argument started when Ray Sanders drove the ball off Lon Warneke into the right field corner after Whitey Kurowski had opened the seventh inning with a single. Nicholson got his gloved hand on the ball, which popped out near the bleacher exit gate. Then he retrieved the ball on the fly. Umpire Butch Henline, stationed at second base, ruled the ball had been fairly caught.

Kurowski Back-Pedals

During the confusion, Kurowski, who had reached second, back-pedaled toward first base as Sanders dashed past him. Len Merullo had taken Nicholson's throw-in. Seeing Kurowski make his reverse move, Phil Cavarretta called to Merullo for the ball. The Cub captain caught it before Kurowski reached the base and Umpire Lee Ballanfant called him out for an apparent double play.

"I am basing my protest not on whether Nicholson caught the ball," declared Grimm, "but on the fact that one of these base runners must be called out for passing one another. Some one has to be out."

Henline, according to Grimm and Roy Johnson, Chicago coach, never did change his original decision that Nicholson had fairly caught the ball. The reversal came after the Cardinals, led by Manager Billy Southworth and Coach Mike Gonzalez, had charged on the field in a walking panorama of gestures toward the four umpires.

None of the umpires asked Nicholson whether he caught the ball and Big Bill did not make the trip in from right field during the wrangle to clear it up.

The Traffic Bothers Grimm

"Henline was in a better position to make the decision than any of the other umpires," said Grimm. Nicholson, a fast dresser, had left the clubhouse when reporters arrived.

It was said that Lynn [Dusty] Boggess, plate umpire, and as such in command of the arbiters, ruled that Nicholson had retrieved the ball after it had bounced against the gate.

This was the signal for Grimm and the Cubs to storm onto the field. All the while the 42,289 fans thought the manager was storming over the fly ball decision.

"This was not the case," he kept repeating. "I was calling attention to Sanders passing Kurowski on the base line. When I asked Umpire Babe Pinelli if he had seen this he said he had not. That is when I announced the game would be continued under protest."

Kurowski Retraces Steps

Grimm's protest is based on section 16, rule 49, on when a base runner is out. It reads: "If he pass

Lead Cut to 1½; Face Reds Today

Awaits Report

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 [AP]—Ford Frick, president of the National Baseball league, said tonight he had not yet received a formal protest from the Chicago Cubs regarding today's game with the St. Louis Cardinals in Chicago. "I probably will receive the official reports tomorrow," Frick explained. "Our decision will be announced as soon as it is made."

BY EDWARD BURNS

The last National league game of the season in Wrigley field yesterday, in addition to being an 11 to 6 victory for the St. Louis Cardinals, was one of the most zany travesties ever perpetrated on Mr. Wrigley's beautiful premises.

The hysterical doings reduced the Cubs' lead to 1½ games—but they are thru with the Cards, who beat them 16 times in 22 tries, the exact ratio with which they plastered our fourth place, sub-500 boys of last season.

This afternoon the Cubs will play a double header with the Cincinnati Reds, whom they have beaten 19 times in 20 tries. Tonight the Cards will play off a twice postponed, once tied game with the Pirates, in Pittsburgh.

Meet Pirates on Saturday

Saturday the Cubs will play a double header with the Pirates, followed by a single game Sunday. The Cards will play a single game with the Reds Saturday and a double header Sunday.

Yesterday's game, witnessed by 42,289 astounded, amused, or chagrined fans, may be divided into two phases—the sane and the insane.

The sane phase saw Claude Passeau seeking his 18th victory, his second over the Cards, pitted against Charley [Red] Barrett, who was in quest of his 24th victory, his fifth over the Cubs. Both were knocked out, Barrett in the course of a fourth inning rally in which the Cubs took a 3 to 2 lead, and Passeau after he had squandered that lead by pitching a double to Johnny Hopp and singles to Buster Adams and Whitey Kurowski. They were the first three batsmen to face Claude after the Cubs had grabbed the lead in the fourth.

Cubs Play Under Protest

From Passeau's departure the game became screwy, and from the seventh was played under protest by Manager Grimm. The protest was based on a mixup in the seventh that hinged on whether or not Bill Nicholson had caught a fly from Ray Sanders' bat or on a carom off a door in the right field wall. It took the umpires quite a while to get together on the play, while base runners passed each other on the line trying to figure out what to do as the umpires hollered their individual and conflicting rules. Grimm's protest was based, he said, on the fact that Sanders passed Kurowski.

But things had gone daffy long before the protest play. Madness started when Hy Vandenberg, third Cub pitcher, a guy who loves to wag his jaw, chatted with Umpire Lee Ballanfant with his back to the plate, while Red Schoendienst ran home with the sixth St. Louis run.

$709 DOUBLE AT HAWTHORNE; 69 FANS COLLECT

Return Sets High Mark for Meeting

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN

Threatening weather again prevailed at Hawthorne yesterday, but it was a bright afternoon for 69 racing enthusiasts in the crowd of 8,500 when a pair of long shots won the first two races and provided a $709.40 daily double refund, largest of the meeting.

Sixty-eight of the lucky ones held $2 tickets and one invested $10 on the combination of Frank Munns in the first race and Pomp's Gal in the second. Frank Munns, a 2 year old maiden owned by Angelo Cilio and ridden by Rafael Sanabria of Havana, Cuba, was a 51 to 1 choice and returned $104, $26.40, and $16 across the board. Pomp's Gal, owned by Ben Fogelson and piloted by Billy Nichols, paid $15.60, $6.20, and $4.20.

Another Cuban Wins

Long shot players came up with another in the third when C. U. Yaeger's Valdina Perion scored at 10 to 1, paying $22.60 after a good ride by another Cuban, Juan Posada. Predominance of the outsiders was broken in the fourth race when W. H. Bishop's Final Glory, second choice, scored easily over Shady Brook's Merrymarch and Dixiana's Chapel Bells, the 2 to 1 favorite. The winner, ridden by J. W. Martin, paid $8.60.

Steve Brooks booted in the first favorite, the Shady Brook farm's Duquesne, in the fifth race. The 3 year old son of Flint Shot closed at 2½ to 1 and beat Mrs. A. M. Creech's Tawny Lady by six lengths in a six furlong dash. Duquesne paid $7.

Sirius Takes Feature

The featured sixth race, the $3,500 Long Meadow handicap, was won by the favorite, Mrs. V. E. Smith's Sirius, and again Brooks was the jockey. Sirius won by a neck from Leon Tikulski's Bolus, which finished two lengths in front of the Silver Star Stock farm's Chipamink in a field of seven. The winner paid $6.40.

The mutuel handle for the day was $1,024,384.

Champ Heads 40 Rider Field in Bike Race

Ted Smith of Buffalo, N. Y., national amateur bicycle champion, will head a field of 40 riders Sunday afternoon in the 65 mile Elgin to Chicago handicap race sponsored by the George F. Barrett athletic club.

Smith is one of the nation's best long distance riders. During the last two weeks he won the Milwaukee and Buffalo races from large fields.

Arthur Lauf, Maryland champion and winner last year of the national trophy for scoring points in road races, is ahead of Smith in points for the season and should give the champion a tough fight for the time prize. Nine riders, including the state champions of Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois, have been placed on scratch by the handicap committee of the Amateur Bicycle league of America, and will leave Elgin 22 minutes after the limit riders.

The race will start at 1 p. m. from Elgin and the riders will pass thru the following towns: Dundee, Carpentersville, Algonquin, Mount Prospect, Elk Grove, Bensenville, Maywood, Forest Park, Berwyn, and Cicero, with the finish line at 21st pl. and Damen av.

Packers Trade Pair to Rams for Spadaccini

Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 26 [Special]—Coach Curly Lambeau of the Green Bay Packers announced today that he had traded a pair of guards to the Cleveland Rams for rights to Vic Spadaccini, former Minnesota quarter back now in the service. Those traded were Bob Cope, a rookie from Arkansas, and Ray Monaco, who played with Washington in 1944.

The Packer coach, busy priming the team for the league opener here next Sunday against the Chicago Bears, also announced sale of Sid Tinsley, rookie half back, to the Pittsburgh Steelers. The Packers have asked waivers on Ends Paul Rabalis of St. Mary's Texas, and Lamar Dingler of Arkansas, both newcomers.

Max Morris Named Leader of Wildcats

Max Morris, veteran end from West Frankfort, Ill., was elected captain of the Northwestern university football team yesterday and will lead the Wildcats against Indiana in Dyche stadium Saturday. Morris served as game captain in last week's opener with Iowa State.

The Wildcat ranks were bolstered yesterday by the addition of three discharged service men, one of whom, Ollie Durham, played end on the 1941 Northwestern eleven. He reported 20 pounds heavier than when he left school to join the navy and will be tried at tackle. The other additions were Ray Smith, a guard from Waukegan and Heeno Sykuta, tackle from Lorraine, O. Both served in the army air forces.

Jim Farrar, first string quarter back, who missed the Iowa State game because of a knee injury, took part in the practice and is certain to see action Saturday altho Don Lasser, also a freshman, probably will start the game.

HOOSIERS GET KICKER

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 26 [Special]—Indiana had an expert placekicker again today when Charles Armstrong, army air force veteran, returned to the Hoosier squad to resume his tackle and kicking roles. Armstrong left the team two weeks ago to accept an air lines job, but said he had decided to return to school.

Coach Bo McMillin started searching for a punter today, but didn't relax his efforts to find a center replacement. George Taliaferro and Ted Kluszewski worked at punting. McMillin said he still had faith in Taliaferro's punting ability, despite the latter's two bad kicks against Michigan Saturday. Kluszewski, however, may share kicking chores.

Don Jones, promising left half back, returned to the squad today after nursing an injured arm as the Hoosiers held their last hard workout of the week against Northwestern plays and defenses.

IOWA TAKES SHAPE

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 26 [Special]—Lineup changes made earlier in the week by Coach Clem Crowe seem likely to hold up for Saturday's opener with Bergstrom AAF. Crowe said today that Ira Lund is developing at center and that the switch of Jack Hammond to right tackle also is working out.

Iowa's back field appeared set with Jerry Niles at quarter; Jack Kelse, who has recovered from a charley horse, left half; Nelson Smith, right half, and Arthur Johnson, full back.

The line now has Ralph Woodard and Bob Gustafson, ends, Bill Kay and Jack Hammond, tackles, Louis Ginsberg and Paul Fagerlind, guards, and Ira Lund, center.

Badgers Close Hard Drill for Hilltoppers

Madison, Wis., Sept. 26 [Special]—The Wisconsin football squad today had its last hard work of the week in preparation for the Marquette game here on Saturday as Coach Harry Stuhldreher sent the squad thru a snappy offensive scrimmage, and followed with a much longer drill on defense against the type of attack the Hilltoppers will present Saturday.

Stuhldreher kept Charles Lehman at right half back and it appears likely that he will get the call over Buck Chaney in the starting lineup. Ray Mals is back at right end while Harold Haberman still has the call over Jack Mead at right end.

RUDAN TO LEAD MARQUETTE

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 26 [Special]—Marquette's football team today began to taper preparations for Saturday's game with Wisconsin at Madison. Coach Tom Stidham stressed defense, particularly against forward passes. John Rudan, veteran left half back, will be Marquette's game captain.

Purdue Loses 2 Half Backs Thru Injuries

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 26 [Special]—Coach Cecil Isbell's worries concerning the revision of the Purdue back field for the Great Lakes game Saturday were considerably increased today when Norbert Adams, freshman left half back, who provided relief for Bill Canfield in the Marquette opener, turned up with ligament injury that necessitated placing his knee in a cast. Adams is not expected to be able to resume action for one week to 10 days.

The injury to Adams, Hammond star, coupled with the loss of Dave Shaw, No. 1 right half back, left Isbell in somewhat of a quandary as to both starting back field and replacements. Jack Fredericks, freshman from Rockford, Ill., appeared to be the likeliest candidate to provide support for Canfield at left half back, altho Alan Dale, last year's reserve, may be shifted from right half back.

LEITH NEW SECRETARY

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 26 [AP]—Dugald MacCullum of Boston, president of the American Lawn Bowling association, has appointed Robert Leith of New Brunswick, N. J., as new secretary-treasurer.

ILLINI TAPER OFF FOR GAME WITH IRISH SATURDAY

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 26 [Special]—Coach Ray Eliot today lightened the work of the University of Illinois football team, preparing for its game at Notre Dame Saturday. After two days work on blocking, he said no more contact drills will be held before the game.

Eliot pointed out to the squad mistakes in last week's Pittsburgh game, as shown by motion pictures. The high spot of that contest was Eddie Bray's 39 yard run for the third touchdown. Study of the pictures in slow motion showed eight Pittsburgh men got a hand on Bray during the run but he sidestepped and drove so hard that no one got a square shot at him except the last man, whom Bray carried over the goal line on his back.

Gene Kwasniewski of Evanston, a discharged army bombardier, joined the squad today. He was on the Illinois freshman squad in 1942 as a half back.

IRISH POLISH AERIAL GAME

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 26 [Special]—Notre Dame devoted its afternoon workout today to an offensive drill as the Irish coaches attempted to polish up the attack for the season opener against Illinois in the Notre Dame stadium Saturday.

Coach Hugh Devore stressed forward passing, calling Frank Dancewicz, George Ratterman, and Joe Gasparella, passers, the chief Irish hopes to take this game. Fred Rovai, right guard, who suffered a side injury in yesterday's workout, took things easy, but Devore said he will be ready to start on Saturday.

SPARTANS SHIFT LINE

East Lansing, Mich., Sept. 26 [Special]—Michigan State will conclude practice tomorrow for the opening game of the season with Michigan Saturday. Not satisfied with the work of the guards, Coach Charles Bachman has moved Don Black, 190 pound freshman from Toledo, O., into the starting spot that had been occupied by Bob Godfrey, veteran of last year.

MICHIGAN WORKS ON DEFENSE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 26 [Special] — Defensive tactics occupied Michigan football players this afternoon as they welcomed the first good weather of the week.

Michigan stock arose today when Art Renner, who started every game last year, reported for practice. He has just received his discharge from the marines.

DODGERS DEFEAT GIANTS; CLINCH TIE FOR 3D SPOT

Pirates Have Only Slim Hopes Left

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Brooklyn assured itself of at least a tie for third place in the National league today by smothering New York, 8 to 1, in their final meeting of the season series in which the Dodgers gained a 15 to 7 edge. Ralph Branca yielded only four hits in earning his fifth decision at the expense of Jack Brewer, who was knocked out in the third inning and charged with his sixth defeat.

The paid attendance of 7,657 boosted the Polo Grounds total for the year to 1,038,195, a new record for the ball park. Score:

PIRATES, REDS SPLIT

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 26 (AP)—Pittsburgh's Pirates, with an eye on a third place tie with Brooklyn, split a double header with Cincinnati today, winning the second game, 2 to 1, after Freshman Johnny Hetki hurled four hit ball to give the Reds a 4 to 2 decision in the opener. Only 715 customers saw the teams' last meeting of the year. The second game found Nick Strincevich beating Earl Harrist.

Cubs Replay Zany Game in Clubhouse

a preceding base runner before such runner has been legally put out he shall be declared out immediately."

Sanders assuredly did pass Kurowski, even tho Whitey was going the other way. And Kurowski certainly was not out at the time—in fact, he was rapidly retracing his steps to avoid being doubled at first.

When the debate finally wore itself out, Sanders was on first and Kurowski on second. Then came a storm of Cardinal base hits off Warneke, the Cubs' world series hero against the Tigers a decade ago, and Ed Hanyzewski, the Cubs' invalid right hander, who hadn't pitched in National league competition since April 22.

Umpire Henline who had dashed out into short right to watch the course of Sanders' towering drive, told Grimm after his decision had been reversed, that he hadn't changed it.

Grimm's mood quickly changed once he had patiently explained the basis of his protest over and over as additional reporters came into the dressing room.

"They Can't Catch Us"

"They can't catch us anyway," he boomed. We've got our pitchers in good shape—even after that parade the folks saw out there today."

The Cubs, who left in relays for Cincinnati and today's double header with their cousins, the Reds, will play behind Hank Wyse in the first game and Paul Derringer in the second one. Derringer, who reported a sore arm during the last two series against the Cards, told Grimm yesterday he had experienced a miraculous recovery. The big ace has failed in five of his last six starts. Ed Heusser and Vern Kennedy will start for the Reds, who have lost 19 out of 20 with the Cubs this year.

Grimm thought that Hank Borowy would pitch one of the two games against the Pirates Saturday in Pittsburgh. If Ray [Lefty] Prim returns from Philadelphia in time after funeral services for his mother-in-law, he may face the Pirates in the second game. Or it could be Claude Passeau, with Wyse coming back in the final Sunday. Wyse will be after his 22d victory today.

LAMOTTA PENETRATES ROBINSON'S DEFENSE

stuff, too. After Vandenberg had orated the Cards to their sixth run, Marion dropped a pop fly with the bases loaded. Two runners got home; one was thrown out at the plate. The score then was St. Louis, 6; Chicago, 5.

Warneke Takes Over

This brought things up to the seventh. Lon Warneke, who has made one start this season and few brief relief appearances, went in at the start of the seventh. Lon loaded the bases, with none out—after the umpires decided they had ungummed their rulings on Sanders' smash.

And then what happened, neighbors? Manager Grimm sent in Eddie Hanzewski to pitch after Warneke had loaded the bases in the seventh. Hanyzewski knocked down Marion's sizzler and recovered in time to force Kurowski at the plate. Instead, he threw to the screen, Kurowski and Sanders scoring and Emil Verban reaching third. Then Eddie balked, Verban scoring. Before Ray Starr went in to get the side out the Cards had scored five runs to effect their final total of 11 runs. The Cubs rounded out the total of six runs in the eighth on a double by Nicholson and a pinch single by Johnny Moore.

The Cards scored two unearned runs in the third; unearned, but there was considerable socking involved.

Barrett, first up in the third, was safe on Hughes' fumble. Schoendienst flied to Nicholson and Hopp forced Barrett. Adams singled to right, Hopp stopping at second, whence he scored on Kurowski's single to left. Sanders singled to right, scoring Adams and putting Kurowski on third. Verban struck out.

In the fourth inning the Cards again were halted after getting a runner as far as second. So the score was: Cardinals, 2; Cubs, 0, going into the Cubs' productive fourth inning.

Pafko's Hit Scores Lowrey

Barrett made a nice play on the damp turf to throw out Johnson at the start of the Cubs' fourth, but Lowrey lined a single to center and went to third on Cavarretta's single to right. Pafko also singled to right, his second hit, scoring Lowrey and putting Cavarretta on third. Nicholson made it four hits in a row off Barrett when he singled over first, scoring Cavarretta with the tying run and putting Pafko on third. Gillespie walked, loading the bases. This was all for Barrett.

Burkhardt went in to pitch for the Cardinals and Heinz Becker batted for Hughes. He sent a long fly to Adams, scoring Pafko to put the Cubs ahead, 3 to 2. Passeau then sent Schoendienst to the left field vines to pull down his fly.

It's a Painfully Short Lead

The Cubs' said 3 to 2 lead was of painfully brief duration. Hopp opened the fifth with a double which dropped several feet inside the left foul line. Adams singled to center, scoring Hopp with the tying run. Kurowski singled, putting Adams on third. Prim replaced Passeau and his first cast was a wild pitch on which Adams scored to put the Cards ahead, 4 to 3. Sanders struck out. Verban then doubled to left, scoring Kurowski. Vandenberg went in and there was no suspicion that he was in a daze when he made Marion roll to Johnson and gave an intentional pass to Rice. The inning ended along with baseball sanity when Verban was sunk between third and home on an attempted double steal.

The madhouse phase of the game set in in earnest in the Card sixth, when Vandenberg's jaw ran away with his baseball savvy. With one down Schoendienst doubled to center. Hopp sent a grounder to Cavarretta, who tossed to Vandenberg. Altho Hopp was called out, Vandenberg, with his back to the field, started an argument with Umpire Ballanfant over something or other without calling time out. While Hy was engaging in his favorite pastime — talking — Schoendienst ran home. Vandenberg was charged with an error for his mental lapse.

In the sixth the Vandenberg drowse briefly seemed grievous, for the Cubs scored two runs and were stopped at the plate with the run that would have tied the score except for Vandenberg's boner.

The Cubs' 1,000,000th paying customer of the season walked thru the gates around the noon hour yesterday and when the full count of 42,289 had been posted for the afternoon it raised the Wrigley field totals to 1,037,026. This figure is for fully paid box seats, grandstand and bleacher admissions, and does not include ladies' day, military service, and tax ticket guests. The Cubs, who finished their home season yesterday, played 76 games in their park.

Bob Muhlke of Skokie, Frank Burany of Milwaukee, and Teddy Duncan of Chicago followed Bettenhausen across the finish line in that order.

opened the inning but the next two men were retired, whereupon the heavy firing was resumed. Cramer walked and Greenberg followed with his No. 12 which arched into the second floor in left. Cullenbine got in on this blast, too, with a single to left after which he galloped home on York's two bagger to the wall in left center.

In the eighth Newhouser singled off Center, Webb also singled, and after being advanced on Mayo's infield out they rode home on a single by Cramer.

The Tigers' initial run in the second game began with Swift doubling to center in the third inning and being driven in by Webb's triple to right.

Harsh Words Exchanged

The big chance bloomed for the Tigers in the fifth but they didn't seem to be prepared. Outlaw led off with a single and reached second when Weingartner dropped Hayes' throw on an attempted steal. After getting to third on Swift's infield out, Outlaw scored on Benton's squeeze bunt, the play at the plate causing a flurry of ruffled feelings. Hayes, while protesting to Umpire Passarella, apparently forgot that he was sitting on Outlaw who finally gave the bulky backstop a very discourteous shove, whereupon there were harsh words. As usual, nothing happened.

The fadeout of Benton in the sixth started with a single by Rocco. Heath tapped to York and Benton, who covered the bag, dropped the throw, Rocco sprinting to third on the error. Fleming doubled to register the two runs needed for a tie and Benton was requested to resign in favor of Caster. Ross was thrown out by Mayo, but Seerey dispatched a single into center and Fleming scored what proved the deciding run.

OPA 'OUTLAWS' STANDARD COST BASIS OF PRICES

Capital Goods Rule Held Illogical

BY THOMAS FURLONG

Standard pricing practices under which manufacturers have operated for years have been outlawed by the arbitrary regulations of the office of price administration, industry sources asserted yesterday.

Manufacturers of special equipment vital to speedy reconversion are effectively blocked by the OPA policies, it was charged. They cannot base their selling prices on cost, the only sound basis for pricing, and are either refusing orders or holding them in abeyance hoping for a revision of the regulations.

A manufacturer of printing presses said he cannot afford to accept orders altho pre-war customers are anxious to buy and willing to pay reasonable prices based on cost plus a fair profit.

"OPA Makes No Distinction"

"The OPA makes no distinction between an electric iron or a piece of beef that goes into immediate consumption and a capital goods item like a printing press," said the manufacturer. "Even if it is assumed that price controls must be retained temporarily on consumer goods it does not follow that manufacturers of capital goods should be prevented from resumption of operations because they cannot set prices to cover costs."

A printing press that cost $10,000 in 1941 could be sold today by the manufacturer for $12,000 to cover increased cost of materials and labor without contributing to higher consumer prices, said the manufacturer. Spread over a depreciation period of 20 years, the increase in price would amount to only $100 a year. Divided among 365 days of the year and several thousands of printed items turned out daily, the increase becomes a minute cost factor and is unlikely to affect the price paid by the ultimate consumer in any way.

Standard Practice Barred

Some capital goods items like printing presses are standard products on which the manufacturer has fixed prices. In certain cases, however, the capital goods producer builds machinery to specification on a cost-plus basis, the buyer agreeing to pay the cost plus an agreed percentage markup considered by both parties to allow a fair profit. This is a standard business practice used also by government procurement agencies during the war.

Such an arrangement now is barred by the OPA. The result is that manufacturers of consumer goods whose producing equipment needs replacement or additions cannot take the first step essential to full production of consumer goods. The price regulations of OPA thus stop reconversion in its primary stage, said industry spokesmen.

There are numerous types of specialized manufacturing, the products of which are essential to other manufacturers whose operations are virtually frozen by the existing price regulations, it was stated.

Stock Upturn Halted; Prices Turn Uneven

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—Stock prices turned irregularly lower today, halting the recent climb to new eight year peaks. Declines of fractions to about 3 points outnumbered gains by a 4 to 3 margin. Principal losers were among steels, retail stores, air lines and oils. Rails, which led yesterday's rally, were off as much as a point.

The utility average, however, edged up to its highest level since March, 1937. Low priced power issues were active.

News that an estimated 250,000 oil workers were authorized to go on strike increased the nation's labor troubles and accounted for part of the selling.

CHICAGO HAS DECLINE

Prices declined on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday on reduced volume of 39,000 shares. More active issues included Asbestos Manufacturing, unchanged; Chicago corporation, down ⅛; Advance Aluminum, up ¾, and Domestic Industries, down ¼. Among six issues at new peaks were Borg-Warner and Horders, each up 1, and Consumers company preferred, up 2.

The exchange will operate from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days and from 10 a. m. to noon on Saturdays beginning next week. The later hours are to conform with New York markets which will return to standard time. Chicago is expected to remain on daylight savings time until Oct. 28.

BOND LIST IRREGULAR

New York, Sept. 26 (AP) — Bond market prices were irregular today as offerings increased in some rails and bids for favorites in other groups were withdrawn or lowered. Various loans of the Missouri Pacific gave ground easily in the final hour with losses averaging a point or more.

REFRIGERATORS IN VOLUME NOT EXPECTED SOON

Refrigerator production this fall will be sufficient to stock dealers' display rooms, but will not be large enough to provide for volume home delivery by Christmas, Floyd M. Slasor, refrigeration sales manager of Edison General Electric Appliance company, said yesterday.

Slasor would not predict when refrigerators would become plentiful, but said Edison production would exceed pre-war levels by the middle of next year.

The company yesterday produced its first electric refrigerator since April, 1942.

People and Events

A two day conference of directors, department heads, and district managers of Walgreen company, at which all phases of the corporation's operations were under study, was concluded yesterday. A Walgreen spokesman said that post-war plans were completed and should be put into operation shortly.

J. S. Richardson, vice president at the San Francisco office of Standard Accident Insurance company, has been transferred to Chicago as resident vice president. Maurice Scheemeacker, who is in charge of bonding activities at the Chicago branch, was named a resident vice president. D. W. Clapp, who has been assistant manager of the office, became manager.

Comptometer company announced the appointment of Clifford J. Ellis of Chicago as manager of the Detroit agency, effective Oct. 15. Ellis has been associated with the company for 34 years.

Ray W. Sweeney, Minneapolis district sales manager of the Rubberoid company, has been appointed sales manager of the company's western division. He will have headquarters in Chicago.

William C. Phelps has been appointed vice president of the Hafner Manufacturing company, maker of mechanical trains and general stampings, John C. Hafner, president, said.

The Chicago Federated Advertising club will open its season today at a luncheon in the Continental hotel.

AIKEN, ELLENDER CLASH IN WAGE BILL TESTIMONY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—Sen. Aiken [R., Vt.] contended today that continually increasing output per worker means "we are going to have to have an increase in the base rate of pay." He testified at a senate labor subcommittee hearing on an administration bill to increase the minimum wage from 40 to 65 cents an hour.

Aiken and Sen. Tunnell [D., Del.] tangled often with Sen. Ellender [D., La.], who believes lower prices, rather than higher wages are needed especially to compete in world trade. Ellender said the minimum wage law already had caused some plants in his state to shut down.

"Undoubtedly, some low wage plants—some people would say they were exploiting labor—did have to shut down," commented Aiken.

Begin Making Helicopters for Civilians

Helicopters are being manufactured for sale to private owners, a manufacturer's spokesman disclosed in Chicago yesterday, but the "average citizen" isn't likely to be a customer.

Price is the main reason. Models in production are expected to cost $50,000 to $60,000. Deliveries will be made after the turn of the year.

Sikorsky division of United Aircraft corporation and its licensee, Nash-Kelvinator corporation, Detroit, turned out 371 helicopters of several types during the war and delivered them to the material command of the army air forces, Wright field, Dayton, O., which served as purchasing agent. More than half were divided among the army, navy, and coast guard, the remainder going to the British navy and the royal air force thru lend-lease.

Four Seater Output Begins

Sikorsky turned out 130 units of a two place R-4 model at its plant in Bridgeport, Conn., meanwhile pushing experiment on new models. Nash-Kelvinator completed 219 units of model R-6, also seating one passenger beside the pilot, before its contract was canceled last month.

The war's end found Sikorsky ready to produce model R-5, a four seater capable of 100 miles an hour top speed. It cruises at 80 miles an hour, climbs 1,200 feet a minute, carries 1,200 pounds of pay load, has a 14,000 foot ceiling, and is powered by a single 450 horsepower engine.

Production will be confined to this model at present. First deliveries probably will go to companies with trained pilots in their employ.

Makes Rescues Possible

Altho many manufacturers have been experimenting with helicopters, Sikorsky designed ships were the only production models delivered to the army during the war. They flew more than 30,000 hours and performed about 50 otherwise impossible rescues from stations at Saipan, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, Leyte, Pearl Harbor, and Burma.

"We aren't making any big peace time claims for the helicopter, and we don't intend to oversell it," the Sikorsky representative said. "We are going to find out first what uses it might have."

The army has not announced its policy on the disposal of surplus helicopters.

PRICE CUTS OWN IDEA, TESTIFIES A. & P. EMPLOYE

Danville, Ill., Sept. 26 (AP)—A representative of the New York Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company who previously admitted on the witness stand that he set prices to injure competition today testified he did so without approval of the food chain's divisional or national headquarters.

C. H. Fleischer, formerly in the Pittsburgh, Pa., sales department, said in the A. & P. anti-trust trial Tuesday that he once set prices in Pittsburgh to injure competition. On cross-examination today, he said on only one occasion in 1939 did he set prices for such a purpose.

He testified that R. R. King, unit head at Pittsburgh, approved his action after he told King he "could not meet the continued below cost selling of a competitor," but the lower prices were ordered halted immediately by John Hartford, A. & P. president.

VAST SURPLUS OF AUTO PARTS GOES ON SALE

Dealers May Order at Fixed Prices

Hundreds of millions of dollars worth of standard automotive parts are available for civilian purchase thru its office of surplus commodities, the department of commerce announced yesterday.

Purchases will be at a fixed price and the minimum order that can be accepted is $500 net, said W. B. Rayburn, chief of the Chicago regional office. The inspection and bid method of sale, used in the past, has been scrapped because of the necessity of speedier movement of merchandise located thruout the country.

Must Submit Qualifications

The buyer now may purchase as he does from his usual source of supply except that he first must establish himself with the office of surplus property by submitting to the regional office his qualifications as a distributor, wholesaler, dealer, service garage, or fleet operator. He must disclose his license number, type of business, and other information specified for inclusion on a qualification blank to be obtained from a regional surplus property office.

The buyer also must submit evidence of financial stability, thru which he may obtain authorization for 30 day credit. All prices are quoted F. O. B. destination, and merchandise will be shipped on a government bill of lading.

Don't Try to Buy ONE Part

If you merely wish to buy a second hand carburetor, Rayburn pleads that you do not come to his office with the $3.25 asked for the item. He emphasized the $500 minimum and other prerequisites and seemed a little disturbed by the way surplus property sales regulations are misinterpreted, even on publication.

There is no listing of all parts on hand thruout the country, Rayburn commented, because it probably would take 50 to 75 years to put together samples of all the goods for sale. If persons order correctly, however, all orders can be filled for nearly every kind of automobile parts, he said.

Another thing that concerns Rayburn is why inquiries often are sent to his office about veterans priorities when they should go to the Smaller War Plants corporation office at 226 W. Jackson blvd.

$400,000 Building to Fill Block on Fairbanks Ct.

Plans are being drawn for a $400,000 two story building soon to occupy the east side of Fairbanks ct. between Ohio and Ontario sts., Arthur Rubloff & Co., broker for the buyer of the property, announced yesterday. The land fronting 218 feet on Fairbanks and 133 feet on Ohio and Ontario was sold by the Dixon family trust for $105,000. Title was taken by Lillian B. Fink, nominee for the undisclosed buyer. Alschuler & Friedman is designing the building.

Radar Train Communication Started by Rock Island Lines

Radar equipment is being installed on the Rock Island railroad system in the first step of a multi-million dollar communication system that will remove the blind spots of railroading, the line announced yesterday.

In the program under way, the equipment—which includes the hitherto "top secret" radar Klystron tube—will be used as an ultra high frequency, two way radio system. It will enable conductors to talk to engineers while in transit and trains can maintain constant communications with other trains and dispatchers.

Permits Direction of Wave

The Klystron tube, developed by Sperry Gyroscope company for the navy, is the basis of most radar development. It makes possible the use of a wave band 20,000 times as wide as the home broadcast band at a frequency of 2,660 megacycles. The high frequency, which takes it out of range of static, and a new antenna developed by Sperry permit any degree of directional control. The waves are restricted to the immediate vicinity of railroad tracks and follow curves thru gorges or tunnels, it was said.

Radio engineers of the railroad and the Sperry company are working out details of a program that will completely radarize the trains, said J. D. Farrington, chief executive of the Rock Island. He said the equipment will first be installed on the 160 miles of double track between Rock Island and Chicago. Tests over the last year and a half proved the system practical.

Most Valuable on Long Frates

"We have found the system is most effective on long frate trains," Farrington said. "On an average it saves 3½ hours on the 353 mile run between Rock Island and Kansas City."

E. A. Dahl, electronic engineer for the railroad, and Dr. H. H. Willis, vice president of Sperry, said the new system makes possible for the first time "constant, clear and audible signals thru tunnels and deep gorges."

PREDICTS EARLY END OF PRICE RULE OVER STEEL SPECIALTIES

New York, Sept. 26 (AP)—All alloy steel products, stainless steel products, fine wire, pressure tubing, wire rope, and tool steel are expected to be released from OPA controls within a week or so, the magazine Iron Age, said today. Supply in most cases "satisfies the demand," it said.

"Most of these items also carry prices higher than ordinary steels and for that reason do not present a price control problem," Iron Age commented. "Even tho producers can, when restrictions are eliminated advance the prices, such action is held most unlikely in steel circles."

Present and probable labor difficulties have not been reflected in cancellation of steel orders or setting back of delivery dates, Iron Age said. Automotive buyers continued to plead for early delivery and steel received probably would be stored if labor difficulties developed.

WOODALL VOTES STOCK DIVIDEND OF 331-3 PER CENT

Directors of Woodall Industries yesterday declared a dividend of 33⅓ per cent payable in stock. This increased the outstanding capital stock from 300,000 shares to 400,000.

McCall corporation raised its quarterly dividend from 40 cents to 50 cents a share and voted an extra disbursement of 15 cents. An extra of 25 cents was paid last November.

Kalamazoo Stove and Furnace company and Air Reduction company authorized extra dividends of 20 cents a share, with their quarterly disbursements of the same amounts. Extras of these amounts were paid by Kalamazoo last December and by Air Reduction in the preceding quarter.

General Mills voted a dividend of 37½ cents a share, first payment since the stock was split three-for-one Aug. 21, compared with $1 quarterly before the split.

MERGER OF TWO COMPANIES WITH DETROLA VOTED

A proposed merger of Utah Radio Products company, Chicago, and Universal Cooler corporation, Marion, O., into International Detrola corporation, Detroit, was approved yesterday at stockholders' meetings of the three companies. The merger is expected to become effective Oct. 31.

C. Russell Feldmann, president and chairman of Detrola, will head the merged companies. Remy L. Hudson will become vice president and general manager, and W. Austin Ellmore, vice president in charge of sales and engineering of Utah Radio Products division.

Uniting companies with nine manufacturing plants in the United States and two in Canada, the merger provides for the exchange of one Utah share for six-tenths of a share of Detrola; one share of Universal Cooler class A no par stock for one of Detrola, and one share of Cooler class B for one-fourth share of Detrola.

NEW FINANCING OF 100 MILLION PUT ON MARKET

Kaiser, Un. Pacific Issues Top List

Cleveland and Chicago securities firms head banking groups underwriting more than 110 million dollars of new corporate and municipal financing.

Otis & Co., Cleveland, and associated underwriters today will offer formally 1,700,000 shares of common stock of the newly organized Kaiser-Frazer corporation at $10 a share. They predicted the issue would be "five times oversubscribed." Cyrus Eaton, president of Otis, said offices of the underwriters and dealers have been flooded with subscriptions since Kaiser-Frazer filed its prospectus Sept. 21. The company will manufacture a new low priced automobile in the Willow Run, Mich., plant where the Ford Motor company turned out bombers during the war.

81 Million U. P. Loan Sold

Halsey, Stuart & Co., Chicago bond house, and associated dealers yesterday handled more than 93 million dollars of new financing.

An issue of $81,602,000 of Union Pacific railroad 3 per cent bonds due in 1990 was awarded to and sold by the Chicago underwriting group. The issue was won on a bid of 103.3599 and oversubscribed at 104. The only other bid, 103.209, was submitted by Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

The group also submitted the only bid on $3,810,000 on Seaboard Air Line Railway equipment trust certificates. Bearing a 2 per cent coupon, the certificates were reoffered at prices to yield 0.90 to 2.40 per cent, subject to award by the company and approval of the interstate commerce commission. The city of San Diego, Cal., awarded the syndicate 8 million dollars of water system and recreation development bonds.

Dresser Files Senior Issue

Dresser Industries, manufacturer of industrial equipment, registered with the securities and exchange commission 60,000 shares of $100 par preferred stock. The dividend rate will be filed by amendment. Pro-

OPA REGULATION 'OUTLAWS' COST BASIS OF PRICING

Rule Over Capital Goods Termed Illogical

foundries are only one example of this type of manufacture. The castings are needed by other manufacturers to get started on a wide variety of civilian products. The OPA, however, has resisted the foundrymen's efforts to obtain a price schedule that will permit them to turn out the castings required for initial reconversion operations.

The effect is felt all along the line. Manufacturing of other types is retarded, consumer goods are not manufactured in the volume which otherwise would be possible, and the upward pressure on consumer prices increases, defeating the OPA's purpose, industry spokesmen explained.

Among the manufacturers of special equipment whose operations were reported affected by the price regulations are Goss Printing Press company and the Miehle Printing Press and Manufacturing company.

WOULD ALLAY CRITICISM

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26 (AP)—The OPA today sought to allay criticism that its pricing machinery is slowing reconversion. In a report he said OPA owed the public, Price Administrator Bowles asserted that despite 3½ months of effort by the agency, a number of industries have not submitted cost information for price ceilings on peace time products.

Bowles said this is the case with respect to about half of the companies making radios, refrigerators, electric ranges, small electrical appliances, vacuum cleaners, and inner spring mattresses.

In reply to some industry criticism that OPA is taking too long to fix ceilings for goods returning to the market, he said: "Until manufacturers send us the information we have requested, we can't do a fair and thoro job of pricing."

GRAIN FUTURES LOWER AS EARLY GAINS ARE LOST

Grain markets closed mostly lower yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade after an early upturn carried all deliveries of wheat and December and May rye to new seasonal peaks. Wheat reacted ⅞ cent a bushel from the top and closed ⅝ to ⅝ lower. Rye was off ⅜ to 1, corn unchanged to ⅛ lower, and oats lost ⅛ to ¼. Barley rose ¼ to ⅝ on scattered buying.

Selling of wheat futures attributed to professional traders more than offset buying by mills and commission houses, altho support by the latter was aggressive late in the session. Hedging sales were small because of small receipts from farmers.

No weakness appeared in the cash wheat markets, prices holding near the seasonal peak.

NEW FINANCING OF 100 MILLIONS PUT ON MARKET

ceeds will be used to retire bank loans and provide for plant expansion and improvement.

The Murray Corporation of America, manufacturer of steel stampings for automobiles and home appliances, will offer today to common stockholders 104,500 shares of 4 per cent $50 par cumulative preferred stock at $50 a share on the basis of 11 new shares for each 100 common held. Proceeds will be used for an expansion program costing about 7 millions.

Also offered today are 10 millions of Pennsylvania-Central Airlines 3½ per cent 15-year convertible income debentures. They will be priced at 100 per cent. Proceeds will be used to finance an expansion program, including additional aircraft.

Sylvania Registers Preferred

Sylvania Electric Products company registered 100,000 shares of $3.75 cumulative preferred stock without par or stated value. Part of the proceeds will be applied to the redemption of sinking fund debentures due June 1, 1957.

Stockholders of Domestic Industries, Inc., Chicago, will hold a special meeting Oct. 23 to consider increasing the number of class A common $1 par shares from 700,000 to 1,800,000 and making changes in the provisions governing the preferred stock. The company's principal business is small loans.

REDUCES WORK HOURS, RETAINS WAR PAY LEVEL

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, president and general manager of Eastern Air Lines, yesterday announced a 40 hour work week without reduction in take home pay for all ground personnel thruout its system. The traditional 48 hour week has been in effect in the transportation industry for many years.

The end of the war and the return of service men to industry make the work hour reduction possible, Rickenbacker said. It was accepted by the International Committee of Eastern Air Lines Mechanics, subject to concurrence by the employes it represents.

This step in the company's policy of peace time operations follows the purchase of nearly 25 million dollars' worth of new 37 passenger Curtiss Commandos, 50 and 62 passenger Lockheed Constellations and attendant ground equipment, reduction in passenger fares, reopening of many of Eastern's routes not served during the war, and the announcement of Eastern's new Detroit-Cleveland-Miami service on or about Nov. 15, he said.

LAMBS, CATTLE HIGHER DESPITE BIGGER SUPPLY

Strong demand for meat animals yesterday lifted lamb prices in the Chicago stock yards and widened the quality range of cattle selling at price ceilings. Despite an increase in supplies, competition for good to choice cattle sent 50 carloads of steers over the scales at the $18 a hundred pounds ceiling.

Buyers paid an average of $16.85 for the steer supply, equal both to the highest average since 1919 and the highest average for a September session on market records.

Best grades of lambs sold at $14.40, highest since Aug. 20. Prices were steady to 15 cents higher.

BORG-WARNER

Please inform me in what proportion Borg-Warner corporation's divisions contribute to total sales. What is the earnings trend?—A. V.

In 1941, the last year before the company shifted its operations chiefly to war production, about 51 per cent of sales consisted of its diversified automotive parts, including transmissions, overdrives, clutches, radiators, timing chains, universal joints, and carburetors. The Norge household appliances division supplied 23 per cent of sales; farm implements, special steel products, and miscellaneous items, 14 per cent, and aircraft equipment, 11 per cent.

Last year's production, of which about 85 per cent was for war purposes, was 2.4 times the 1941 volume, and aircraft parts constituted nearly 25 per cent. Possibly aircraft parts will bulk larger in the future than before the war. New products are being added to the household appliance line.

Increased use of fluid drives and automatic transmissions for cars, the management believes, will mean more business for Borg-Warner, partly because these more complicated mechanisms require more expensive parts. The company makes fluid drive flywheels.

Earnings since 1941 have ranged from $3.09 a share on the 2,336,735 shares in 1942 to $3.42 in 1944. In the first half of 1945 the share profit was $1.51. Earlier the yearly profits were: 1941, $3.20; 1940, $2.88; 1939, $2.43; 1938, none; 1937, $3.63. From 1941 on earnings were reported after substantial reserves for contingencies. The dividend rate is $1.60 a year.

Net working capital increased from $23,844,000 in 1939 to $42,577,000 at the close of last year, with no funded debt.
